Sunny Side Parlor Cook.
TO obtain a PARLOR OVEN STOVE, that would combine the two qualities of a truly good and ornamental Stove, and at the same time could be relied upon to bake and boil when required,—from the demand for and the convenience of such a desideratum,—has been the cause of much and continued effort among manufacturers. With these facts in view, the proprietor of this patent has, this season, perfected and brought into the market, a Stove that proves to be the Parlor Cook wanted. The demand for this Stove exceeds the supply, and all who desire the handsomest and best Stove in the market, are invited to examine the "Sunny Side" of the picture here so imperfectly portrayed.

Morning Chronicle.

THE WEIGHT OF COAL.—A correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger signing himself "Anthracite," states that coal dealers will sell their coals at 2000 lbs. for a ton, in spite of Judge Grier's decision that a ton constituted 2240 lbs. He says coal dealers will avoid the terms of the law by selling their coal by 1000 lbs. and 2000 lbs. not using the terms ton and half ton. He also states, that the coal dealers sell the lesser weight for less, and there is no difference in price between the old and new rule, to the consumer. This is no doubt true. We go for a universal law of 2000 lbs. for a ton; but we object to selling 2000 lbs. for a ton, when it is nearly an eighth less. Let there be a complete understanding of the matter, so that the buyers will know the weight they are receiving for their money. Coal at $5 50 per ton of 2000 lbs., is dearer than coal at $6 per standard ton.

POISONED ICE CREAM.—Dr. A. A. Hayes, the celebrated chemist, reports a case to the Boston Society for Medical Improvement, in which ice cream, flavored with butyric acid ether, caused excessive sickness in several persons. Chemical examination detected the above ether as the flavoring material, and the taste and odor of pineapple was thereby communicated to the cream. Dr. Hayes states that a number of flavoring extracts, equally objectionable, are largely consumed by confectioners as substitutes for the volatile oils, and cases of severe sickness are the consequence thereof. The artificial extracts were first prominently brought foward at the London Exhibition, and were reported on favorably by the chemists on the jury, as entirely safe substitutes for the volatile oils prepared from plants.

EX-PRESIDENT FILLMORE.—Reports from Vienna state that Mr. Fillmore had visited that city, and had been treated with the most marked attentions. The illness of a member of his family prevented his stay beyond three or four days in the capital of the Kaisir. It was regretted in high quarters that the Emperor himself was not in Vienna to mark, by his personal attention, the satisfaction he felt at the visit of one who, though he had been President of twenty-four millions of republicans, had yet, during the eventful years of 1848, '49, '50, and '51, carefully eschewed all foreign intervention, and in every way avoided complicating the troubled affairs of continental Europe.

WORLDLY PROSPERITY.—No better instance of the effect of prosperity upon the feelings of a man can be found than in the case of our neighbor, the "Four cent Man."—Nassau street has long been vocal with his eloquence on the subject of "envelopes" and "sheets of writing paper." It is said he has made a handsome living at the business, and accumulated some capital. Does he still blow at the same bellows? No! Worldly prosperity is making him prouder. He has cut envelopes and thrown away his paper. He sells blank books for a shilling apiece. He is eight hundred per cent. a prouder man.—N. Y. Sunday Times.

SCENE IN A N. Y. COURT.—Mr. Van Buren stated that his mouth felt at that time a very considerable affinity for tobacco.
Mr. Willard—I submit that it is a contempt to chew in court.
Mr. Van Buren—Not if the court choose.—Tribune.

In the trial of Judge Stuart, for receiving a bribe, which commenced in New York yesterday, a great deal of time was consumed in challenging jurors. From the opening of the Court in the morning until one o'clock, but three were empanelled.

The person who jumped out of the window of the West Springfield bridge on Thursday last, after committing an assault, and who was drowned, was Patrick Sweeny. He was in a fit of delirium tremens at the time.

RAILROAD FACILITIES IN MAINE.—The Portland State of Maine says an arrangement has been made by the railways between Montreal and Bangor, by which flour is taken from Montreal to the latter place for 60 cents per barrel. This will place flour into Bangor as cheaply as into New York. The Grand Trunk Line is to be opened as fas as Brockville on the 15th inst. Brockville is above the Long Sault Rapids, and will give one month later navigation than through the Erie Canal. It also says that Canadian flour has already become a favorite in that market. The railway is now in a condition to bring ten thousand barrels per week.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1855.

NEST BROKEN UP.

The Portland Argus of the 15th, contains the whole of Rev. Dr. Carruthers' letter to the British Banner,—but there is no more dissuion in it than there is in the Ten Commandments.

The Union made one very important omission in quoting from the Doctor, viz.: where he says "power and pelf will too certainly predominate with many, over every consideration of patriotism and humanity"—the Union leaves out the words with many, which changes the sense considerably.

The Doctor makes, in the letter, several mistakes about our courts and laws—but no case of dissuion can be hammered out of it by any process.

He writes a humorous letter to the Argus, which is rather too good to be lost. We copy the most of it. Alluding to the articles of the Argus and Union, the Doctor says:

Both articles resolve themselves into an indictment, containing three counts—to which the defendant maketh answer, in the manner following:

1st. "He is a Scotchman by birth." Guilty—but, in extenuation of this grave offence, and in mitigation, at least, of impending punishment, I plead my absolute ignorance, at the time, of such a fact. It was never with me a matter of choice where I should be born, although, if it had, I might not have been able to choose a better birth-place than that of Dr. Witherspoon and other illustrious framers and signers of the Declaration of Independence. I have been accustomed, in my simplicity, to think that this matter of foreign birth gave me some advantage, inasmuch as it enables me to say as I now do, Mr. Editor, with profound respect—I am an American by choice, not probably by the necessity of the case. There may be some virtue in volition—there can be none in accident.

2d. "He has never renounced his allegiance to the British Government." Not guilty.—Some years ago, I forget how many, I appeared before the Clerk of the District Court, and solemnly abjured all fealty to Victoria, claiming, at the same time, the rights and privileges of an American citizen. My papers of naturalization are not yet forthcoming, and so little anxious have I been to have or to use the prerogative of a voter that I have not even inquired whether I am yet legally entitled to them. If not, I am in a strange predicament, and quite as innocently as in the matter of my Scottish birth. I am inclined to think, however, that at any time, during these years of legal probation, Capt. Ingraham of the U. S. N. would, under certain circumstances, have claimed me as a fellow-citizen.

3d. "He invokes the Bible to encourage the work of the dissolution of the American Union!!" (One of these notes of exclamation is the Washington editor's, the other is my own.) Not guilty. The Bible says nothing, so far as I know, about the American Union, and my quotation from the Sacred Volume is certainly silent as to dissolution: "The Lord God omnipotent reigneth." Is it treason to the Union to say this? What said George Washington, on resigning his commission, after gloriously achieving the freedom of his country? Let all, and sundry, the proprietors and patrons of the public press, "read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest" these weighty words of the hero-saint. He knew and extolled in the reign of the Omnipotent:

"I consider it an indispensable duty to close this last act of my official life by commending the interests of our dearest country to the protection of Almighty God, and those who have the superintendence of them, to His holy keeping."

My parishoners, Mr. Editor, are the best judges as to the manner in which I practically regard the proper functions of the pulpit, and a pastorate of nearly ten years has probably qualified them to determine the justness or otherwise of the euphonious epithets which the tasteful editor of the "Union" has associated with my name—nem. con.

I am, sir, very respectfully yours,

J. J. Carruthers.

We can answer the Doctor that it is deemed treason in many high places, for any man, especially a minister, to suggest that there is any higher power than our constitution, or any higher law than a miserable form of a statute, scared or bribed out of dough-faced legislators.

Important to Seamen.—U. S. Commissioner Loring has decided that whipping a seaman with a rope's end is not flogging, within the meaning of the statute. Flogging is a technical naval act, performed by the proper officers, according to certain formalities, and inflicted with an instrument known as a "cat." —Boston Transcript.

If some stout seaman or boatswain, should apply a rope's end smartly to the back of the learned Commissioner, he would probably consider himself to be flogged within the meaning of some act or other, whether the usual formalities were attended to, or not.

We think the Commissioner is hypercritical, and has explained away the spirit of the statute.

☞ We are under continued obligations to friends in California, for files of papers forwarded by every steamer. Among others, Mr. C. E. Rand has sent us copies of the "Daily Town Talk," a spicy little paper, about half as large as the Daily Chronicle—which is printed in San Francisco, "at twelve and a half cents per week." It is devoted almost exclusively to local matters: and its columns don't present a very flattering picture of the state of society in California.

POLITICAL REMINISCENCE.

The Missouri compromise in 1820.

The following article appeared not long ago in the Boston Journal, dated "Cheshire County, N. H., Sept 18." It was evidently written by the Hon. John Prentiss, of Keene. It shows that two of the then leading democrats* of New Hampshire, (the late Judge Wilcox, of Orford, and the late Dr. Whipple, of Wentworth,) were the movers of a resolution in the legislature which asserted almost identically the same principles in relation to slavery as is now held in this State by the opponents of the administration, and that those resolutions passed both branches of the Legislature without a dissenting vote.—Manchester American.

To the Editor of the Boston Journal:

You, some weeks ago, referred to certain resolutions of the Legislature of New Hampshire, by a committe to whom was referred in June, 1820, resolutions of the State of Virginia, on the Missouri question, denying the Constitutional power of Congress to prohibit Slavery as a condition of admitting new States into the Union. By referring to the proceedings of that session, I find that on the 9th of June, the message communication was referred, in the House, to Messrs. Mason, Pitman, Whittemore, Wilcox and Whipple. Mr Mason, the Chairman, afterwards a Senator of the United States, was the late Hon. Jeremiah M.,—that year a member from Portsmouth.—He afterwards removed to Boston. He drew up an elaborate report, which was presented, as the records say, by the unanimous concurrence of the committee, on the 15th. Mr Whipple with Mr Bartlett and Mr Healy, also members, were elected to the next Congress.

The writer of this was also a member, and not only has distinct recollections, but, as there was no reporter in "those days," he sketched for himself the leading arguments in Mr Mason's speech in support of the resolution. These were published at the time.

Three resolutions were appended to the report. The first affirms the constitutional right of Congress "to prohibition of slavery as one of the conditions on which such State shall be admitted." The second, "that in the case of Missouri, that right remained in full force unimpaired," either by the Louisiana treaty, "under which that Territory was acquired, or any subsequent act of General Government." The third speaks of "existence of slavery in the United States, as a great moral and political evil, the toleration of which can be justified by necessity alone, and that the further extension of it ought to be prevented by the power vested in the General Government.

After the reading of the report and resolutions by the clerk, the Hon. Mr Mason rose, and in a speech of one hour and ten minutes commented on the tendency and object of this attempt to deprive Congress of the power to prevent the extension of the evil of slavery, which were so conclusive that every member felt prepared to act. The question was taken by yeas and nays, as follows: yeas 196, nays none. In the Senate, the next day, the vote stood yeas 11, nays none.

Mr Mason spoke of the then thirty-three years acquiescence of Virginia in the ordinance of 1787, as evidence conclusive of the right of Congress, "if," he says, "slavery cannot exist by right, no government, resting its principles on such a basis, can ever establish it. Slavery is a gross infraction of the Divine law. We are bound to prevent the extension of the evil. We have a character to sustain. We are the reproach of foreigners." Mr Mason paid a little compliment to the bravery and patriotism of the South, but contended that where slavery was tolerated, there was comparatively but little ability to oppose an enemy.—"New Hampshire at one time during the Revolutionary War had more men in the field than all the slaveholding States. The object was power—no sordid or mercenary views; but it was necessary the doctrine asserted should be put down." "No present danger," Mr Mason said, "was apprehended, but in the process of time power will be acquired, and Virginia may dictate at some future period. If the doctrine is acquiesced in, a majority will shortly be secured in the Senate, from States having a deep interest in the extension of this evil."

J. P.

*They were commonly called Republicans then.—The term Democrat had come into use somewhat, but was not generally used.—Chronicle.

Georgia Election.—The Federal Union publishes in detail the official vote of the election held in Georgia last month. The vote for Governor foots up as follows:

Johnson, dem.	53,478
Andrews, k. n.	43,422
Overby, temperance,	6,284
	49,506
Johnson's majority,	3,972

Sudden Death.—The Manchester Mirror reports that Rev D. D. Pratt, a Baptist Minister in Nashua, who was generally known in this State, and a man of marked ability, died suddenly on Tuesday morning of paralysis of the brain. He was about 65 years old.

Great Destruction of Property.—The new grain elevator of Charlotte, mouth of the Genesee, near Rochester, N. Y., fell down on the morning of the 11th, destroying a large amount of property, but happily, involving no loss of life. The cause of this calamity was doubtless a defect in the method of construction, and the great weight of grain stored in the building. There was about 62,347 bushels of wheat in the bins, a greater amount than had been there before at one time, although its capacity was 100,000 bushels.—Vessels had been discharging freely during the week past, and the cars had taken it away but slowly. The south-east corner towards the river gave out first, after which the whole building fell a mass of ruins, a portion of which went into the river. The wheat ran out in all directions, and, probably 10,000 bushels fell into the water, where it still lies.

The elevator was built by a stock company, mainly millers of the city, and completed in September last. It cost about $18,000, and, together with the lot, valued at $19,000. The engine and boiler are all of the elevator property left which will prove of any value.

LOCAL.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

Thursday, Nov. 15.

No. 29. Stephen Scammon vs. John Scammon, Benj. H. Jewett, Daniel Wiggin, is now on trial. This is an action of trespass, brought by Plf. to recover damages of Dfts., Selectmen of Stratham in the year 1849, for the alleged illegal acts of the tax collector of said town for that year.

Hatch and Webster for Plf.; Bell and Marston for Dfts.

☞ At the meeting of New Hampshire Lodge, No. 17, I. O. of O. F., on Wednesday evening, it was voted to present $30 from the funds of the Lodge, to the sufferers from the fever, at Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va.

☞ Ship Samuel Badger, from Trapani, with 1100 tons salt, foundered on the 8th ult. The S. B. left Trapani, Sept. 7, and passed Straits of Gibraltar 21st. On the 8th Oct. in lat. 35 1-3, lon, 31 1-2, during a south-east gale she sprung a leak. On first sounding the pumps two feet of water was found, and the leak continued to gain. Next day the Danish brig Dorothea came alongside, and the ship then having seven feet of water in her hold, Capt Salter and crew abandoned her, going on board the D. which landed them at Fayal, Oct. 15. The first and second officers arrived at Boston, on Wednesday, as before stated, in the ship James Guthrie. Capt Salter and his seamen were waiting the arrival of the bark Azor from Boston, in which vessel they would take passage home.

☞ The funeral of John McClintock, Esq. will be attended this afternoon. The services will commence punctually at 3 o'clock, in the Stone Church. There will be a procession of gentlemen on foot if the weather is favorable, to accompany the remains to their resting place.

☞ The New Hampshire State Teachers' Association will hold their Annual Meeting at Great Falls, on Monday and Tuesday preceding the annual Thanksgiving—Nov. 26th and 27th.

Bangor, Nov. 14.—At a meeting of the City Council held this evening it was unanimously resolved that the city marshal be removed from all offices he may have held under the corporation. It was reported by the investigating committee that he had previously left the city.

Most inglorious end of the celebrated Marshal Weaver!

Obituary.—Died, in Newburyport, on the 12th inst, at the residence of Mr Littlefield, Rev Henry Cushman, of Phillips, Me., aged 74 years. The deceased was one of the family of Cushman, who held a family gathering in Plymouth, on the 15th of August last. He sustained the relation of local preacher for more than forty years, in the Methodist connection. Nothwithstanding the infirmities of age, he attended that gathering; and being the oldest clergyman present, was called upon to perform the devotional services of the occasion. On his return to his family, having called at his daughter's in Newburyport, ill health compelled him to remain; and the disease with which he was attacked, brought him down to death—which he met with great composure, and with the joyful prospect of a glorious immortality; relying wholly, as he oft expressed it, on the merits of a crucified Savior. The deceased, besides laboring in the gospel ministry during forty years, has been for thirty-seven years, more or less engaged in the instruction of youth.

Died, in Alexander, Me, 31st ult, Mr Paul Morss, aged 70 years, formerly of Newburyport. He removed from Newbury to Calais, Me, nearly half a century ago; and was subsequently the first settler in the town of Alexander, and when it became incorporated, he was, by the courtesy of the citizens, allowed to name the town.

Lost—On Thursday morning, between the Rockingham House and the Universalist church, a Lady's Embroidered Pocket Handkerchief. Any person finding the same will be liberally rewarded on leaving it at the Rockingham House. n16

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from suffering and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprisingly efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

Prince & Co.'s Improved Patent Melodeons.

The subscribers have received the Agency for the sale of these valuable Instruments, and take pleasure in inviting the public to call and examine this beautiful invention. The Cases are made of Rosewood, and are as handsomely finished as any Piano Forte. The Key Board is precisely the same as the Piano or Organ, and the tone (which is very beautiful) closely resembles that of the Flute Stop of the Organ. Hundreds have examined them, and the best evidence of their merit is their rapid sale. We would call the attention of all lovers of Music to it, believing there are many who would lose n time in securing one were they aware of the existence of such an instrument at so low a price. SEVEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE

ARRIVAL OF THE PACIFIC.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The Collins steamship Pacific, Capt. Nye, from Liverpool 3d instant, arrived this morning. She brings London and Liverpool markets to Nov. 3.

The Pacific made the outward passage in ten days and three hours.

Cotton livelier, at a partial advance of 1-4d Sales 65,000 bales. Wheat a trifle lower.—Flour unchanged. Corn a trifle dearer. Consols 88 1-2. Money unchanged. Freights dull. Sugar advanced 5 a 6s.

An extraordinary panic in England was occasioned by rumors of a war with the United States, and that Mr. Buchanan had demanded his passports. Mr. Buchanan was obliged publicly to contradict the rumor.

There was no news of importance from the Crimea. Both armies were going into winter quarters.

The Panic in England.—The London Times in a series of skilfully malicious editorials, started the subject, which, exaggerated by the Provincial press, speedily attained such dimensions that extras were issued, announcing that the American Minister had demanded his passports. General astonishment and regret was elicited by this announcement, and energetic protests were heard against Government forcing the nation into so dangerous a war.

Our Liverpool agent telegraphed to his excellency the American Minister, who promptly and courteously sent him the following explicit contradiction of the rumor:

London, night of 2d.—It is not true that the American Minister has demanded his passports from the British Government. There is no foundation for such a report.

Notwithstanding this, an uneasy feeling remains in the public mind.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A returned Californian was robbed last evening at the Irving House of $4000. The thief having entered his room by means of a false key.

A gentleman's pocket was picked of $2400 near Washington market.

Several increments of this city were arrested to-day charged with having conspired to defraud several wholesale dealers of large quantities of goods. They were held to bail in the sum of $3000 each to answer the charge.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—In the Missouri Legislature on the 12th inst., a motion to go into an election for U S Senator was defeated.—Two democratic caucuses had been held, and the Benton democrats passed strong anti-know-nothing resolutions. The prospect of any election of an U S Senator is still doubtful.

LOUISIANA ELECTION.—New Orleans, Nov. 13.—The latest election returns indicate that the democratic majority on the State ticket will be about 2000, and that the same party has carried both branches of the Legislature.

FROM TEXAS.—We are in receipt of later dates from Texas. Gov Pease had sent in his message to the Legislature, and in it he justifies the proceedings of Capt Callahan, but regrets the necessity of burning Piedras Negras, and opposes further unauthorized expeditions into Mexico for the purpose of chastising the Indians.

LAND SALE SCENES IN THE WEST.—At a land sale held at Winona, in Minnesota, October 31, a speculator attempted to overbid a settler. The crowd undertook to drown him in the river, when he drew a revolver, and shot three men. It is feared that other wounds will prove fatal.

At Davenport, Iowa, recently, when some lots of ground were to be sold at auction for non-payment of taxes, the sale, by direction of the authorities, was opened with prayer.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—OR—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, AND STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels: Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—It needs no other recommendation. He is really well who feels well after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness!—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

Patents.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.

Agency for Inventors under the U.S Patent Office, Washington,

76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and prosecuted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 30 per cent less than others in the profession,) but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, he visits Washington twice a year, has an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agency on the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S

Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me., has well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh was one of eminently worthy and the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skilful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and it embodies, in the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of persons in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "a scientific combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor are imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs attained. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.

To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S COUGH MEDICINE, SMART & CLARK, Hingham, Mass., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of sun enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

Sunny Side Parlor Cook.

TO obtain a PARLOR OVEN STOVE, that would combine the two qualities of a truly good and ornamental Stove, and at the same time could be relied upon to bake and boil when required,—from the demand for and the convenience of such a desideratum,—has been the cause of much and continued effort among manufacturers. With these facts in view, the proprietor of this patent has, this season, perfected and brought into the market, a Stove that proves to be THE Parlor Cook wanted. The demand for this Stove exceeds the supply, and all who desire the handsomest and best Stove in the market, are invited to examine the "Sunny Side" of the picture here so imperfectly portrayed.

PURCHASE OF MOUNT VERNON BY THE LADIES.—Mr. Editor:—In your last Eagle I noticed a communication concerning the purchase of Mount Vernon by the ladies, in in which occurred the following lines:

"Is there a man in whose veins courses one drop of the blood of those who fought under the immortal Washington, for the liberties which we enjoy, who is so far lost to an appreciation of those blood-bought privileges, as to trust so important an object to the puny arm of woman, and thus doom the scheme to almost certain failure? And were it to prove successful, what lady wishes to receive the honor which every husband, father and brother in the Union should be zealous of possessing."

Who is the patriotic (?) gentleman who would not have the ladies join in such a scheme as this—and for fear of failure!! It is over half a century since Washington's remains were consigned to the dust, and not one of the many efforts made by the gentlemen for the future preservation of the Patriot's home and grave has succeeded. Now the women have taken the matter in hand, and lo! $12,000 in one State, and $70,000 in another shows that if their arms are puny, their hearts are firm and true.

Who, let me ask, paid for the Bunker Hill Monument? The gentleman started the project, but were obliged to call the assistance of the "weaker sex," ere they could complete it. Ladies' fairs all over the United States poured money into their hands, nor did the women then labor solely for the pleasure of "transferring their laurels to the brow of their lords"—no it was considered a cause in which all might join, and claim the reward of patriotism.

For shame's sake, (if you have any, gentlemen,) don't attempt to take this matter from the hands of the women when they have almost completed their arrangements—collected over half the required sum. If you really wish to share in such a noble object, and raise funds from your own sex, to beautify and improve Mt. Vernon, after its purchase by the ladies, let no petty jealousy arouse you to supposition to prevent any but your own sex from joining in an enterprise which shall be an honor to its originators as long as the name of Washington is revered.—Claremont Eagle.

HOW MARSHAL BARNES DISCOVERED THE CAPTAIN.—A pretty good story is told of how Col. Barnes (while U S Marshal) managed to arrest Capt Bunker, the master of a New Bedford whaleship, against whom a warrant had been issued, charging him with assaulting a man at the wheel. It seems that the captain got an inkling of what had transpired in court, and resolved to keep out of the way until his vessel was ready for sea again. The marshal, after failing in various attempts to capture the captain, heard that he had a "gal" at Nantucket. Thither the marshal posted in person, and upon reaching the young lady's house, told her his business, and then sat down, saying very coolly, "I'll wait for him." The fair lover, half charmed by the marshal's manner, was as civil as possible. At dusk the unsuspecting captain came forth as usual, to enjoy the sweet converse of his darling—just as any one who knows anything about human nature, might know he would; but this time he fell into the arms of the marshal, who addressed him, "You thought you could get away from me, did you?"—Bos. Cou.

SINGULAR REASON FOR A VETO.—Mayor English of Sacramento, has vetoed the bill providing for the establishment of a free common school for colored children in that city. The reason assigned is because he believes that a majority of the citizens of Sacramento are from the Southern States, and the establishment of such a school would be particularly obnoxious to them! That objection may exist with Southern people at Sacramento, but would find little favor here.—San Francisco Town Talk.

A HUSBAND THIRTY YEARS ABSENT.—The Cincinnati Enquirer relates some facts which anew illustrate the old adage "truth is stranger than fiction." About six years since Mrs Martha Wood, accompanied by her son, his wife and a couple of children, arrived in that city from New Bedford, Mass. She stated that she was a widow of twenty-four years' standing, her husband having been a mate of a whaler, which had been lost at sea. A few days since, a gray-headed and toil-worn man called at the residence of Mrs Wood, and inquiring for the widow, announced himself to her as the long lost husband. The ship in which he had made his last voyage from New Bedford was cast away on the South Sea Islands, and he was one of the few who escaped a watery grave. After enduring almost unheard of privations, he succeeded in reaching his native city, and thence proceeded to Cincinnati, where, after thirty years' absence, he was re-united to the partner of his early joys.

HENRY WARD BEECHER ON A LOCOMOTIVE.—By the favor of influential friends I was allowed the privileges of the road when I took the cars for Lawrenceburg and Cincinnati. I therefore determined to go upon the locomotive, the better to see the ground over which, or rather through which, in earlier years I have waded wearily on horseback. No man knows anything of mud until he has lived in the West. Three days to Cincinnati, in my day, was good travelling. Now about four hours is required.

Mounted on the engine, I rode in triumph over the swamps, across the corduroy roads, along the black, deep river bottoms that used to have such terrors. I gloried over them.—I could not help fancying that there was a subdued look to the roads and rails, as if they felt that they were conquered and humbled.—Letter in New York Independent.

NOTES OF A PLEASURE TRIP.—No. 9.

PLYMOUTH, MASS.,—AND HOME.

We now propose to refer to a few others, of the many objects of interest at the old Pilgrim town—to us better repaying a visit than any other spot we ever roamed over from curiosity—and to get home, in this letter, if practicable.

Clark's Island, in Plymouth harbor, about three miles from the town, presents a beautiful feature in the scenery; and is interesting as having sheltered from destruction a boat-load of the Pilgrims, Dec. 8, 1620. Being overtaken by a storm in the night, while on a voyage of discovery, they were approaching a cove full of breakers, hoping to effect a landing; when a resolute seaman at the helm cried out, "if they were men, about with her, or they were all cast away"—which they did, and found a harbor for the night elsewhere, near the island.

The next day was Saturday, very cold, and they spent most of the day in recruiting and repairing. The next day being Sunday, "they rested," and kept the first New England Sabbath, notwithstanding their urgent necessity of hastening their explorations. On Monday, the 11th of December, they sounded the harbor, and landed on the Rock of Plymouth—which date corresponds to the 21st of December, new style, though the 22d has, until recently, been the day of anniversary celebrations. This island contains eighty-six acres of valuable land, and is well cultivated.

History has not preserved the christian name of either Jones or Clark, the master and mate of the Mayflower, or of Reynolds, master of the Speedwell; nor any tokens by which to trace the Mayflower previous to the time of her being chartered for the Pilgrim voyage.

Billington Sea is a beautiful fresh lake, a mile and a half long, situated about two miles from the town—affording a water power for manufacturing purposes which never fluctuates, and might be improved to a much greater extent than ever has been the case.

The interview of Samoset with the Pilgrims, was an early event in their history, and a cheering one. On the 16th of December, soon after the new settlers had successfully repelled an attack from the savages, Samoset, an Indian of "seemly carriage," suddenly appeared among them, crying in broken English, "Welcome, Englishmen!" He said he came from Moratiggon, (thought to be Monhiggon, Maine,) and was a chief at home—though he was not clad in purple or fine linen, or anything else, the Pilgrims being obliged to "cast a horseman's coat about him, as he was stark naked, save only a leather about his waist, with a fringe about a span long." He spent the night with his new acquaintances—much against their wishes—but was seen no more after this visit.

Watson's Hill is another location, in the southerly portion of the town, of interest as being the place where the treaty with Massasoit was made, through the agency of Squanto, the next Spring after the landing—which remained almost unchanged and inviolate for more than fifty years.

Captain's Hill, in Duxbury, a beautiful elevation, was named after Miles Standish, the intrepid military leader of the Pilgrims.—There he lived with his family, and it is thought was buried not far from his house. It affords a delightful view of the harbor, Cape Cod Bay, Manomet, &c.

The records of Plymouth Colony, twenty volumes, were transcribed in 1818—the copies deposited in the office of the Secretary of State of Massachusetts, and the originals returned to the registry of deeds in Plymouth. The original charter of the Company being considerably defaced, was repaired, and placed in a portfolio, with the seal of the Plymouth Company in England attached to it. This seal is about four inches in diameter.

We gather the following items from the records, as mentioned by Russell. Trial by jury was ordained in one year after the arrival of the Pilgrims; the exportation of timber, corn, beans or peas, was forbidden in 1626; dwelling houses were ordered to be covered with wood, instead of thatch, in 1627,—to prevent fires. In 1627 "Edward Winslow sold unto Capt. Miles Standish his six shares in the red cow, for £5 10s, to be paid in corn at 6s per bushels—freeing the said Edward from all charges belonging to said shares during the nine years they are let out to halves."—The value of "the red cow" was thus estimated at about $160. Other cattle were imported in 1624, and in 1627, the twelve on hand were divided; twelve equal lots of thirteen persons each were made, and all recorded—and the cattle drawn for by the parties concerned. This was the first Cattle Show in New England.

Before leaving Plymouth, we wish to express our admiration of the Pilgrim fathers, by adopting the language of James Otis, who in writing to Gov. Barnard, in 1767, says: "The Indians had perfect confidence in our fathers, and applied to them in all their difficulties. Nothing has been omitted which justice or humanity required. We glory in their conduct; we boast of it as unexampled."

It is proposed to erect a Monument in honor of the Pilgrims; and Mr. Russell, in his Memorials, states that active measures will soon be taken to execute this great work—which is intended to excel everything of the kind in the world; the idea being to make it as far as possible worthy of the great event it will record. A magnificent plan has been drawn by Billings. It is to be of granite, eighty feet through the base, and one hundred and fifty feet high. On the main pedestal stands a granite figure of Faith, seventy feet high, with one foot resting upon the forefathers' rock. From a chamber within the Monument, to be reached by stairs running up eighty feet, may be seen at a glance, all the principal localities in the early history of Plymouth—the anchorage-ground of the Mayflower, the location of the rock, Captain's hill, &c. Around the monument, a space of nine acres, making a fine square, is to kept open forever.

From Plymouth, the Old Colony cars took us to Boston; from whence, after being jostled about awhile, in omnibusses and among them, and hurrying because everybody else did—we were glad to shake some of Boston's everlasting dust from our coat, scrape some of her mud from our feet, and leave for better quarters—which we found after a short ride over the Eastern railroad, with mine host of the new and splendid Sagamore Hotel, at Lynn: whither we commend all travellers in that direction. "There's nothing like leather," in Lynn, certainly—and what Lynn does for leather, leather does for Lynn in turn, viz: each 'builds' the other up. Three million pairs of women's and misses' shoes are made here annually, valued at $2,000,000—giving employment to about six thousand men and women. Many new private and public buildings are being erected, and the town presents a flourishing and lively appearance.

Our last stopping-place was at Ipswich—beautiful, quiet, old, grass-grown Ipswich. Here we spent the Sabbath, and were honored with an invitation to sing in the choir. It was decidedly pleasant to hear once more the full harmony from the organ Barton & Cobb built in Portsmouth sixteen years ago, for the Sacred Music Society; though its thundering bass did sound deep into the caverns of memory, calling up varied reminiscences,—among others, the fact that your humble servant the writer hereof, had changed positions, and was now expected to "blow" in front, instead of behind the organ. We much preferred the music to the preaching—perhaps because we did not take any part in the latter. The minister, (an exchange for the day,) seemed to us more learned than humble, more eloquent than pious, more filled with logic than charity, fonder of his creed than of being right, more 'orthodox' than christian; and we were so sure that, with such an opinion of him, we could gain no good from his cold preaching or intellectual prayers, that we were glad to have him resign in favor of the choir, after a while. We much preferred to "sing ourselves away to everlasting bliss."

Ipswich was once celebrated for her lace manufactures, 42,000 yards being made by ladies in private houses in 1790; a factory afterward monopolized the business, the ladies ornamenting the lace with their needles, as it came from the looms. Hayward says (a few years ago, mind you, reader,) that "when the ladies, the arbiters of all our fortunes, gradually declined the use of thread and silk laces, the factory's machinery was profitably employed to make cotton and other useful fabrics." The mill will have to be filled with lace-looms again, according to "the arbiters" present demand for the article.

Ipswich lies on both sides of the river of the same name, which is crossed by a stone bridge with two arches, built in 1764 at a cost of one thousand pounds.

We found in the post-office here, a precious store of papers and letters from home and elsewhere—this being our mail rendezvous for the week. So we enjoyed communion with our friends at home—not to mention those there present,—closer, if not nearer. Commend us to old Agawam, to pass a day pleasantly.

Monday found us "at home" to our usual duties and pleasures—refreshed, instructed and improved by a fortnight's recreation, and more fully than ever appreciating the worth of home. Adieu. Y.

GRAY'S ELEGY, ILLUSTRATED.—Messrs Fetridge & Co. of Boston and New York, have published a quarto edition, gilt, and fancy bound, of Gray's Elegy in a Country Church Yard,—illustrated by a wood cut for every stanza in Gray's original and beautiful poem. This edition is dedic ted to the Memory of Daniel Webster; who called, as is well known, for the reading of the Elegy, when on his death bed. This edition will doubtless meet a ready sale. It may be had at Mr J. F. Shores's bookstore in this city.

LOCAL.

PORTSMOUTH STEAM FACTORY.

To the outside observer the Portsmouth Steam Factory presents the appearance of a workshop grand and beautiful indeed; but he must step within to realize the little world of wonders, of which those brick walls are the substantial boundary. And he will be none the worse for that lesson of orderly industry, which a visit to an ordinary cotton mill cannot fail to teach. Each member of this grand household will be found diligently endeavoring to do his part toward clothing the great world without. How quiet—how active—how peaceful. Probably there is no other class of people, embracing four or five hundred, of both sexes, all ages, and a variety of nationalities—English, Irish, Scotch and "natives"—confined within the same limits so large a portion of their time, is less disorderly or discordant. Talk about the wisdom of Statesmen—the gravity of Senators: the Congress of the United States is a bedlam, in contrast with the usual decorum of factory operatives.

We can best realize the amount of work done in this mill by a few statements relative to its productions.

The principle article of manufacture is a fine quality of Lawn. On its 412 looms, every week, is woven lawn enough to furnish every woman in Portsmouth with two dresses—upwards of 50,000 yards, or 2,500,000 yards annually. By the "old fashioned" way of spinning, it would take more than thirty thousand girls to keep up these ever-busy little spindles. If the end of a single thread were attached to a cannon ball, at its ordinary velocity, it could not carry it off half as fast as the twenty-nine patient mules, each loaded with its thousand spindles, can produce it; and much of it is so fine that one pound of it would measure the length of the Concord railroad. The yarn manufactured at this mill is designated by Nos. 90, 70 and 45.

The Sagamore mill, recently purchased by the Portsmouth Company, is run a portion of the year, and is occupied by 160 looms. The large mill making a surplus of yarn in the summer sufficient to supply these looms during the winter. The Sagamore will start again the first week in December. About 55,000 yards plain, striped and checked lawns, and muslins, cambrics and curtain muslins, have been manufactured in this mill the past year.

The machinery necessary to produce these results must be expensive and complicated; and the head that guides and controls all, must as necessarily be clear, scientific and practical. Let no one, therefore envy either the pay or honors merited by the faithful discharge of its important duties.

The cloth, as it leaves the mill, is far from being ready for the market. All of it must undergo the process of bleaching, and most of it is afterwards printed. This latter operation adds no small proportion to the cost of fabric, and requires the exercise of great judgment, so as to satisfy the varied tastes of the wearers, and the changing demands of fashion.

The goods manufactured at this mill have heretofore been printed by Messrs. Dunnell & Co. of Rhode Island; but the business has recently been transferred to the Pacific Company. In their hands the lawns will probably lose nothing of that reputation which has caused them, from the start, to bring higher prices than any others in the market.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

FRIDAY, Nov. 16.

The case Scammon v. Selectmen of Stratham, occupied the whole morning session, and the Judge gave it, with his charge, to the jury, after dinner.

The jury returned a verdict for Defts.

The case, Atlantic Insurance Co. v. Goodall, was resumed, and again postponed.

No. 30, Tappan v. Tappan and others, is now on trial. This is an action founded on a writ of entry. Wells & Bacon for Plff.—Marston & Christie for Defts.

James Hill, of Greenland, was appointed foreman of the second jury, trying this case.

☞ The funeral services of the late Capt. John McClintock were performed by Rev. Dr. Peabody, on Friday afternoon, at the Stone Church. The members of the Portsmouth Marine Society, of which he has been President over thirty years, attended in a body; also the members of the Mercantile Library Association. The stores on Market street were closed during the afternoon.

☞ Mr. William M. Laighton, carpenter, has been detached from the Navy Yard, and carpenter Wm. D. Jenkins ordered to his place.

☞ Those minute guns fired in this city on Thursday evening, are said to have been fired by the young democrats of Ward 3, in honor of the nomination of Hon John S. Wells. We were informed by a leading man of that party that the boys had a jug of powder for amunition, and a candle for a match.

☞ Two or three riots occurred in New Orleans on their election day, and in one precinct a ballot-box and its contents were destroyed by a mob.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary Disease. So well is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, may almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

Agents in Portsmouth, W. R. PRESTON, J. H. HACKER, and D. KIMBALL, and sold by the Druggists throughout the United States. 2m ol d&w

THE "MOB" IN BATH.—The Bath Sentinel publishes an article upon the disturbance which took place in that city last Sunday, consequent upon the laying of the corner stone of the Catholic church, and which places the matter in a different light from what it was represented in the Tribune. We take the following extract from the article alluded to:

"The assertion of "a Sunday mob" is not true, if we can believe the testimony of many respectable individuals, who were on the ground and witnessed the whole proceedings. The announcement that a ceremony of a novel character in our city, particularly of a Sabbath, was to take place, attracted general attention, and caused a large gathering of people; that the ceremony was prevented by 'rowdyism and violence,' we have yet to learn. The acting Mayor of the city, Mr Russell, as we are informed, waited upon the gentlemen who were to take part in the service, some time previous to the time assigned for that service, and was informed that it had been concluded to postpone the ceremony to another time. This, however, was not generally known, and many remained who would otherwise have left much earlier. No doubt, when so large a crowd was congregated, some noise and confusion was manifest. It could not have been otherwise. But to herald this to the world in flaming capitals, as a "disgraceful disturbance"—"a Sunday mob in Bath," is the height of absurdity."

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY IN SOUTH DANVERS.—Murder and Suicide.—On Thursday morning, about 7 o'clock, a man named John Brown, living with his sister, Sally Brown, at a place called "the Rocks," in South Danvers near the boundary of Lynn, murdered his sister by shooting her and stabbing her in two places, and then committed self murder by cutting his throat. An Irishman, who lived with them, was out of doors, and on hearing the report of the gun went in to ascertain the cause. He was told by Mr. Brown to run for the neighbors, for his sister was dying. He did so, and when he returned with others, the wretched man had killed himself by a deep incision in his throat, and his sister was breathing her last. Brown had been out of health for some time, and it is probable that mental aberration caused him to commit the horrid deed.—Herald.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15. — Commodore Paulding has not yet received any instructions whatever regarding his projected visit to San Juan. It is asserted that they will not be such as to excite apprehension of another Greytown affair.

Gen. Cullom of Tennessee, a prominent American candidate for Clerk of the House of Representatives, has arrived here, and the possibility of his election is creating much excitement in political circles. Senators Crittenden and Owen have also arrived.

BANGOR, Nov. 15.—Rev. Philip Weaver, Marshal of this city, and the incumbent of four other municipal offices, who was unanimously deposed by the city council last evening for official corruption, absconded some hours previous, and it is said that he was seen on the train to Montreal. He had a few days before disposed of all his real estate and other property. He was an intemperate Maine Law character, and enjoyed the confidence of Neal Dow and other celebrities, and held high offices in Temperance organizations in the State. Developments show entire rottenness of character, and cause much sensation here. In 1839, he was an inmate of the House of Correction in South Boston, to which he was sentenced as a common and notorious thief. Since then he has been preaching the gospel and advocating stringent temperance measures.

NAVAL PREPARATIONS.—New York, Nov. 16.—The Norfolk papers state that an order reached there by the Baltimore boat on Tuesday, directing all the ships at the Gosport yard to be fitted out immediately for sea.

Prince & Co.'s Improved Patent Melodeons.
THE subscribers have received the Agency for the sale of these valuable Instruments, and take pleasure in inviting the public to call and examine this beautiful invention. The Cases are made of Rosewood, and are as handsomely finished as any Piano Forte. The Key Board is precisely the same as the Piano or Organ, and the tone (which is very beautiful) closely resembles that of the Flute Stop of the Organ. Hundreds have examined them, and the best evidence of their merit is their rapid sale. We would call the attention of all lovers of Music to it, believing there are many who would lose a time in securing one were they aware of the existence of such an instrument at so low a price. The prices are for a

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, BACK AND LIMBS.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels: Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from Rheumatic Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington,

76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted here, ONE THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 30 per cent. less than others in the profession,) but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

ABBOTT, 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me., was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skilful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and his substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of numbers in its behalf, known to him, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it a beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately relieves the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood vitalized, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs attained. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.

To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "Dr. BURLEIGH SMART'S COUGH MEDICINE, SMART & CLARK, HONESDALE, PA., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of RED enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

WHIPPING vs. FLOGGING.—The brief paragraph in yesterday's Transcript, stating that Commissioner C. W. Loring "decided that flogging with a rope's end is not flogging within the meaning of the statute," is susceptible of misconstruction, and requires some explanation. A Commissioner decides nothing except whether a defendant shall be discharged or held to answer, with or without bail, as the case may be. In Capt. Dupray's case, all the circumstances were considered.—It was urged by counsel, and appeared, that the assault was provoked; that though the captain's patience had been severely tried, the punishment he inflicted was not of an aggravated nature; and that if he were held, a number of witnesses must be confined in jail for some time. In addition, the distinction between beating with a rope and flogging with a cat, was taken by counsel, and Cutler's case, (1 Curtis, 501,) and His Honor's charge to the Grand Jury, (Ib., pp. 509-518,) referred to in support of it, whereupon, without deciding whether the cases covered the whole ground taken by counsel or not, the Commissioner very properly gave the defendant the benefit of the circumstances, and sustained the motion to discharge.—Boston Transcript, Thursday.

Ah! then the great decision is no decision at all, not even that of a commissioner, but only one of those wise suggestions which come up as thick as bubbles in the plea of the counsel for the defendant. The difference between these things and decisions, is so considerable that they need not be confounded — yet they are very frequently, and ludicrously too.

INVASION OF IRELAND.—This Yankee nation never made but one warlike demonstration upon Ireland, and that was when it loaded the sloop-of-war Jamestown with beef, potatoes, flour, and other destructibles, and despatched her to the coast of that island, where she fired broadside after broadside from her hatches against the famishing inhabitants, who received the bombardment bravely, though suffering great pains in the stomach, consequent upon sudden and unaccustomed overeating. That is about the only way in which Jonathan ever will invade Ireland, an assurance which ought to make the nervous editor of the London Times rest easy in his boots.—Charlestown Adv.

The female peace society has purchased a pilot boat to send to Ireland to protect that "gem of the ocean" from invasion. The editor of the London Times is expected to take command.—Boston Post.

TREASON TO FRANCE.—Jules Janin, the theatrical critic of the Paris Debats, says Americans are all barbarians—incapable of appreciating Rachel, and that she had better come home as soon as possible. He says, also, that we sit in the theatre while Rachel is reading CORNEILLE, crying out for that savage hymn, the MARSEILLAISE! And declares that every male carries to the theatre knives, and wood to whittle, during the performance. What a smart, witty man, this greasy Mr. Janin must be! How much he knows. Feed your parrot, old Garlic, and go to bed.—Boston Post.

G. W. STONE'S
Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis
ELIXIR.
THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine; let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.
Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1855.

OUR RELATIONS WITH ENGLAND.

Letters from England by the two last European mails, as well as the English papers, show that an unnatural and excited state of feeling prevails there in the minds of a portion of the public, in regard to the relations subsisting at the present moment between the two governments.

On this subject, the Boston Advertiser of Saturday has the following remarks:

This state of feeling, we are led to believe, has arisen partly and mainly from erroneous reports from this country, which have been too readily credited in England, and partly from irritating and perhaps uncourteous complaints from our cabinet to the English government, the offensive tone of which has been perhaps much exaggerated.

One of the erroneous reports which seems to have obtained general credence in England is, that the Russian war has given rise in this country to a general feeling of hostility towards the allied powers, to an extent which has even induced masses of the people to wish to take part in the war in favor of Russia.

We believe it is not to be questioned that a large part of the intelligent men of this country, are of opinion that the war was unnecessary, and, therefore, unjust and impolitic. Yet it is not a question into which they have entered with any strong feeling, nor has there been any decided manifestation of popular feeling in favor of one side or the other in this cruel war. * * * *

Notwithstanding however this demonstration on the part of the British government, we believe that they entertain the most friendly feelings towards this country, and have a strong desire to remain at peace with us, and in the strictest harmony with our government. In regard to the statements which have appeared in the London papers, it happens to be in our power to state that letters have been received in this city, under date of Oct 31, in which it is stated from a source entitled to full confidence, that Lord Clarendon has assured Mr Buchanan that the articles in the Times and Post were not in accordance with the views and feelings of the government, which were most friendly.

The Courier of Saturday says, "Our telegraphic despatches from Washington dispel all the clouds of war which have lowered upon the relations of England and the United States. The British government is not the London Times, and that insolent, ignorant and vulgar journal has no respect whatever, at home or abroad, and does not carry the weight of a feather with it in any of its lucubrations. The Times did not even frighten anybody upon the London stock exchange, for consols ran even through all the week, notwithstanding its silly thunderings; but if any portion of the British money men had thought that a war was to come between England and America, there would have been a sad trouble in Lombard street and upon the Stock Exchange."

The Washington despatch of the 16th, is as follows, and clears up the last cloud of the war humbug.

The Secretary of the Navy withheld the instructions to Commodore Paulding until the arrival of the Pacific, and in consequence of the receipt of official intelligence from England, assuring our government that the despatch of the British squadron to the West India station has no reference to Central American matters, nor any object to the United States, only one vessel of the home squadron will proceed to Nicaragua, and that is to be the flag-ship Potomac, with Commodore Paulding, in charge of the general interests of the United States.

ANOTHER SPECK OF WAR, PERHAPS!—The "Right of Search" Objected to.—An old bruiser named William Wilson was arrested by the Boston police last Thursday evening, for stealing a hat from Peter Higgins. On searching Wilson's person a vest worth $3 was found tucked under his overalls. The old fellow strenuously objected to being searched, on the ground that it was "a breach of the contract and a violation of the law of nations." As the prisoner is an English subject, perhaps his government will choose to make his case, rather than that of the Mosquito King, the cause for their next war with the United States. It would certainly be the most justifiable and dignified casus belli. We solicitously commend the matter to the gravest consideration of the London Times. On the other hand we would, sub rosa, inform President Pierce that Pete Higgins is an Irishman, and therefore nothing stands in the way of an amicable explanation of all unpleasant suspicions, except the probability that the offending police are intensely "American" in view of the approaching city election. So says the Transcript.

On Friday the old fellow was tried, and sentenced to imprisonment for two months. He ought, however, to have got a lawyer who would have appealed, on the ground that the search and seizure clauses are quite unconstitutional. But, poor fellow, he probably had no money and not many friends. He is no doubt a thief, and is justly punished. But al thieves are not punished.

TEVERINO, a Romance, by George Sand,—is just published by Fetridge & Co., Boston—and for sale by J. F. Shores, Jr. of this city. The book is as extravagant and improbable in its story as any Frenchman could desire, or as Madame George Sand could devise, and that is saying a great deal. The volume begins with a Biographical sketch of the Author, which will interest many who admire her works, and some who do not.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

We have already given a brief notice of the State Convention, of its nominations, and of its resolutions or Platform. To-day we give the resolutions in full, as reported and published officially. It will be seen that they nominate President Pierce for re-election, endorse his administration entire, denounce the new judiciary, call for the repeal of the liquor law, and execrate the know nothings. It is a pretty extensive platform, and is supposed by its builders to be strong enough to hold a majority of all the voters in New Hampshire should they see fit to get on it between this time and March meeting.

Resolved, That while the shifting organizations of our opponents have neither permanency of name nor consistency of doctrine, it is at once the merit and the glory of the Democratic party that its great and guiding principles are immutable, its purposes fixed, and its name time-honored and unchanging.

Resolved, That we hold to a strict construction of the constitution, abstinence from the exercise of unDelegated or doubtful powers, an economical administration of the State and Federal governments, and a scrupulous observance of the reserved rights of States and of individuals.

Resolved, That Democracy has no secrecy, and requires no oaths; that while it publicly avows, as a fundamental principle, freedom of conscience, without distinction of religious faith, the political equality of all whom the law recognizes as American citizens, without reference to the accident of birth, it relies for success upon open discussion and the intelligence of the people; we therefore denounce the know nothing organization, so called, as intolerant in its warfare upon the freedom of religious belief and the sacred rights of conscience, unjustly exclusive in its requirements of birth and blood, and anti-republican and dangerous in its methods of political action—as corrupting in its encouragement of secret combination and falsehood, reprehensible in its objects, and unmanly and dishonorable in the modes by which it seeks their accomplishment.

Resolved, That we believe in the cardinal doctrines of State Rights and popular sovereignty; that we recognize in its broadest sense, as just and salutary, the principle that to the people of every organized State and Territory belongs of right the prerogative of regulating for themselves their own domestic and local affairs, within the limits of the constitution; and that we denounce all violations of this principle, whether by the interference of the abolitionists of the free States or by the aggressions of their abettors in the work of sectional agitation in the slave States.

Resolved, That the Constitution of the United States is founded upon the fundamental principle of entire and absolute equality among all the States of this Union; and it is not competent for Congress or any other power to impose upon new States coming into the Union, any condition or restriction in respect to their domestic institutions or internal concerns, which the federal Constitution has not imposed upon the original States; and that any effort on the part of Congress, or any other power, to violate this principle, should be met and resisted by all good citizens, as an attempt to trample upon the Constitution and destroy the Union.

Resolved, That we are in favor of a judicious regulation of the sale of spirituous liquors; but we believe that the law of the last Legislature, miscalled "An act for the suppression of intemperance," to be unconstitutional, illiberal and oppressive in theory, and calculated in practice to aggravate the very evils it was proposed to remedy; we therefore advocate its immediate repeal.

Resolved, That the overturning of the established Judiciary and the substitution in its stead of the discarded project of the federal party of 1813, by the dominant factions in the last Legislature, was in derogation of the organic laws in disregard of the wishes and to the detriment of the interests of the people of the State. The people will restore the integrity of the Constitution, and re-instate the Judiciary upon its ancient foundation.

Resolved, That the know nothing administration in this State, by its illiberal, vindictive, partisan and unconstitutional legislation—by its unparalleled proscription of faithful public officers, and by its appointment of incompetent and unprincipled men as substitutes in their places—by its palpable misrepresentation of the public sentiment of the State upon national questions of vital importance, and by its ruthless invasion of the sacred rights of individuals, have shown it to be unworthy of the confidence of a just and particle people, and deserving of the severest condemnation; and we have abundant evidence that, at the next election, the people will hurl these unfaithful servants from the seats they have disgraced, and restore honest men and a patriotic party to power.

Resolved, That the present national administration has been true to Democratic principles, and therefore true to the great interests of the country. In the face of the most determined opposition, it has maintained the laws, enforced economy, fostered progress and infused integrity and vigor into every department of the government at home. It has signally improved our treaty relations, extended the fields of commercial enterprize, vindicated the rights of our citizens abroad, and gloriously illustrated American honor. It has asserted, with eminent impartiality, the just claims of every section, and has dared, at all times and under all circumstances, to be faithful to the constitution. We therefore proclaim our unqualified approbation of its measures and policy, and our unabated confidence and regard for our honored fellow citizen who stands at its head. And we commend the name of FRANKLIN PIERCE to the approaching Democratic National Convention for re-nomination to the office of President of the United States, believing that, in a crisis like the present, the surest guarantee for the safety and success of the future is to be found in the comprehensive statesmanship and unfaltering fidelity to duty which have been so thoroughly tested and approved in the past.

Resolved, That in the desire and request of this Convention that the Hon. John S. Wells, this day nominated as the Democratic candidate for Governor, should actively participate in the public discussion of the various questions pending in the coming election.

YELLOW FEVER AT PORTSMOUTH, VA.—The Richmond Despatch of Wednesday says: We learn from a gentleman who reached this city Monday afternoon, that the fever had again appeared at Portsmouth and that there were twenty-five cases reported there Sunday. There have been four deaths since Saturday, among them young Reynolds and Smead, whose illness we mentioned yesterday. He also states that the weather in Norfolk and Portsmouth is damp and disagreeable, and the very worst during which cases of fever could occur. The Norfolk papers do not mention any new cases of fever being there.

ALTERED BILLS.—Ones of the Dover Bank, N. H., altered to tens are in circulation. They are very skillfully executed, and difficult of detection, except to a practised eye. One of them was taken in Salem a few days ago, and passed through one of our banks, but was returned from the Suffolk. There are doubtless others in circulation, and business men should be on their guard. These alterations are new, and not mentioned in any detector.—Salem Register.

SUICIDE OF A YOUNG WOMAN.—Miss Rebecca Farrington, about 20 years of age, who was employed in the University printing establishment in Old Cambridge, committed suicide on Thursday morning by jumping into the river from the "old Brighton bridge." It is rumored that the cause of the act was some misunderstanding with a lover. Search for her body was made next day, without success.

LOCAL.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

SATURDAY, Nov. 17.

The session this morning was a short one. In the case of the Atlantic Ins. Co. vs. Goodall, a verdict was taken by agreement, and the case sent up to the Supreme Court.

The case, Tappan vs. Tappan, was left unfinished,—and the court adjourned to Monday at half past 10.

☞ At a meeting of the Mercantile Library Association, held Nov. 16th, Messrs. Wm. H. Sise, J. P. Payson and B. F. Moses were appointed a committee to draft resolutions expressive of our deep sorrow occasioned by the decease of our highly esteemed citizen, the late John McClintock, Esq., and our sympathy with his bereaved family. Subsequently the following resolutions were presented and unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That in view of the interest taken by the late venerable John McClintock, Esq. in the formation and prosperity of this Association, it becomes us to take appropriate notice of his death; and to render, by our joint action, that tribute to his worth and excellence, which is paid by the unanimous consent of our whole community.

Resolved, That in the prominent place which he long sustained in the business and enterprise of this city; in his fidelity in very numerous, and often arduous public trusts; in his example of severe purity and simplicity of life; of integrity without a shadow of reproach, of Christian virtue and piety; of a wise and kindly old age crowning a well spent and honored youth and prime—we recognize one whose memory is well adapted to encourage us in all that is true, manly and noble; and to dissuade us from every form of evil.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family of the deceased, and be published in the papers in this city.

J. P. PAYSON, for the Com.

☞ Rev. Dr. Peabody, in his sermon on Sunday morning, paid a feeling tribute to the character of the late Capt John McClintock, who was long the oldest member of the South Church, and probably the most invariably punctual attendant upon its religious services. The points in the character of the venerable deceased, particularly alluded to, were his strict integrity, nice moral perceptions, filial piety, and a practical religious devotion, which seemed to pervade and underlay his whole long and active life. A few points illustrative of his fine devotional character were presented, which furnished to the Christian believer a sufficient exemplification of the man against whom cometh no accusers.

THE ISRAELITES IN AMERICA.—The Jews in this country are somewhat affected by the state of society here. In some of the synagogues an organ has been added to the attractions, and the reading desk removed from the centre to the end of the edifice, occupying the space devoted to the altar in Christian temples. There is one feature in the Hebrew synagogue that could well be copied in our churches; we allude to the rule "that no child under five years of age shall be admitted to the religious services." The first General Conference of the Jews in the United States, was held in Cleveland, Ohio, a few days since. We copy the following report of its proceedings:

It was composed of Rabbis and delegates from the various congregations in this country, and organized by the election of Rev. Dr. Wise, of Cincinnati, President; Rev. Dr. Cohn, of Albany, Vice President; and Rev. Dr. Lillienthal, of Cincinnati, Secretary. Most of the afternoon was devoted to preliminary discussion, and the consideration of a platform basing the entire proceedings of the Conference upon the inspiration of the Bible and the teachings of the Talmud, which was finally adopted. Among the Rabbis present were Rev. Dr. Isaac Lesser, of Philadelphia; Rev. Mr. Gethelf, of Louisville; Rev. Dr. Rottenheim, of Cincinnati; Rabbi Kalisch, of Cleveland; and Dr. Merzbercher, of New York. The second day was devoted to the discussion of the derivation of the Talmud, whether it was of divine origin or the work of the elders of Israel in the days of Moses and Joshua; decided as the result of both—i. e., that it is partly spiritual, partly rabbinical—a divine treatise upon the Scripture, and more darticularly the Pentateuch.

JOHN VAN BUREN.—The New York papers are after Prince John, as he is styled, with a sharp stick. It will be remembered that John predicted a majority of 50,000 for the Soft ticket in the State of New York. He was only about eighty or ninety thousand votes out of the way in his calculation. The New York News, a Democratic paper, thus takes notice of him:

Mr. John Van Buren—$50 Reward—The last seen of this gentleman was on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, precisely, when he was observed making his exit from Tammany, with the Soft Shell platform sticking out of his pocket. It this should meet the eye of any person who can tell of his whereabouts, he would confer a favor by imparting the information to his distressed friends, especially that portion composing the 50,000 majority who were so faithful to his interests. As Mr Cochrane "does the heavy business," it is possible he may have him "in his arms" in mistake for the President. Will somebody inquire?

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The telegraphic dispatch from Baltimore representing that the yellow fever had again broken out in Portsmouth is altogether erroneous. There is no yellow fever in either Portsmouth or Norfolk at the present time.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are common to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—Hole 1400 living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

HORSE THIEF CAUGHT.—Last night, about 11 o'clock, a man calling his name Brown, hailing from Claremont, N. H., arrived at the Washington House in this city, with a valuable horse, which he said he had bought for $176 in Claremont, and had ridden the animal under saddle to Lowell the same day. From various suspicious circumstances and appearances, Mr Deputy Sheriff Bannister, and others, became satisfied that Brown had stolen the horse, and advised his arrest. Brown, on being questioned, could give no good account of himself, and Deputy Sheriff Clements "took the responsibility" of arresting and holding him. This forenoon, Mr Wm. Reed of Litchfield, N. H., arrived in this city in pursuit of the identical horse, which Brown had stolen from his pasture. So 'Mr Brown' will probably ride back to New Hampshire.—Lowell Courier, Tuesday.

TO BE HUNG.—Private William J. Dunn, of Company G Mounted Riflemen U. S. A., was recently tried by court martial at Fort McIntosh, Texas, Captain Thomas Claiborne, Jr., of the Mounted Rifles, being President of the Court. The charges were, for mutiny, and the murder of Sergeant John Williams, of the same regiment and company, by shooting him with a revolver. The Court found the prisoner guilty as charged, and sentenced him to be hung at such time and place as the President may appoint. The murder, which was an atrocious one, was committed at the camp of the Company, at Limpa Creek, El Paso road, Texas, on or about the 30th June last. The President has directed the sentence to be carried out at Fort McIntosh, on the fourth Friday next succeeding the reception of his confirmation of it (the sentence) at that post.—Washington Star, Tuesday.

THE EASE BOSTON MURDER CASE.—David Merrill, the returned Californian, who recently murdered his wife in East Boston, by stabbing her a dozen times with a dirk knife, was brought up in the Police Court on Friday morning, but his examination was further postponed till the 22d inst. The wretched man looked much as if he were not long for this world, whether he shall be victimized by the State or not.

LOSS OF A BOSTON CLIPPER SHIP.—The splendid ship Cleopatra, Capt. Edward D. Thayer, sailed from Chincha Islands via Callao, August 14, for Hampton Roads, with a cargo of guano, and was seen to go down abandoned, on 26th of September, in the longitude of Rio Janeiro. No further particulars. The report is found in the London Shipping Gazette, by a vessel arrived there. This ship was built by Paul Curtis, at East Boston, three years ago, was 1500 tons, and a superior vessel. She was owned by Benj. Bangs, Esq. and was insured in Boston, for $80,000, at five offices. The loss was probably caused by the starting of a butt.

KANSAS.—A private letter from an emigrant at Fort Riley, to his brother in Lafayette, Ia., gives a very promising account of the condition and prospects of the territory. He says that he had never carried any weapons of offence or defence, and feels no need of them; that all classes of men with whom he comes in contact, are civil and courteous, and that the settlers from all parts of the Union are generally industrious, moral and religious.—Some parts of the territory are very thickly settled, but the finest lands yet remain idle.—The best route for movers is through Iowa to the Missouri river, and then southwest towards the Kansas river.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., 16th.—Accident.—At the American celebration in this village last evening, a cannon was discharged prematurely, fatally injuring Mr L. G. Wicks, and seriously wounding Mr George Elliott. Mr Wicks was terribly mangled.

UTICA, Nov. 16.—George F Evans, an actor, was instantly killed this morning in the street, by the falling upon him of a ladder from a building in the course of erection.

OGDENSBURG, Nov. 16.—The mansion house of the Hon H Van Rensselaer, with most of its contents, was destroyed by fire early this morning.

Prince & Co.'s Improved Patent Melodeons.
THE subscribers have received the Agency for the sale of these valuable instruments, and take pleasure in inviting the public to call and examine this beautiful invention. The Cases are made of Rosewood, and are as handsomely finished as any Piano Forte. The Key Board is precisely the same as the Piano or Organ, and the tone (which is very beautiful) closely resembles that of the Flute Stop of the Organ. Hundreds have examined them, and the best evidence of their merit is their rapid sale. We would call the attention of all lovers of Music to it, believing there are many who would lose a time in securing one were they aware of the existence of such an instrument at so low a price. The prices are for a

G. W. STONE'S
LIQUID CATHARTIC,
Family Physic,
The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as
RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon for all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Catharic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness, three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

Patents.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.
Agency for business with U.S. Patent Office, Washington,
70 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber, late Examiner of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837, determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, INVENTORS will receive (instead of receiving, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 30 per cent less than others in the profession,) but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining the Models, Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents of the highest respectability.
R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. They were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors of the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for 'em an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1854.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S
Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me. was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him upon the day of his death, says:
"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skillful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."
This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of our citizens in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients, severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "A beautiful combination of the most valuable ingredients, and a healthy action of all the organs attained. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.
We have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S COUGH MEDICINE, SHAW & CLARK, BIDDEFORD, ME., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of red enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, is also accompanying each bottle.

Sunny Side Parlor Cook.

TO obtain a PARLOR OVEN STOVE, that would combine the two qualities of a truly good and ornamental Stove, and at the same time could be relied upon to bake and boil when required,—from the demand for and the convenience of such a desideratum,—has been the cause of much and continued effort among manufacturers. With these facts in view, the proprietor of this patent has, this season, perfected and brought into the market, a Stove that proves to be an Parlor Cook wanted. The demand for this Stove exceeds the supply, and all who desire the handsomest and best Stove in the market, are invited to examine the "Sunny Side" of the picture here so imperfectly portrayed.

Prince & Co.'s Improved Patent Melodeons.
THE subscribers have received the Agency for the sale of these valuable Instruments, and take pleasure in inviting the public to call and examine this beautiful invention. The Cases are made of Rosewood, and are as handsomely finished as any Piano Forte. The Key Board is precisely the same as the Piano or Organ, and the tone (which is very beautiful) closely resembles that of the Flute Stop of the Organ. Hundreds have examined them, and the best evidence of their merit is their rapid sale. We would call the attention of all lovers of Music to it, believing there are many who would lose n time in securing one were they aware of the existence of such an instrument at so low a price. The prices are for a

Lily Dale.
THIS is a new Cook Stove, invented last year by the makers of the world renowned Bay State Stove, and is intended to meet the wants of all desiring a cheap Stove which will unite beauty with economy. It may be used either with Coal or Wood. The arrangements for using either are very complete. The size of the oven is large for this Stove. It bakes as quick as any Stove in the market, and with an equal heat in every part. No Stove has ever been invented that has come so rapidly into use as the LILY DALE. Thousands of them have been sold within the last year in the New England States and have given perfect satisfaction.
Any person who likes an early breakfast, and wishes to purchase a first rate Stove for a small amount of money, we cordially invite to call at No. 46 Market street, where they will find the greatest variety of Cook, Parlor and Office stove that can be found in this section of the country—all to be sold at reduced prices for Cash.

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis
ELIXIR.
THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1855.

AN ANSWER.—Under the head of "Pass, more Williamson released," the Dover Gazette answers some queries of ours, without noticing the queries. We copy a few sentences, with notes, in the form of a dialogue.

Dover Gaz. Every epithet of meanness, tyranny and detestation, which could be thought of, has been applied to Judge Kane. Men who ought to know better, have taken it upon themselves to rejudge his acts and denounce him in the severest terms. He has been boldly charged with a violation of law, a usurpation of powers, and a tyranny of conduct having no parallel except in the dark ages.

Chron. He deserved it all.

Dover Gaz. The dignity of the bench has been entirely overlooked in a strangely morbid sympathy for negroes and negro-stealers.

Chron. Is not the dignity of the press entirely overlooked in this sentence? Is sympathy any less real, or any less healthy, because the object is not white? In what sense is Williamson a negro-stealer? Was John Quincy Adams a negro-stealer when he plead that the Amistad negroes were free? And was the U S Supreme Court a negro-stealer, when its full bench declared their freedom?—If these were negro-stealers, so was Williamson, but not otherwise.

Dover Gaz. Amidst all the froth and flippancy in relation to Passmore Williamson, no one has ventured to suggest that every man committed for contempt of court is just as much a victim of judicial authority and just as illegally and wrongly imprisoned.

Chron. No one has suggested it,—and there is not a word of truth in it. Not to answer at all, is contempt:—but a false answer, as Kane charged Williamson with making, is not contempt, but perjury. But Williamson's answer, first, and last, and always, was alike, whether true or false!

Dover Gaz. The decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania ought to have satisfied the abolitionist croakers that, whatever else might be said, Judge Kane had the law on his side.

Chron. The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania decided no question of law whatever—but merely disclaimed jurisdiction.

Dover Gaz. The law gives him power to sustain the dignity of the bench, and to punish contempt by reprimand, imprisonment, or otherwise, without stopping for a trial by jury.

Chron. The law of the U S which we published, defines contempt, and utterly condemns Judge Kane.

Dover Gaz. It is not for outsiders to say what is, or what is not, contempt. Language which in its phraseology, mode of utterance, or other particulars is deemed disrespectful, may, without any stretch of authority or any violation of law, be construed into contempt, and punished accordingly. There is, therefore, just as much justice, and law, and right in the imprisonment of Williamson as in the punishment of any other man for contempt of court.

Chron. This is the first defence of Judge Kane we have seen! It amounts to this:—The outsiders, the common people, don't know what contempt is—the judge may construe into contempt, any language he pleases!—and keep his victim in jail as long as he pleases, and until the prisoner submits to such terms as the judge may dictate.

We believe, on the contrary, that no judge is, or ought to be, out of the reach of public opinion—and that when Jeffries, or Kane, or Dogberry, plays the tyrant or the fool, on the bench, the outsiders have a right to say so.—In the case of Jude Kane, they did,—and he heard them, and took the back track.

Dover Gaz. These long tirades and frothy homilies in relation to the tyranny of the court and all that sort of thing, have no other design except to serve political ends. When hot-headed, flippant orators undertake to condemn the acts of Judge Kane in this matter, they do it for effect and nothing else.

Chron. Certainly, we have undertaken to condemn Judge Kane for effect—for political ends—we wished to wake up the people to his detestable tyranny, and his contemptible perversions of law. We would gladly see him impeached and driven from the bench which he has disgraced.

Dover Gaz. Of one thing, however, they may rest assured. The judiciary, so long as it is in democratic hands, will sustain its dignity, and its authority, though the heavens fall and abolitionists grumble! It can not be attacked with impunity, nor treated with contempt, without suffering the consequence.

Chron. Will the Dover Gazette be so kind as to tell us these two things: 1, Who or what it is, that is to suffer the consequence? and 2, Is Judge Kane a Democrat? The last quotation seems to intimate that he is:—but we deem it impossible. We have taken it for granted, from his acts, that he was a Tyrant, an Aristocrat, an oppressor, He does not come up to our ideas of Democracy, which are, that there is no man among us so wealthy, so great in power, or so high in office, that he may do as he pleases, with the meanest, or lowest, or poorest.

This is our democracy. Judge Kane, we think, cannot be a Democrat. But we wait for further light.

The first cargo of flour (300 barrels) for the Salem Flour and Grain Association arrived in that city, from New York, in the schooner Atlantic, on Friday.

MARSHAL WEAVER.—The Boston Courier of Monday says:

Mr Weaver was in this city on Saturday, and was accosted by a person who formerly sat under his preaching The Bangor City Council have not been able to elect a successor to him.

The Bangor Journal says:

Just previous to his departure he disposed of his horse, potatoes and other material. On the 6th inst., he conveyed by four deeds six parcels of real estate, situated on York, Newbury and Third streets, to Ivory W. Coombs of this city, for the sum of $4000. The property was accumulated by Rev. Mr. Weaver while he was preaching at a salary of about $400 per year and making himself useful in the temperance Maine law cause, and in behalf of the election of Anson P. Morrill, as a collector of moneys for the same. We understand there are attachments upon his property to a considerable amount in suits arising from seizures of property made by him and for personal outrages committed upon our citizens.

Since he has been a resident of this city, those who have had opportunity to know him have had little reason to believe that his character had undergone any essential change since he was sentenced in the Municipal Court of Boston, in 1836, as "a common and notorious thief."

Some Reverend Weavers not a whit more honest than this one are doubtless still at large, and not yet found out by every body. Party feeling, sectarian prejudice, and interest, blind many men so that they put into office men like Weaver, and sustain them therein. We have seen many statements and insinuations against Weaver, which at the time we could not fully believe,—because he was sustained in office. We have also seen some cases in this state, of the same sort, where the officer was notoriously bad and we knew it—but his office kept up his social standing for a while.

Generally, however, their race, like Weavers, is short; as their old propensities betray them into new acts of the same kind.

LADIES' HEELS.—The heels to their shoes or boots, of course we mean. These seem to have increased of late, to an extent worthy of remark—at least they make noise enough to be remarked anywhere. We can't say we admire to hear a lady clumping about with her "long heels;" but there if, as they say "it's so much more comfortable," and an extra inch of leather supports one's ancle so much;" the heels must be set down as an "institution"—even though, in its adoption, never-so-awkward tumbles down stairs, etc. may be the consequence.

But don't let any one think that this is any new fashion under the sun. Ladies' shoes, seventy years ago, all had wooden heels of some sort, called the cross cut, common and court heels. Then the cork, plug, and wedge or spring heels came into use. About the year 1799, wooden heels began to go out of use, by the introduction of leather spring heels. This improvement progressed gradually, until the heel-making business, once a good one, was totally destroyed. Leather heels, very small and high, were worn by the ladies till about 1810, when they went out of fashion; and have but just been restored. It is to be hoped that the dear creatures won't all run to heel.

NEW MUSIC.—"Winter Amusements, or Pearls of Melody," for the Piano, by A. Baumbach; "Jordan ain't a hard road to travel," a Song and Chorus, with piano accompaniment, by Ossian E. Dodge; "Dearest spot of earth to me is home," as sung by Miss Adelaide Phillips;—are the titles of music just published by G. P. Reed & Co., of Boston, and for sale by J. S. Harvey & Son—who have a full assortment, constantly replenished. The pieces before us are all simple and attractive.

EXCHANGING PULPITS.—A parishioner of one of our most aristocratic churches was heard, not long since, complaining about the frequent exchanges his minister made with neighboring clergymen. "What's the use of having a fifteen hundred dollar minister," he exclaimed, "when more than three fourths of the time you have to take a four and five hundred dollar one?" "Fifteen hundred dollar" ministers should profit by this hint.—Exchange.

The amount of brains either in pulpit or pews, may not always be measured accurately by the amount of money raised by the latter, or paid to the former. The Aristocracy of the Churches, especially when founded on Mammon, savors more of the things of Men than of God—and Jesus might well say to such aristocrats, as he once said to Peter—Get thee behind me, Satan!

GREAT FALLS.—The Great Falls Journal says, that in that village, the "Agency is wisely and judiciously managed, and liquor is sold only when it is known to be needed for use, as prescribed by law. All whose motives are suspected are promptly refused, without fear or favor, whoever they may be. The management meets with the approval of the people of this town."

NOT LOST.—The report of the loss of the Sch. Rosalie of Gloucester with all on board, at the bay of St. Lawrence, is contradicted by her safe arrival home.

LOCAL.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

MONDAY, Nov. 19.

The Court came in agreeably to adjournment at half past ten o'clock. The following named gentlemen were returned to serve as petit jurors:

FIRST JURY—SECOND WEEK.

Thomas Brown, Foreman, Simeon Lane, Daniel Weare, Hampton;
Sam'l F. French, Sam'l Garland, No. Hampton;
Levi Bartlett, Newton;
Jesse E. George, Plaistow;
John Bartlett, Jr. Northwood;
Barden Neeley, Nottingham;
George Hardy, Kingston;
Elias T. Holbrook, New Castle;
John A. Pickering, Newington.

SECOND JURY—SECOND WEEK.

John T. Blake, Foreman, Kensington;
Zebadiah Hoyt, Newton;
John Bradley, Plaistow;
Joseph P. Gray, Northwood;
Nathan W. Brown, Hampton;
John S. Hayes, Nottingham;
William A. Tarlton, New Castle;
Thomas F. Foye, Newington;
Benjamin Weeks, Ward 1, Portsmouth;
Benjamin Brooks, New Market;
Moses Allen, David Goodwin, Londonderry.

The first case in order for trial was State (by Abel Mason) vs Stephen Leach appellant. On motion of his counsel I. B. Claggett, Esq. the case was continued on account of the absence of material witnesses.

The next case was State (by Chas. A Dearborn) vs Alfred M. Berry appellant, for writing certain obscene and profane words on the station house of the P. & C. railroad corporation at Greenland. The respondent was tried defore Justice W. H. Y. Hackett in April last for the alleged offence and fined $5 and costs $7.30. From this judgment the respondent appealed to this Court. It was admitted on defendant's part that he wrote the words "George Brown" only, on said station house, and that whatever other words were there written were done by some other person. His counsel stated if "George Brown" were obscene or profane words then the respondent was guilty, otherwise he must be acquitted. The testimony on the part of the state was not conclusive that Berry wrote the obscene or profane words, only that he was present and wrote something with a lead pencil on the station house. The case was submitted to the jury, who after a short consultation returned a verdict of "Not Guilty," and thereupon the respondent was discharged.

Hatch for the State. I. B. Claggett for defendant.

State vs Leonard Shilling, Enoch Bean, Nathaniel E. Brown, and Edward Q. Brown, appts., of Kingston, for an assault upon one Jeremiah Carter, of Kingston, on the evening of the 28th of April last. Carter testified that one Oren Silloway, Shilling and others, called at the house of one Tremble, where he was visiting, and after some difficulty, he, Carter, left to go home; that soon after he left the house he was knocked down by some one with a club; that he received a wound on the back of his head, one on his arm, and bruises on his back; that he was confined at home 14 days, and has since been under medical treatment. In the cross-examination the witness was asked whether or not he was the same Jeremiah Carter who was formerly charged with burning a barn; also for murdering Parker of Manchester; also for assaulting his wife with a butcher knife; also for attempting to shoot one Moses Eaton; also for striking one Collins with a slung-shot; also for selling rum, to each of which questions except the last the witness nervously replied that he "didn't know"—to the last he answered that he was the same man,—was convicted for selling and had been imprisoned for the offence. The wife of Carter, also one Mrs. Trimble corroborated Jeremiah Carter. Trimble the only other government witness, testified that he was present at the said assault, that Oren Silloway struck said Carter, and that he heard Silloway say to Shilling, "stop, that will do," as he was assaulting Carter. The government here gave notice that it would rest the case. Hereupon the counsel for defendants moved for the discharge of the respondents on the ground that neither of them had been found to be guilty of the crime as alleged. The Court discharged Edward Q. Brown, but as to the others ruled that there might be some evidence against them which should go to the jury.

The case was not finished, but will probably go the jury this (Tuesday) morning.—Hatch for state. Stickney and Tuck for defts.

THE FIRST KANSAS MEETING HOUSE.—A contribution was taken up at the Stone Church on Sunday afternoon, to aid in the erection of a Christian Church in Lawrence, Kansas territory, the first in that territory, under the auspices of a devoted clergyman of the Unitarian faith, who now preaches in Lawrence city, weekly, in the open air.

☞ The second lecture of the Mercantile Library Association Course, will be delivered this evening, by B. C. Clark, Esq. of Boston. His subject is to be Hayti and the Haytiens. Prof. J. W. Clark will preside at the Piano Forte. A few season tickets remain unsold.

The Southern and Western Commercial Convention, to have been held in Richmond the present month, has been postponed to January 30th.

CONSTRUCTIVE BEATING.—Judge Kane has decided that the master of a ship is liable to indictment when his officers inflict injury upon sailors in his presence, though he takes no part in the matter. This was the case of Capt. Reynolds of ship Valparaiso, which was waiting for him at the Breakwater. Judge Kane said it was a proper case for a jury to decide, and fixed the trial for Monday.

Among the November elections is that of a Cardinal, which took place at Rome, on the 15th. Lucien Bonaparte, cousin of the emperor, was a prominent candidate, and, if successful, it is a long step toward the papal throne, whenever Pius vacates it.

The body of Mr Neville, keeper of the hotel in Williamsburg, who was supposed to have been murdered, was found in the water at Greenpoint, with his money in his pocket. It is quite evident that he committed suicide.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

LIEN LAW OF SHIPS.—Henry N. Hooper & Co. of Boston, and Kimball & Co. of Newburyport, libelled the barque Sam Slick, for materials furnished in building her. The owners resisted on the ground that the vessel had left the State since the materials were furnished. The facts were, that the ship was built in Newburyport and sailed for Boston, but owing to stress of weather she put into Portsmouth, arriving at midnight, and leaving in the morning. Judge Sprague decided in favor of the libellants, on the ground that this was not such an "arrival in another State" as would defeat the lien of mechanics and material men. The owners appealed to the Circuit Court, where the case was again argued, and Judge Curtis reversed the decision of the District Court, and dismissed the libel.—Boston Transcript.

ARREST OF A MURDERER.—A man named John Killene was brought to the jail in Chicago lately, who is charged with the murder of Mrs Casgrove, his sister-in-law, about two years ago, in the neighborhood of the "Sag," a place on the canal a short distance south of this city. Killene was arrested at the time of the murder, and lay in jail several months, but was discharged on account of insufficient evidence against him. He is now arrested in consequence of the revelations of a little girl about fourteen years of age, and who is the daughter of his wife recently deceased. She witnessed the murder by looking through a crack from an upper room where she was supposed to be in bed asleep. She now believes her mother in purgatory for having concealed a knowledge of the crime, and has made the revelation with the expectation of thereby affording relief to her mother. The murder was known at the time to be one of shocking brutality. The murdered woman was habitually cruel to her children, and it would seem that Killene proceeded to take summary vengeance upon her.—Chicago Journal.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 18.—The fire at Alexandria caused the death of seven persons. Five of them were members of the Star Fire Company, one of the Relief Company, and one a colored man. The fire was the result of deliberate incendiarism. Candles saturated with camphene, and trains of gunpowder leading to the crockery crates, were found. Dr. Dowell had his stock insured for $20,000, which is said to be of the value of $5000 only. Himself and two of his clerks have been arrested, charged with being the incendiaries.

FIRE IN WASHINGTON STREET.—Saturday morning, about 1 o'clock, fire broke out in building 219 Washington street, the lower floor of which was occupied as a fancy goods store, the upper rooms as a daguerreotype saloon, and a hair dressing saloon. The second and third stories were nearly destroyed by fire, and great damage was done to the stock of Mr Austin by the water which was necessarily poured into the rooms above. He is insured at the Howard office in Lowell. The building is owned by Mr Sheafe, of Portsmouth, N. H., and is insured at the Firemen's office in Boston.

NEW YORK.—The Tribune publishes the official vote of 51 counties (all but seven) which gives Headly (Know Nothing) 141,369; King (Republican) 123,773; Ward (Hard) 53,048; and Hatch (Soft) 82,310. At this rate, the total vote of the State will not reach above 450,000, whereas there must be 600,000 voters in the State—550,000 votes were cast on a former election. In 51 counties the American vote is only about 10,000 above the whole American vote last year. In 38 counties officially reported, Selden (Democrat and Liquor) for Judge of Appeals, is only 119 ahead of Campbell (Know Nothing,) but Kings and Erie will give Selden a plurality of 5000, which will probably elect him. Dr. Brandeth, for the State Senate, is beaten by Ferdon (Know Nothing,) in Putnam, Rockland, and Westchester, by only 60 majority.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—We have dates from Buenos Ayres by the Margaret Eliza, to Sept 16. The British Packet of the 8th announces the imminence of a civil war in Montevideo. On the 28th of the previous month President Flores was driven from his point, and he immediately hoisted the banner of the legal Presidency in the suburbs of Montevideo. He had a force variously estimated at from 500 to 2000 men under his command. Some of the departments had declared for Flores, and others it is said, for Oriba. The Brazilians in the meantime, are shut up in their barracks in Montevideo. The latest news was that Flores threatened the city, while various measures were being taken for its defence.

VERMONT LEGISLATURE.—This body adjourned on Thursday morning, after a session of exactly five weeks. From the Windsor, Vt., Journal we learn that but one bank has been chartered during the session—that at Chelsea, to take the place of the present bank there, whose charter will soon expire—and only one increase of bank capital has been granted—$25,000 to the Lyndon bank. An act was passed authorizing the Judges of the Supreme Court to appoint a Railroad Commissioner, at a salary of $1000 per annum, whose duty it will be to examine the affairs of the various railroad companies, and report to the Legislature. Sixty days additional time have been granted for the Passumpsic Railroad extension to the Canada line. The liquor law was amended. A fine of $5 is imposed on a person found drunk, and $10 for procuring liquor under false pretences. Liquor imported into the State is made liable to seizure and destruction. A fine from $10 to $300 is imposed for selling or furnishing impure or adulterated liquors. A bill to consolidate the Vermont Central and Vermont and Canada Railroads failed to pass.

In the Municipal Court, Boston, Cornelius O'Connell, for manslaughter in killing his wife, was sentenced to one day solitary and eighteen months hard labor in the State Prison. The woman was addicted to intoxication, which hastened her death. The blow inflicted by her husband was not sufficient to cause death, but it was given with a deadly weapon, and in her fall she struck some hard substance which produced inflammation.

The Grand Jury at Pittsburg has presented female equestrianism at Agricultural Fairs as a nuisance.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT;—it needs no other recommendation. Its family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be delivered from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

Patents.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.

Agency for business with US Patent Office. Washington,

76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty day after the rejection of claims. Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 30 per cent less than others in the profession,) but can here avail themselves of the experience of 10 years' practice, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents, on the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most reliful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me., was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh was well qualified to secure the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skilful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by the Doctor, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of persons in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it a beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted, the system invigorated and purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs attained. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.

To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S COUGH MEDICINE, SHAW & CLARK, BIDDEFORD, Me., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of azo enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

A SAD TALE.

The Salem Gazette gives the following particulars of a dreadful homicide and suicide which occurred at South Danvers.

Mr James Brown, a bachelor, of some fifty years old, and his sister, Miss Sarah Brown, somewhat younger, were living on the farm of the former, situated between Tapley's Brook and Brown's Pond, in South Danvers. It appears from the testimony of their Irish man servant, that they rose as usual, and the cows were milked, and the milk was strained by Miss Brown at about six o'clock. About half an hour afterwards, while the Irishman was watering his horse, in the yard, he heard a gunshot in the house. Hastening toward the door, he was met by Mr Brown, who told him to go to his brother John's, and tell him his sister Sally was dying.

The man ran and gave his message, and entering the house on his return, saw Miss Brown lying upon the floor, apparently in great suffering, and asked her if there was any thing he could do to help her. She replied, "I am killed. God help me. Look out for yourself."

The man had not observed, till that moment, that Mr Brown was lying dead on the floor, in another part of the room. On seeing this, he ran out and alarmed the passers by and neighbors, one or two of whom entered before the last expiring gasp of Miss B. took place. She had a gunshot wound in her right breast, and three stabs in her neck from a sharp knife, which was afterwards found. Her hands were also cut with the knife, which led the members of the coroner's jury to suppose that she had succeeded in defending herself until he took the gun and shot her. He lay upon the floor dead, as above stated, with his throat cut severing the carotid artery and the jugular veins. The bloody razor was lying by him.

A coroner's jury was summoned by Stephen Upton, Esq., of which S. C. Bancroft, Esq., was foreman. Their verdict was as follows: "That Sally Brown came to her death, from a wound in the right breast, produced by a gun discharged by James Brown. That James Brown came to his death, from a wound on the neck, made with a razor, held in his own hand."

The cause of this dreadful affair is probably hidden forever from mortal knowledge, and it is useless to conjecture. It may have been insanity; it may have been a sudden fit of anger, for we are told that the unhappy man was of an excitable passionate temper, while his sister was amiable and beloved by all who knew her. Whatever the cause, the event brings desolation and mourning to a large and respectable circle of friends and relatives.

The Salem Register says:

So far as we can learn, those best informed do not suppose that any malice actuated James in this tragical affair. The explanation suggested is this: The two were more fondly attached to each other than to the rest of the family. When Sarah was sent to the insane asylum, some years ago, James took her part and remonstrated against it. This occurrence not only attached her to him, but created a strong prejudice in her mind against those who were instrumental in sending her, and she has often been heard to say that she did not know what she should do if James should die—she did not wish to live herself after that. James had been for some time afflicted with the spine complaint, had become depressed and melancholy, and it is supposed that, in his morbid condition, fearing he was about to die, he committed the deed to avert the survival which the sister had apprehended. This is the most plausible theory which we have heard suggested.

Dr Tobias Watkins, aged 75 years, who for many years filled the office of United States Auditor, and who was an able contributor to several journals and magazines of the country, died at Washington on Wednesday.

THE VALUE OF POLITENESS.—Mr Butler, of Providence, Rhode Island, a millionare, who died some six years ago, was so obliging that he re-opened his store one night, solely to supply a little girl with a spool of thread which she wanted. The incident became known, (Mr Butler was a young man at the time,) and the trading public wisely thought that his accommodating spirit, as shown in this trifling affair, and in the general conduct of his business, deserved a good run of custom, and placed him on the track of high prosperity. He subscribed the sum of forty thousand dollars towards founding a hospital for the insane in Rhode Island, through the benevolent importunities of Miss Dix.

AN IDEA OF EQUITY.—An Irish woman, named Ellen Hickey, was arrested in Boston on Thursday for robbing Mary Ann Burke, a child five years old, of the clothing on her person, leaving her nearly naked in the street.—The act was committed in Causeway street, and the reason given by the female robber was, that the child's mother owed her some money, for which the clothing would be an offset.—This is worse than the Indian mode of collecting a debt, which always spares the blanket and the wampum.

THE POSITION OF GEORGIA.—The Charleston Mercury is well pleased with the result of the recent election in Georgia and the tone of the Governor's Message. It says:

"The position of this State is in the highest degree interesting. By general consent, she is made the standard bearer of the South."

The position of Georgia is, that, if the slave power is suffered to have its own way in every thing, and continues to rule as heretofore, she will submit to the Union; if not, Georgia will step out. It is an ominous indication of degeneracy, that South Carolina should now consent to play second fiddle in the disunion dance.—Salem Reg

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1855.

SOMETHING DROLL.—The Boston Chronicle, since the election, says, in speaking of the repeal of the Massachusetts liquor law:

It is, so far as the bulk of the Legislature elect is concerned, a mere question of expediency. They will look at the subject in the light of the probable effect of action on the law upon their respective parties. * * *

Some men there are, we know, who would have the subject disposed of solely with reference to its merits, and a few of that number may be among the persons who have been chosen to the Legislature; but though such men are almost invariably repealers, we have but little to hope from them, seeing that honest and single-minded men rarely have any influence in political bodies, where expediency, and the effect on parties of any given action, are alone much heeded. The matter is in the hands of the politicians, and they are susceptible only to the grossest influences. Not that they are worse than most other men.—Quite the contrary.

Now let us look at these quotations, beginning at the latter end, and going backwards.

The contrary of worse is better. Therefore, if we may believe the Boston Chronicle, politicians are better than most other men! But in the next sentence, going backwards still, we are told that these same politicians are susceptible only to the grossest influences! And back still farther, they will vote on a question which the Chronicle deems vital, chiefly because it will help this party or that!

If these politicians are better than most of the people, how bad must the people be?

But there is a redeeming trait in the picture,—a green spot in the landscape! Indeed the Repealers, the straight out liquor men, they,—if we may believe the Boston Chronicle, they are the salt of the earth, who would sweeten the legislature if they could! But, sad to say, such pure minded, honest men as they, have no influence in political bodies. What is the world a-coming to?

The following items are cut from the same paper.

The New York News is after the liquor folks:—"Of how little practical value the Liquor Dealers' movements have proved in the recent election, may be judged from the fact that Hendricks, the Know Nothing candidate for Secretary of State, who voted for the present Prohibitory act at the last session of the Legislature, goes out of N. Y. city 4000 ahead of Ward, who was adopted by the Liquor Dealers' State Convention as its candidate."

In the Court of Common Pleas for Worcester, Ms., John Herns of Templeton, and Ebenezer Barnard of Greenwich, have been convicted under the Liquor Law. Augustus Seaver of Worcester, and George W. Skiff of Paxton, were acquitted. Four indictments (instead of sixty) have been quashed for informality. David Webster of Worcester has been sent to the State Prison for a year and three months, being convicted of perjury.

Wm. B. Dudley of Watertown has been fined for cutting the hose of an engine company. Samuel C. Knight and Solon Fisher, of the Irving House, Cambridge, have been convicted of violating the liquor law.—Boston Chronicle.

The Boston Telegraph, in commenting upon the result of the late State election, says many of the opponents of the prohibitive law "actually believed that the law would be repealed, and that in its stead a license law would be enacted. Let the law be enforced in every town. Let there be no waiting for Boston." That paper claims a majority of Maine Law men in the Legislature.

The Boston Times also makes the following statement:

"We learn that Mr Paran Stevens, of the Revere and Tremont Houses, voted for Mr Walley, the whig candidate for Governor; Mr Lewis Rice, of the American, also voted for Mr Walley; Mr Peter B. Brigham, of Concert Hall, voted for Mr Rockwell; Mr Harvey D. Parker, of the Parker House, voted for Mr Walley; and Mr George Young, of the Cornhill Coffee House, voted for Mr Gardner. The above list comprises some of the most prominent men in the liquor interest in the city. They, no doubt, influence a large number of voters, and contributed, in a great measure, to bring about the desertion of 10,000 men from the Beach standard, on the day of battle—thus securing the re-election of Henry J. Gardner."

N. H. MEDICAL SOCIETY.—An attentive friend has laid on our table a neat pamphlet of 56 pages, from the press of McFarland & Jenks of Concord, entitled the Transactions of the New Hampshire Medical Society, (55th Anniversary,) held at Concord June 5 and 6, 1855. The president, we see, is Dr. John S. Fernald of Barrington, formerly a fellow apprentice (of Uncle Toby) in the Oracle office. An address from the president, and dissertations from other members, compose the principal part of the pamphlet. The institution is represented as prosperous.

ROBBERY.—The dry goods store of Chick & Wendell was broken into on Wednesday night of last week, and relieved of goods to the value of from $150 to $200, consisting of shawls, plaids, gloves, handkerchiefs and collars, a small portion of each being taken, thereby giving conclusive evidence that the robber preferred a variety. He first endeavored to obtain access to the store through the front cellar window, which was unsuccessful; breaking the gas pipe, however, and filling the store and the hotel with gas. It is not supposed that he attempted to pass into the store through the gas-pipe. The next endeavor was by a window from the back yard, which was successful.—Great Falls Journal.

PUBLISH THE LETTER.—The Portsmouth Chronicle should deal fairly. It professes to be very virtuous, as many other great sinners have done; but we judge editors, as well as other men, by their fruits. Why don't the Chronicle publish Dr. Carruther's letter to the British Banner, and let it speak for itself? It is an easy thing to pronounce upon its contents; but the readers of the Chronicle might come to a different conclusion from its editor, upon reading the document. Is the Chronicle afraid to insert it?

We published the extract, which the Union selected, and which the Argus copied twice in one column, as the choice specimen of disunion literature. The reason why we did not publish the whole of that letter, was not because we feared any harm from it, but because in our very limited space we could not well spare the room.

It is indeed a very easy thing to pronounce upon the contents of a letter; and if the Argus will select any sentence, or sentences, not exceeding twenty lines, from the remainder of that letter, and pronounce disunion upon the quotation, within a similar limit of twenty lines, we will publish both the quotation and the pronunciamento.

Will not this be pretty "lair" for a "great sinner"? Any scribe, pharisee or saint, connected with the Argus synagogue, is respectfully requested to attend to this matter, and make the quotation forthwith.

It may not be impertinent to remark that the Argus itself (though not a great sinner,) did not copy the whole letter at first, but only one paragraph, twice over—and with it the pronouncing, both of the Union and itself.

OUR RELATIONS WITH ENGLAND.—The National Intelligencer of Saturday concludes an article on our relations with England as follows:

We are happy to learn from authentic sources that good temper and good judgment are yet in the ascendant with the high functionaries of both governments, and that the idle speculations which for a moment prevailed have lost their power for mischief.—The official information received by our government from London by the Pacific affords assurance that although it is true that a British squadron was fitting out for the American waters on special service, yet that squadron had no purpose of hostility or unfriendliness towards the United States. In consequence of this intelligence Commodore Paulding will proceed to the coast of Central America with only one ship (the Potomac) in order to look after our general interests in that quarter.

PUNISHMENT OF SWINDLERS IN ENGLAND.—Sir John D. Paul and his partners, Messrs. Strahan and Bates, who were many years leading London bankers, failed some time since, and disclosed that they had, when pressed for money, disposed of securities placed in their hands on deposit, and applied the money to their own necessities. They were arrested and tried for the offence, and we learn that the sentence pronounced upon them is fourteen years transportation. Sir John D. Paul was a baronet, a magistrate, a leading member of the church, and of several religious and charitable societies; his connections, as well as those of his partners, were highly respectable and influential.

The English laws and courts seem to bear harder than ours on such large swindlers.

EFFECTS OF THE HURRICANE ON THE HARLEM RAILROAD.—We have already given some particulars of the accident on the Harlem Railroad. Mr Gaylord a brakeman, says:

"He found it utterly impossible to keep one of the car doors closed; that while at his post he felt the entire car lifted up by the wind, and almost at the same instant the car turned over, and that he went down the embankment with it, which was the last he had any recollection of relative to the accident, until rescued from the wreck of a car and taken to a house near the scene of disaster—where he lies in a very precarious state, having five ribs broken, his lungs ruptured by the points of the broken ribs, his skull depressed, and his right shoulder, chest and face severely bruised."

Another account says—"From a close examination made of the track and indentations in the ties, it is evident that the wind raised the cars and carried them a distance of six feet four inches westward, so that the east side wheel alighted eighteen inches west of the west side rail, and that they thus ran with west side wheels at a considerable elevation above the embankment for a distance of nine feet, when, it is believed, from the jagged condition of the rail, that the coupling between the tender and baggage car gave way, and set the cars at liberty to roll down the embankment. According to the information obtained, it is by no means a rare occurrence for the wind to blow so furiously at the point in question that pedestrians find it impossible to walk along the embankment, and are obliged to kneel down and cling to the rails for a few moments before they can proceed."

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Our agents at Rio Janeiro, under date of the 4th of October, report:—"Came into port Captain Thayer of the ship Cleopatra of Boston, with the first launch and surf boat of said ship, containing 25 souls; the captain, his brother, second mate, steward, stewardess, cook, and all of the starboard watch. The second launch, with the first and third mates, and all of the port watch, had not yet been heard of. The ship was leaking badly, having run into a vessel or wreck the night previous, the ship going fifteen knots at the time. Could not free her, and abandoned her."

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—E. Debost, an eminent mineralogist of North Carolina, committed suicide by cutting his throat at his hotel in this city this morning, on account of pecuniary embarrassments. He was the discoverer of gold in North Carolina.

LOCAL.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

TUESDAY, Nov. 20.

The Court was occupied during the day, until half-past 4 P. M., on the case State vs. Shilling and others for an assault on Jeremiah Carter, when it was given to the Jury.

The complaint against Jeremiah Carter for an assault upon Nathaniel C. Brown, which came up to this Court on appeal, was quashed for informality—the complainant not being named in the magistrate's certificate.

The Court then took up the case State vs. Andrew Merrill, for assault and false imprisonment of one Nancy Taylor, wife of Daniel Taylor, at Salem on the 30th of May last. It appeared in testimony that Taylor hired a house of Merrill, and the latter kept Taylor's cow in his, Merrill's barn; that at the time Taylor moved from the premises he wished to take away his cow, but was resisted by Merrill, who claimed a bill on said cow for keeping; that Mrs. Taylor had been out to milk, and on returning found the barn door locked, which Merrill very soon unlocked and then pushed the door against Mrs. T. with some violence, and that Mr Taylor then passed in, unloosed and drove the cow out. It was contended for the defence that no violence was used, and that the respondent only attempted to restrain Taylor and his wife from driving away said cow without paying for keeping according to agreement.

Hatch for state. Tuck and G. C. Bartlett for deft.

☞ The lecture before the Mercantile Library Association on Tuesday evening, was attended by a good audience, and prefaced by some good playing on the Grand Piano by Prof. Clark.

The lecturer was B. C. Clark, Esq. of Boston, previously unknown to us, a spare, neat looking, and vigorous middle aged man, who announced his subject, Hayti and the Haytiens. He has travelled in the island, been sick of her fevers, been nursed and saved by her people. He understands her history, and in his lecture he advocated her cause, vindicated her character, and urged her claims to a decent place in the great family of nations.

Incidentally he gave a charcoal sketch of Napoleon le Grand, and not exactly a chalky image of his new and very partial historian, the Rev. Mr. Abbott, who very strangely omits all mention of Napoleon's ill-starred expedition which he sent against Hayti, and of course never names Toussaint, the Bruce of Hayti.

We had supposed, when the subject of the lecture was first announced, that we should listen to a lecture on the decay and dilapidation of a beautiful island; on the inability of the black man to be or do much for himself, &c., but on the contrary, we found an earnest and in some passages highly eloquent appeal for liberty, humanity and equity.

We have no idea that it could be universally acceptable—yet several passages brought down the house with such boisterous applause as would not have been tolerated in the old Portsmouth Lyceum.

Modern politicians and present political and moral questions were handled without gloves. Liberia and Nebraska, compromises made and broken, came up like ghosts at the orator's bidding, and like ghosts they wouldn't go down again.

He spoke of the Haytian compromise as lasting nine years,—and of the Missouri as lasting thirty—though both were made to last forever—from which he deduced the consequence, that compromise breakers wished to make eternity as short as possible.

In fine, he gave us a rambling, discursive lecture, instructive in some parts, impressive in others,—not such as any body looked for,—and containing more anti-slavery doctrines than the whole of both courses last winter.

THE PORTSMOUTH ALMANAC.—Mr Fuller, the editor of the Gazette, has just published a neat, and we believe generally correct manual for the next year, 1856, designed for Rockingham County, and going into particulars at greater length than a State Register can be expected to do.

The Astronomical Calculations are by Mr Alfred M. Hoyt, in whose correctness we have great confidence. It is often a great convenience to consult an Almanac calculated for our own residence or immediate vicinity; and it is hoped, therefore, that this almanac will meet a ready sale. It may be had at the bookstores.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—If it would not be trespassing too much, I should like to occupy a small space in your columns for the purpose of inquiring into the duties of our Custom House Officers, and that is; whether it is a part of their duty to interfere with Pilotage on the Piscataqua River, and thereby deprive Pilots of their means of livelihood. If it is the duty, or in fact, a part of a Night Inspector's duty, employed by the United States to interfere and take out vessels after they have been brought into port by Branch Pilots, it is a something which I was not aware of; and I think that an officer of the Customs, who is averaging his $1.50 per day through the year would be satisfied, and not interfere with the duty of A PILOT.

THE DANISH SOUND DUES.—The Washington Union says:—"We have noticed some traces of apprehension that the pending controversy between the United States and Denmark may act prejudicially upon our relations with Great Britain. This we know to be a mistake. There is no difference of opinion between the two governments on the subject."

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons humbly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people,—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

FROM RIO JANEIRO.—September 20, 1855.—The prevailing disease—something like the cholera—I regret to report, is on the increase, say eighty deaths per day in the city and surrounding suburbs. Nearly all the mortality appears to be among the negroes and soldiers. Of every forty-five deaths among the blacks, forty are caused by the prevailing epidemic.—News reaches us from every part of the interior that the disease is fast spreading, and that the fazendares or planters refuse to send in coffee, and that the new crop, which has just began to make its appearance, is light, and not of what we call superior quality. This has caused, for a few days past, a rise in the market.

Most liberal subscriptions have been made for the poor and suffering. Some have subscribed as high as five thousand dollars, and many one thousand. The aged bishop of this city visited the Exchange, asking alms for the sick and the poor; into his hands was poured some eight thousand dollars.

Notwithstanding all the sickness around us, the shipping is perfectly healthy.

Sept. 29.—In our present visitation of cholera, a thing never before known here, the government have behaved with the greatest calmness, and have sought to do everything in their power that might tend to help the population during so dreadful a scourge.

The establishment of innumerable medical posts in which the doctors are to be found night and day, with medicines, &c., to which parties attacked can be removed, has prevented many deaths that would otherwise have occurred.

A now feature has appeared in our city, which was never seen here during the yellow fever. The bishop of the diocese, accompanied by a few priests, going from door to door to receive the mites which might be given them for the poor, and the appearance of the Emperor himself and his ministers, visiting the different medical posts, and administering consolation to the sick, have called forth the admiration of the inhabitants of Rio.

The voluntary contributions which have been obtained during the week speak well for the people. One individual has given 10,000 reas, and many more 4000 reas each. The amount already received is very large, and no doubt will continue to be so, parties having been appointed to collect alms.

Everywhere, the government, as soon as they know that the epidemic has appeared, establish hospitals, provided with everything necessary. The whites, comparatively speaking, have hitherto suffered little.

FROM MEXICO.—The New Orleans Picayune, Nov. 10th, gives the following account of the sad state of affairs in Tampico:

Gen. Garza arrived within a short distance of that city about the 21st ult., and opened a correspondence with Gen. Traconis, the military commander of the garrison, requested him either to retire with his troops, or to disarm them, as his intention was to take both the civil and military control of the State of Tamaulipas. Traconis positively refused to receive Garza in any other character than that of Governor, allowing him to enter the city with a limited escort. Garza indignantly refused these terms, and the two parties assumed a hostile attitude. It was supposed that the affair would be decided by a battle; and as Garza's troops had been reinforced by the arrival of seven hundred men from San Luis Potosi, under the command of Col. Zuazua, it was considered beyond a doubt that Garza would carry the day.

Tampico has suffered severely from the revolution. All intercourse between that place and the interior markets has been cut off, and business has been completely paralyzed. The alarmed Mexican families were taking refuge every night in the houses of foreign consuls, or were leaving for the old town Pueblo Viego. All foreigners were exceedingly anxious to see some vessels-of-war enter the port, and gladden their eyes under these painful circumstances; but it is said that English and American ships-of-war never touch there unless they have a prospect of obtaining a freight of specie.

Supplies of provisions were cut off by Garza, and food of every description was exceedingly scarce and was selling at very high prices.

NASSAU WRECKERS SHOT BY SPANIARDS.—Havana, Nov. 13.—The Spanish brig Sarantes got on shore a short time since, on the Mucaras Shoals, on the Bahama Bank, and was abandoned. She was bound from Liverpool to this port, and was found by two wreckers from Nassau, N. P., who had commenced taking out the cargo, when they were attacked by a Spanish armed launch from Cienfuegos, who fired at and killed two of the wreckers' crew, and five or six of them jumped overboard and were drowned. The launch then made all the wreckers prisoners and took them with their vessels to Cienfuegos, where they were imprisoned twenty-four hours without food, when the Alcalde set them at liberty. The excuse of the Spaniards is, that they were looking for the pirates, who recently rifled the American vessel on Cayo Comites.

HENRY S. HARTSHORN would respectfully inform his friends and the public, that he has taken the spacious Room in the western corner of CITY HOTEL building, No. 20 Congress street, and fitted and furnished it in the best manner, as the

and will be most happy to wait on his patrons with less delay than has sometimes been necessary in his old Saloon.

His old place of business will be under his charge, also, as heretofore:

With his increased facilities for performing every operation pertaining to the removal or Dressing of the Human Hair, he feels prepared to give the fullest satisfaction to all who may call on him.

While returning most grateful thanks for the very liberal patronage with which he has ever been favored in Portsmouth, he would solicit a continuance of the same.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD RUINED.—The affairs of this road, says the St. Louis Intelligencer, have reached a crisis by the late disaster. Bridge after bridge has broken down, stopping travel, and cutting off receipts, and its condition was little better than bankruptcy before. Says the Intelligencer: "Although the President and Directors have not yet acknowledged the fact, it is, nevertheless, well known that the road is utterly broken down in means and credit, and must soon be abandoned, as hopelessly bankrupt, unless some new, and, as yet, undevised step, be taken by the city of St. Louis and by the State to save it."

FAREWELL SERMON.—Rev. Edward Beecher, for twelve years pastor of the Salem street Church, Boston, preached his farewell sermon on Sunday afternoon, being about to take the pastoral charge of a society in Galesburg, Illinois. The church was crowded. The venerable Dr. Lyman Beecher, father of the pastor, occupied a seat in the pulpit. The discourse was deeply affecting. During the last twelve years the society has paid a debt of $5000, and remodeled their church at a cost of about $30,000, besides contributing liberally to charitable objects.

G. W. STONE'S
LIQUID CATHARTIC,
—OR—
Family Physic.
The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and efficiently upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as
RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels, Stomach and Liver. Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—It needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

Prince & Co.'s Improved Patent Melodeons.

THE subscribers have received the Agency for the sale of these valuable Instruments, and take pleasure in inviting the public to call and examine this beautiful invention. The Cases are made of Rosewood, and are as handsomely finished as any Piano Forte. The Key Board is precisely the same as the Piano or Organ, and the tone (which is very beautiful) closely resembles that of the Flute Stop of the Organ. Hundreds have examined them, and the best evidence of their merit is their rapid sale. We would call the attention of all lovers of Music to it, believing there are many who would lose a time in securing one were they aware of the existence of such an instrument at so low a price. DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S
Cough Medicine.
DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me., was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:
"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was endowed with all the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skilful in every branch of the Medical Science, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."
This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of numerous gentlemen in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "a beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."
Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs attained. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.
To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S COUGH MEDICINE, SMART & CLARK, BIDDEFORD, ME., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of red enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the care of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

Sunny Side Parlor Cook.
TO obtain a PARLOR OVEN STOVE, that would combine the two qualities of a truly good and economical Cooking Stove, and at the same time could be relied upon to bake and boil when required,—from the demand for and the convenience of such a desideratum,—has been the cause of much and continued effort among manufacturers. With these facts in view, the proprietor of this patent has, this season, perfected and brought into the market, a Stove that proves to be THE Parlor Cook wanted. The demand for this Stove exceeds the supply, and all who desire the handsomest and best Stove in the market, are invited to examine the "Sunny Side" of the picture here so imperfectly portrayed.

LETTER FROM MR. SUMNER.

To the Editors of the Boston Post:

Sirs—In your paper of yesterday, you are pleased to say, "When Charles Sumner was at the South he was as silky as possible upon the subject of slavery," and you then proceed in confirmation of your own words, to quote an article from a Louisville paper, to this effect:

"At Lexington he first became acquainted with slavery, and such an effect did its "horrors" have upon him, that he could not resist acknowledging to gentlemen of our acquaintance how egregiously he had heretofore been mistaken. It happened, fortunately, that he passed the Sabbath in Lexington, and attended the African Baptist Church The sight of so many well dressed and well behaved slaves opened his eyes.

When he saw that they worshipped without surveillance, and, when he studied their demeanor and countenances, all indicative of perfect happiness and contentment, he could but confess that his previous belief concerning slavery had been based upon information wholly incorrect. * * * In our city (Louisville) Mr Sumner received the hospitable attention of several of our citizens. * * *While here his expressions concerning slavery were in terms of agreeable surprise at the state of affairs."

Now, Sirs, to this detailed statement I desire to make a denial, both general and particular. I deny it as a whole and deny it in all its detail.

Never anywhere in the slave States, or out of them, in public or in private, have I expressed opinions on slavery inconsistent with those I have uttered from my seat in the Senate or at home in Massachusetts.

I did not pass the Sabbath in Lexington; I never attended the African Baptist Church there; I never saw its "well dressed and well behaved slaves"—"worshipping without molestation or surveillance;" I never "studied their demeanor and countenances, all indicative of perfect happiness and content;" and I never made any confession that "my previous belief concerning slavery had been based on information wholly incorrect." This whole story is as baseless as a dream.

It is true that I was at Lexington; but I saw nothing there calculated to mitigate my previous aversion to slavery; nor did I ever acknowledge to anybody that I had been mistaken "egregiously," or otherwise.

It is true also that I was at Louisville for a single day, cheered by pleasant hospitality; but I had no occasion to express any opinions on slavery. If I manifested an "agreeable surprise" at anything, it was at the thoroughbred cattle, the woodlawn pastures and the blue grass, the pride of Kentucky. There was a "surprise" of a different character which I could not fail to manifest, at another place, when I witnessed the disgusting sale of human beings on the steps of a court house; and the honorable Kentuckian who was with me cannot have forgotten the pain and indignation which I was unable to repress.

It is not my habit to notice assaults on my opinions or public course, but I am unwilling that gross misstatements of facts, like those you have circulated, should pass without a point-blank contradiction.

I am, sirs, your obedient servant,
CHARLES SUMNER.

HEALTH AMONG THE QUAKERS.—It is stated in the Friends' Intelligencer, from statistics recently published in England, whilst the average duration of human life is estimated at 33 years, among the Friends there is an average of 51 years. Eighteen years thus added to the average of human life, is a fact too remarkable not to challenge medical attention, and lead us to a close investigation of the laws of life.

Charles Higgins, 14 years of age, in Alton, Ohio, went into the garden for the purpose of shooting a chicken, and not seeing any, fired at random; the ball struck his mother who was behind a bush, killing her instantly.

Several feeders from Southern and Middle Ohio and Indiana tell us that they have abundance of cattle in those regions, but they have so much surplus hay and corn, that they must keep their stock at home to consume these products, and next spring they will send us "any quantity" of splendid fat beeves, provided the railroads do not keep on raising their prices. A drove of 100 beeves, that could come from Cincinnati to this city, by railroad, for $700, a few weeks since, is now charged about $1300. These increased charges may be absolutely necessary for the railroads; if not necessary, they are bad policy—for they will materially decrease the business, since they absorb nearly the whole difference between the price here and at the west. A number of western owners of cattle informed us to-day, that they should kill and pack their remaining stock, now ready for market, and ship the beef to New Orleans, or sell in the home markets. A little better market here will probably change this resolution.—N. Y. Times, 15th.

FOWL BUSINESS.—Late on Saturday night as Mr. George Weare was on his way to his home, at the Point in Charlestown, he was stopped by two men, who wanted to fight him. Mr. Weare placed his turkey upon the ground and prepared to defend himself. While he was looking after one of his opponents, the other seized Mr. Weare's turkey, and made his escape. The other also suddenly decamped, leaving Mr. Weare minus his Sunday dinner.

YALE COLLEGE.—The catalogue of Yale College recently published, contains the names of 473 under-graduates and 146 professional students, a total of 619. They are classed as follows: seniors, 97; juniors, 111; sophmores, 111; freshmen, 154; Students of theology, 25; of law, 26; of medicine, 32; of philosophy and arts, 63.

EXTREMES DECLINING.

The Boston Courier has a correspondent who says:

More than enough in virtue's self is bad;
Just's then unjust; the wise man grows the mad.

Mr Garrison cannot consent to deliver one of the lectures of the course on slavery, for two reasons;—first, because Lord Brougham and Daniel O'Connell said that "slavery is a heinous sin, not a debatable question;" and next, because Southern slaveholders have been invited, 'in good faith,' to deliver three or four of the lectures of the same course. The Liberator of last week contains Mr Garrison's reply to the Lecture Committee, and we should think that in point of choice words and eloquent periods it is a production of no small merit—superior even to that which the fighting gentleman of "Only, near Accomac," wrote to the same committee a short time ago, also declining to deliver one of the lectures, not because of the invitation extended to Southern slaveholders, but because the "whole thing is an Abolition affair."

With Mr Garrison slavery is a heinous sin—therefore he will not lecture, because somebody else believes it isn't.

With Mr Wise, freedom, even freedom of speech, is the heinous sin—therefore he will not lecture where men dare to discuss the propriety of the blessed institution of slavery.

Nevertheless, the great body of the American people will and must debate, not merely the question, but subject of slavery. Not only so, they must meet and fight the thing itself, which is so restless that it must commit murder or suicide. It must destroy liberty, as the rust eats out iron, or it must be itself destroyed, like the same rust, by blows, or fire, or friction. We prefer the latter, moral suasion, well rubbed in.

MAINE THANKSGIVING.—Our friends in Maine, keep this day as the annual State Thanksgiving,—and we have no personal objection to celebrating, as do the officers and workmen on the Navy Yard, both the Maine thanksgiving to-day, and the New Hampshire thanksgiving next Thursday.

The year of abundance, the year of general health, the year of reasonable prosperity, are blessings worthy of acknowledgement by us as men—and the means of knowledge, liberty and happiness, with the hope of immortality and eternal life, call loudly for our gratitude as christians, on this, the only christian festival we have by civic ordinance.

NEW HAMPSHIRE POLITICS.

CONCORD, Nov. 20.—The Acceptance of Mr Wells.—Mr Wells, the Democratic candidate for Governor, accepts the nomination, and says:—"If elected, I will endeavor, in all constitutional ways, to restrain bigotry, intolerance, persecution and fanaticism within harmless limits. Every law which will ensure the maintenance of order, the promotion of temperance, the free enjoyment of religious and political opinions, the furtherance of education, the security of personal rights, the stability and independence of the judiciary, and the enforcement of constitutional obligations, I will sanction and approve. But such laws as tend to promote disorder, to abridge the freedom of opinion, to limit or embarrass the enjoyment of political privileges, to violate personal rights, to impose burdens upon one class of citizens on account of their birthplace or religion, which are not imposed upon other classes, to increase intemperance under the pretence of reform, or to render the judiciary of our State dependent upon the rise or fall of parties, I will oppose." He further says—"I have examined the resolutions adopted by the Convention, and shall give them my cordial support. They clearly and ably present the fundamental principles and distinctive characteristics of the Democratic party, and will, in my judgment, commend themselves to the good sense and patriotism of the people of this State."

TOO FAST.—The Boston Chronicle, in an able article, says, "Now when public opinion has been pronounced most decisively against all coercive legislation, we may look, &c." When and where has the verdict been pronounced against all coercive legislation? We had the idea that our whole penal code, and much of our civil law so called, were considerably coercive. Is all this put under the ban? Are we to dispense with the sheriff and constable, and all be one happy family?

If we may look for all this, won't somebody be good enough to name the time?

JUDGE KANE'S ARREST.—The Pennsylvanian seems considerably alarmed about the possible result of Passmore Williamson's action against Judge Kane for false imprisonment, as well it may; and attempts to prepare the way for the Judge declining trial in Delaware county, and selecting some Court that is more likely to accord with his and the Pennsylvanian's views of constitutional law. If the Pennsylvanian fears that popular sympathy will be with Mr Williamson rather than with Judge Kane, we think its fears are well grounded. Nor can we think that Judge Kane feels entire confidence in the result of the trial, for had he been satisfied with his action in committing Mr Williamson, he would hardly have discharged him without something more than the semblance of submission. —N Y Com. Advertiser.

Evangelical religion in Holland is at a low ebb. Rationalism is dominant in the government, in the pulpit, and in the Universities, and the prospects are disheartening to the friends of practical piety.—Exchange.

PORTSMOUTH FLOUR COMPANY.

The above business is closed, as it regards the Company. A brief history of the affair seems called for by some outside circumstances.

A subscription paper was drawn up by a clergyman, and passed round, containing, among other statements, the following: "The unprecedented high price of Flour originates not in the scarcity of the article, but in the sordid meanness of speculators; therefore we, &c." The paper also "provided that said flour shall not exceed eight dollars per barrel, which shall be paid in advance as the funds for the purchase of the flour." This paper was numerously signed, but no cash paid, at the time.

A meeting of subscribers was held early in October, when five directors were chosen; they appointed a chairman and treasurer, and voted that no one should subscribe for more than twelve barrels, and that no flour speculator should subscribe for any.

The directors held a meeting and found it impossible to purchase good flour at $8 per barrel, and were about giving up the matter. One director then resigned, and Mr F. W. Rogers was placed in his stead; and whatever thanks are due for the flour are due to him. The directors, in consultation with him, concluded to receive subscriptions of eight dollars per barrel, with an obligation from each that they would pay the balance of cost and charges on delivery of the article. The treasurer received subscriptions on these terms, and gave receipts accordingly, which receipts constituted the owner a member and entitled him to the number of barrels set forth in the receipt. About 200 barrels at this time (about the 20th of October,) were subscribed for. This did not look very promising towards sending an agent to Chicago to procure the flour, at an expense of perhaps $150; the season was fast advancing to close the water communication; and the directors then thought best that Mr Rogers should go to Boston and make all necessary enquiries by telegraph or otherwise, but not to purchase. He accordingly went to Boston on the 23d of October, and found no information of value, but purchased, on his own account, 302 barrels then in transitu toward Boston, for $9.75 per barrel delivered at Portsmouth. While he was absent the number of barrels wanted increased to 300. Mr Rogers brought a sample of the flour with him, and offered the 302 barrels to the directors at the same price. The directors bought the flour of him, and he agreed to attend the reception and distributing of the same at ten cents per barrel, leaving two cents per barrel, (including the 100 bought after,) for other expenses amounting to $8.00: which was done faithfully by Mr Rogers. The flour proved good, and was distributed by the first of November. No one took over five barrels; the average was about 1 1-2 barrels to each member. There were members in Beverly, Durham, Newington, Newcastle, Eliot, Kittery and Portsmouth. Male and female, rich and poor, almost all wanted flour at the lowest price and of the first quality. Some, (the most difficult,) using from 10 to 12 barrels annually. Some were vexed that they could not be admitted, being too late. Some required their money back; of these one gave as a reason that all projects failed in Portsmouth; and another because he thought he was contributing to make flour cheaper for his neighbors who were worth more than he was; another still, that he would buy his flour where it was warranted. All had their money returned; but a number of other subscribers wanted to pay a higher price for their flour, and Mr Rogers received more subscribers and purchased for them a higher priced article. This caused some extra trouble, in fact to two of the managers it was a heap of trouble: but they lived through it all, except the treasurer, who is unrighteously drawn into a law suit by a flour dealer, who, moved by envy, set a trap for that purpose; the trap sprung, but whether he is on the outside or inside of the trap, law and time will show, his property being attached for the purpose of extra annoyance and injury of his credit and derangement of his business.

No bonds were required of any one; the treasurer had at one time about $2800 on hand, which was received from hundreds of persons and paid over for the flour. The bills for the flour bought in Boston were paid by Mr Rogers, and his bill for the same was presented to the treasurer and paid. Thus ends the first flour union project (except the above suit,) and probably the last for this place.

THE TREASURER.

ENGINE HOSE.—We noticed a day or two since, a wagon-load of leathern hose, from Mr. Larrabee's saddlery establishment, in this city, bound for the Navy Yard. It was of excellent quality, and of course readily approved by the U S authorities there. We are informed that the order was for 500 feet, and amounted to about $400. Mr. Larrabee makes Hose as good as his Harnesses and other work, and we are glad our city authorities have given him a good order for Hose for Engines No. 2 and 4. Encourage your own. See his advertisement.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 21.

The jury, in the case of the State vs Shilling and others, for assault on Jeremiah Carter of Kingston, brought in a verdict of not guilty. The respondents were of course discharged. If Carter, who was complainant, victim and witness in the case, had been a man in whom the jury could place implicit confidence, his testimony would have condemned all the prisoners. But unfortunately for him, his own offences were marshalled against him, ruining at once his testimony and his cause.

The other jury also brought in a verdict of not guilty in the case of Andrew Merrill for assault on Nancy Dow.

The next case in order for trial was State vs Lyman Prescott and Oliver B. Hobbs of Epping for an assault upon Lorenzo Colby. The evidence put in by the state was substantially that Prescott left his wagon in Colby's shop to be repaired; that Colby repaired the same and charged therefor the sum of $9, and when Prescott called to take it away Colby refused to deliver the same unless the bill for repairs was paid. Hereupon Prescott went away, but soon returned with Hobbs, and demanded the wagon, while again being refused, the defendants by force seized, and the assault complained of was committed at this time.—The defence set up was that the respondents, Prescott and Colby, had previously made an agreement in relation to the repairing of said wagon; that the former sold a horse to Colby who was to pay $20 for the same and repair the wagon, and hence the respondent had a right to take the same way, and that no more force was used than necessary to effect this object.

The case was submitted to the jury in the afternoon. Hatch for State—Bell for Defts.

A motion has been made to dismiss the case State vs. Wm. D. Perkins, for an aggravated assault upon one Newton, on the ground that no certified copies of the case have been put on file by the Police Court.

No. 30, Tappan vs. Tappan and als. was resumed this afternoon, and is now on trial.

POLICE COURT, Monday, Nov. 16.—Before Justice Odell.—In the case State vs 8 gallons N. E. Rum and 8 gallons Brandy, and the vessels containing the same—it appears not proved that said liquor was kept or deposited with intent to sell—and it is ordered to be returned to Edward Goodrich.

Jonathan Miller was convicted of assault and battery on Charles Choate, fined $1 and $3 82 costs, and bound in $20 to keep the peace. Appealed and gave bonds.

A complaint, on a disclosure, was entered against Susan Chase, for selling a glass of liquor; she plead not guilty; the complainant did not appear, the case was continued, and an attachment for contempt was issued against the complainant as a witness.

THE SABBATH EVENING LECTURES.—These Lectures are to be opened next Sunday evening by Rev. Dr. Cleaveland, of Lowell, (who has also been engaged by the Mercantile Association for one evening in their course) The Young Men's Christian Association, which has taken the enterprise in hand, according to the announcement of its last annual report, has been aided, in supplying lecturers from abroad, by the clergymen of this city, and has furnished to all that desire it, an opportunity for attending, on Sabbath evenings, lectures which will be not only appropriate, but instructive and intcresting. The lecturers being selected from among the first class of clergymen in the various denominations, the course will be worthy the patronage of the lecture-attending community. The course consists of eight lectures, and the tickets are consequently but fifty cents. Evening tickets are not contemplated; indeed, the price would be so slightly less than that of season tickets, that a demand for them is not anticipated.

As the enterprise is a new one in Portsmouth, and upon the success of it depends the attempt of like courses for future seasons, it is to be hoped that it will be generously sustained.

Ex-Governor Baker has sold his house at Concord, and is disposing of most of his personal property, with a view of going to the "Far West," the first of next month, to take up a permanent residence. What part of that indefinite region he has selected for his home, we cannot say, but rumor has it, Nebraska.

A score or two of what is called "prominent men" could be spared from the State and not missed half as much as N. B. Baker.—Manchester Mirror.

If we were only half as lenient to the living as we are to the dead, how much happier we might render them, and from how much vain and bitter remorse might we be spared, when the grave, the "all-atoning grave," has closed over them!

The ministry is a noble profession, and rich in interest to him who loves it—to him who does not, it is a life of drudgery.

SECOND CROP OF APPLES.—Two ripe apples, of the early June variety, of the second crop for this year, have been exhibited to the editor of the Freeman's Journal, published in Grant county, Indiana. These apples grew in the orchard of Elijah Lucas, near Jonesborough, in that county.

SNOW SHOES ALREADY IN REQUISITION.—At Ontonagan, on the border of Lake Superior, the snow, week before last, was twenty inches deep, and a gentleman who rode from Eagle Harbor to Eagle River, fifteen miles, found it eighteen inches deep upon an average the whole distance.—Rochester, N. Y., Tribune Nov 17.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people,—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

ONE DAY LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRITAL OF THE NORTH STAR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The North Star arrived this morning, and brings the second edition of the London Times of Saturday, the 3d, and 117 passengers.

There is no additional news of importance from Europe.

The London Times contains the letters from China received by the overland mail. A large and heavily armed piratical fleet had been destroyed to the northward of Shanghae by the British war brig Bittern. Nineteen vessels were destroyed.

Canton was quiet, imports improving, and holders of goods looking for higher prices. Three crops of new congous had arrived, for which exorbitant prices were asked. The crop of Canton silk was very short, and all taken at high prices.

At Shanghae the import market had also improved, and shirtings taken at advanced rates. Considerable business had been done in raw silks at enhanced prices. Congou teas had advanced.

Dates from Foo Choo are to the 27th of August. A proclamation announces that after the 13th of September a duty of six mace per picul will be levied on all teas grown in the provinces, or brought to Foo Cheo for sale. Prices show a decline. During the month four vessels had sailed for America.

Amoy advices are to Sept. 3. Cotton and cotton yarn improving in prices with a fair demand.

We have Hong Kong dates to Sept. 15.—Freights had declined, and the passenger traffic to Australia and California was almost annihilated in consequence of the restrictive measures adopted there against Chinese immigration.

The U. S. steamer Powhattan and sloop Vandalia were at Hong Kong, and the Macedonian at Shanghae.

EXPLOSION AT NEW YORK—A Percussion Factory Blown Up.—A number of German workmen employed in the percussion cap factory of Dr. Goldsmark, were, on Tuesday evening, firing at a target placed in the rear of the building, when a bullet from one of their muskets passed through the wall into a barrel of percussion powder, causing a tremendous explosion. The factory, which was a wooden building, 20 by 80 feet, and a story and a half in height, was blown into fragments. One of the workmen was severely injured. Several buildings in the immediate vicinity were damaged by the explosion.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The trial of Judge Stuart was closed at a late hour last night by a verdict of not guilty. After the rendition of the verdict, the jury handed to the court a paper, declaring their unanimous opinion that the Judge had been guilty of irregularity in the discharge of his duties, and recommended that he should resign. This the Judge refused to do.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The President's Message.—According to present determination no copies of the President's message will be sent out for the newspapers, as heretofore, in advance of its delivery to Congress.

United States Senator Re elected.—A despatch from Montgomery, Ala., announces the re election of Mr Fitzpatrick to the U S Senate on the first ballot. The vote stood—Fitzpatrick, 70; Luke Pryor, 45.

EXTRAORDINARY SURGERY.—Dr. E. P. Fearing, of Nantucket, publishes in the Inquirer an account of a curious case. In July last, Jane James, aged 44, came under his care. Soon after he discovered a needle or pin near the pit of the stomach, lying deep-seated, flatwise. He cut down and removed a perfect needle. Since that time he has frequently removed needles—eight the greatest number in one day. The whole number removed amounts to sixty-two needles and a pin, supposed to be a breastpin, with the head wanting. Probably quite a number remain to be removed. They have been found in a scattered condition, in the region of the stomach, abdomen and left side. As the needles have been removed, her sufferings have diminished. She swallowed the needles about twelve years ago, when in a state of insanity, although she has no recollection of doing so.

CORRECTION.—Our statement, yesterday, of the decision of Judge Morris, as being to the effect "that before any search or seizure can be made, the complaint and warrant must fully describe not only the liquors and casks containing them, but also any marks, &c., which may be upon them," is incorrect. The cases in question were quashed by reason of the liquors and casks, &c., containing them, not being sufficiently designated to comply with the provisions of the statute. This is very far from rendering nugatory any portion of the law.—Worcester Spy, Nov. 17.

MORMON-OSITY.—We have received our files of the Desert News down to and including September 26th. Governor Young is a coarse, vulgar man by his own showing, and his great influence over the people is a more profound mystery than was that of his more talented predecessor, Jo Smith. The difference between the two seems to be mainly in this—while Smith used his religion as a piece of mechanism, for the advancement of his enormous business and money-making schemes, Young uses the same agency to forward his scheme of sensuality. Jo embraced the "world," Brigham embraces the "flesh and the devil."

The ladies of Utah have adopted a new costume, which seems to be gradually increasing in favor. It consists of a loose fitting dress, resembling in cut, a man's sack coat, being buttoned in front, and reaching a few inches below the knees, a pair of pantalets adorning the ancles, and a Leghorn hat set jaunttily on the head, being in fact a modification of the Bloomer costume. The ladies are thus relieved of a superabundant load of petticoats; and their husbands are freed from paying for more than two-thirds the usual quantity of dry goods.—Cleveland Herald.

INTERMARRIAGES.—Block Island is so isolated from the rest of the world, that the intermarriages of those more or less nearly related by blood are more common than elsewhere. The consequences have been very unfavorable in the physical condition of the inhabitants. The Providence Journal mentions the death, at that place, of Mrs. Nancy Dodge, wife of John F. Dodge, leaving three deaf and dumb sons. A great proportion of the inmates of the asylums for the deaf and dumb, the blind and the idiotic, are found to be the product of the intermarriage of cousins.

☞ A FOOLISH "WISE."—There are a great many men in the world who belie their names. We have known Mr Fatman to be as scraggy as a piece of Jersey mutton, and we have seen a giant in Mr Small. The present Governor of Virginia is in the same category. Henry A. Wise has caught the letter-writing mania, and is very effectually cutting his political throat with a goose quill. He announces himself as prepared for the Presidency, if the country is.

DR. J. W. POLAND'S

HEADACHE KILLER!

PREPARED BY
DR. J. W. POLAND
Goffstown Centre, N. H.

THIS Wonderful Medicine for the Sick and Nervous HEADACHE, as well as for The Dolorous, Neuralgic and all forms of Nervous Diseases, after an impartial trial of more than six years, has established its reputation as a Standard Remedy. Other Headache Remedies have "waxed and waned" since this was introduced to the public, but the genuine DR. POLAND'S HEADACHE KILLER has been, and is now increasing in sales every month.

Within three months, more than seven tons in weight of the Headache Killer have been sent over the Railroads to all sections of the country.

Please to read the Circular, which the Agents have, and you will get the history of the Medicine.

☞ Price Fifty cents a Bottle.

For sale by Wm. R. Preston, J. H. Thacher, D. Kimball and E. Hutchings, Portsmouth; C. A. Merrill, Exeter; J. H. Pendergast, New Market; Palmer & Brewster, Dover; J. Mason, Hampton; and by Medicine dealers everywhere. 2aw(eo)2)

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXIR a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal. It is purely Vegetable, containing no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine; let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the bottle, without which none will be genuine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S

Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me. was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skilful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of our citizens in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "A beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs attained. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impart its virtues, as is nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.

To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "Dr. BURLEIGH SMART'S COUGH MEDICINE, SHAW & CLARK, BIDDEFORD, ME., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of ash enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

Sunny Side Parlor Cook.

TO obtain a PARLOR OVEN STOVE, that would combine the two qualities of a truly good and ornamental Stove, and at the same time could be relied upon to bake and boil when required,—from the demand for and the convenience of such a desideratum,—has been the cause of much and continued effort among manufacturers. With these facts in view, the proprietor of this patent has, this season, perfected and brought into the market, a Stove that proves to be THE Parlor Cook wanted. The demand for this Stove exceeds the supply, and all who desire the handsomest and best Stove in the market, are invited to examine the "Sunny Side" of the picture here so imperfectly portrayed.

RELIGIOUS ANIMOSITY IN PERU.

PANAMA, Saturday, Nov. 3, 1855.

By the last mail I was enabled to give you a hurried summary of the South Pacific news up to Oct. 1 from Valparaiso, and to Oct. 11 from Callao and Lima. I mentioned that considerable excitement existed at Lima on account of the defeat in the Convention of the Religious Toleration Bill, and that four priests had attempted to assassinate the Deputy Mature for the reason that he had advocated the passage of the measure. From gentlemen who came on the British steamer, I learn that but little idea could be got from the Lima papers of the bitter feeling that existed in the capital between the high and low Romanists. While the question was under debate, an irruption of the emissaries of the priesthood was made into the halls of the Convention, and the Liberal members were not only hooted at and hissed by the populace in their places, but were pelted with rotten oranges, bananas and cigar stumps. From some reason which I do not particularly understand, unless it is that they comprise the most intelligent members of the community, the Free Masons of Peru, and especially those of Lima, find themselves arrayed on the side of religious liberty, while of course all the hosts of priests are antagonistic to it. As the Masons are also wealthy, as a general thing, as well as intelligent, the question is not by any means to be considered as being set at rest by the action of the Convention. While I was at Lima, five months since, the Masons were supporting a weekly publication, edited with much talent, entitled the "Catolico Christiano," and such severe thrusts were made through its columns at the priesthood, that the church obtained an edict against its further publication. Of course this action did not tend in any degree to allay the opposition to religious intolerance, and I am of the opinion that the Romanists will yet force the Liberals to deal a blow at the Church from which it will not easily recover, but which may drench the country in blood. When the question was first agitated in the Convention, a memorial came from Arequipa, in the South, the fighting portion of the country, signed by 10,000 persons, who declared that they would not recognize any Constitution which should tolerate religious liberty. My informant, also, represents the state of the whole country as being very bad.—Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times.

SUGAR CANE RAISED IN DORCHESTER.—We have on our desk a portion of a sugar cane stalk, grown in suburban Dorchester, on the ground of a well known citizen, Benjamin Hemmenway, Esq. The stalk grew twelve feet high, and is an inch in diameter near the root. It is full of sap of a delicious sweetness. It was planted in May last, the seed having come from China. It was cultivated in the same manner as corn. From this sample, raised with no particular effort, nor favored with any specially favorable locality, the question arises—and it is an important and interesting one—can sugar cane be raised in our climate and region? If it can, as this sample would seem to show, can it be raised with profit? The subject is assuredly worthy the attention of agriculturalists. A neighbor of Mr. Hemmenway also has several stalks growing. Mr H. states to us that he has some few seeds on hand which are at the disposal of those who may wish to experiment. —Boston Bee.

BEARDS IN THE PULPIT.—Rev. Charles Beecher lately preached in one of the churches in Lawrence, and wore, what is quite unusual in the pulpit, a moustache and long beard. Mr. Beecher's appearance struck the good people who listened to him, as somewhat odd, but, in this matter of wearing a moustache he has the example of the clergy of two or three hundred years ago. Bunyan, Knox, South, Fuller and others, also wore the beard quite long.—Boston Portfolio.

SAD.—The Manchester Mirror of Monday evening says:—

A very sad and fatal accident occurred in the Stark Mills last Saturday afternoon in one of the rooms, the facts of which are studiously kept from the public by Irish families interested, for fear wrong may be suspected, and a girl intending no harm may be arrested for taking the life of another.

An Irish girl by the name of Mary Haley, and another Irish girl about the same age, started, in sport, to see which could reach a bobbin box first, a little ways distant. Mary got ahead, and was about to reach it first, and the other girl gave her a push, throwing her hard upon the corner of the box, and fell upon her, hurting her seriously, and fatally. However, Mary did not apprehend any serious accident, and continued her work till the gates shut down. On her way home she felt faint, and unable to walk, and spoke to a gentleman passing, told him she was dying, and asked him to carry her home. He looked at her and laughed, thinking no danger, and passed on. Soon after another person, whom she knew, came along and carried her to her home on Concord street. She insisted that she would not live, and a physician was sent for. He said she could not live two hours, and she did not. She insisted that the girl who had caused the accident, should not be punished, as it was not intentional. She was buried yesterday.

A clergyman who recently visited Malaga, Madrid, Seville and Cadiz, to ascertain whether copies of the Bible may be freely introduced there, reports that he found a general desire to possess the Scriptures, and great facilities for distributing them.

Doing God's will is food to a healthy soul.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1855.

A NEW MAINE LIQUOR LAW.

The Portland Advertiser states that Judge Wells, the Democratic and Liberal candidate for Governor of Maine, has nearly completed the draft of a new liquor law to be submitted to the approaching Legislature. It is understood to contain all the principles of the old license laws—the sale, by licensed persons, of not less than a certain quantity—the liquor not to be drunk on the premises—distillation for medical and mechanical purposes to be allowed, &c.

The Portland Argus of Nov. 17, says:

All our systems of legislation up to this time, have, to a greater or less extent, embraced both principles, of license and prohibition. The traffic has been both permitted and prohibited on certain conditions, by each successive law. One of the most important questions which will present themselves to the legislature, in framing a new law, will be, to fix the proper limit within which the traffic shall be permitted, and beyond which it shall be prohibited. The first law (that of 1787) prohibited the sale of liquors, except by persons "duly licensed by the Justices of the Peace in General session assembled," which Court could only license so many "persons of sober life and conversation" as they should "deem necessary for the public good." The last law gave no discretionary power, but permitted the sale by only one person in each town, and trammeled it with restrictions, troublesome, and often impossible to comply with, and of no possible practical advantage.

We trust the Legislature will examine this question as to the proper limit of the two principles, with the care which its importance demands, in the light of all the wisdom and experience that can be brought to bear upon it—not for a moment losing sight of the fact, that the promotion of temperance is a now temperate community, is the object to be aimed at in making the law, &c.

Reader! please to look back over this extract, and remember that it is editorial in the Argus. In spite of all the evil that the Maine Law and its execution or want of execution may have done, the public are pointed to that State to-day, as a temperate community; and told also that temperance may be and ought to be promoted by law.

Now let us say one word to any persons in this State, who suppose law can promote temperance, especially in view of the liquor resolution of the late Convention of the Democratic party here.

This resolution reads thus:

Resolved, That we are in favor of a judicious regulation of the sale of spirituous liquors; but we believe that the law of the last Legislature, miscalled "An act for the suppression of intemperance," to be unconstitutional, illiberal and oppressive in theory, and calculated in practice to aggravate the very evils it was proposed to remedy; we therefore advocate its immediate repeal.

Let us analyze the resolution, taking one item at a time.

1. The present law must be repealed.

Why?

Because in practice it does not suppress intemperance, but increases it—therefore it must be repealed forthwith. But

2. Are we to have free trade in rum?

By no means

Why not? why should not rum be sold as freely as flour, or pork, or apples?

The resolution does not say—and we will wait for more light on that point.

But 3. What are we to have?

The Resolution answers, We are in favor of a judicious regulation of the sale of spirituous liquors.

We have no desire to forestall the makers and advocates of the resolution, and therefore wait for them to say what they intend by it.

But we suppose it means something like the former license laws, especially as Judge Wells and the Argus seem to be tending that way in Maine.

There is an impression on the minds of most young people, and on the minds of some not very young, that, although our modern liquor laws are only obeyed by a portion of the people, and very imperfectly executed,—yet the previous license laws were better obeyed and thoroughly enforced; and that they would be now, were they re-enacted.

The impression is not correct. Between forty and fifty years ago, as any one who will ransack the old Town Records and papers may see, there were a few licenses taken and paid for, in the town of Portsmouth; and at the same time many shops and houses sold without license.

The U. S. license tax of 1815 was levied here on about 250 liquor shops and houses; and from that tax there was no good chance to escape. About a dozen years later, when liquor was sold at 200 places in town, 40 or 50 sellers procured license, for which they paid a trifle,—and the other 150 sold without! There was a law with fines and penalties, regulating the traffic by those who had licenses, but of convictions for any breach of it we never heard, though it was violated every day.

The chief effect of the license was, during the first twenty years of our recollection, to give a sort of legal respectability to the trade of those who had it,—and through them, it gave a sanction to those who had not,—for the public generally neither knew nor cared who was who. Almost every body drank; and why should not any body sell?

Quite as erroneous, in our view, is the idea that a license law, or any law, which should really aim to regulate the sale of drinks, would be easily, thoroughly, and generally enforced at the present time.

On the contrary, nearly all the obstacles, which now so much impede the execution of the present law, would lie equally in the way of any license law which should really restrict the sale; and there would be in addition, at least twice as many chances of escape then as there are now.

It is easy in this country to pass laws which promise much in the way of repressing vice and folly. We abound in them. But their faithful, equitable execution is quite another thing, and much more difficult. We do not infer from this, that there should be no laws touching moral questions. No community in such a world as ours could exist without them.—But we have learned that reformers hope for more good, and destroyers count on more evil, from a change of laws, than either party commonly realize. The moral sense of the community is the real law,—and that needs to be raised above its present level. Probably the statute laws would rise with it.

The Boston Chronicle of Nov. 15, says:

Since the election a great deal has been said about the strength of the Maine Law men in the Legislature just chosen, and which will meet in a few weeks. It strikes us that the real point has not been touched in these remarks, and that it matters very little what the members of the Legislature may think on the subject, provided that public opinion is sound thereon. The liquor law had not its origin in mere party action, and its repeal is not likely to be the work of any party.

Quite true, so far: but is wonderful that such an ado was made to get up a liberal party there, which was not very successful.

COOL.—The English public, and especially the Press, will be much disappointed at the spirit in which the portentous articles of the Times and its coadjutors, were read by the people of this country. Those papers evidently anticipated an echo of their own thunder from belligerent Young America, which should serve to divert attention from their intraction of our Enlistment Act. Instead of that, the fulminations of the Thunderer were received with shouts of ridicule, and a coolness for which we have not always been proverbial. The whole attack and reply may be illustrated by a scene which occurred not long since at an eating saloon in this city. A sporting character, out for a lark, and bearing on his soiled person the evidences of a day's dissipation, stepped up to a quiet person, who was present, and with an evident determination to provoke a row, shook his clenched fist in the gentleman's face, saying, 'Do you see that?' 'I do,' replied the citizen, giving the offending member a very curious glance, 'and I think it would be better for a little soap and water!'

The tone and manner were irresistible—and a general shout from the whole company notified the crest fallen bully that he was making himself ridiculous. John Bull has tried the swaggering game, and his bluster has been received in such a way as to turn the laugh against himself. The fist he has thrust in Jonathan's has been pronounced unclean, and his prologue for a tragedy has been turned by the spectators into the introduction to a farce. —New York Journal of Commerce.

MAMMOTH TELEGRAPH COMPANY.—The New York Herald announces the formation of a Mammoth Telegraph Company, which proposes to lease old lines or build new ones, so as to bring under the control of one concern a net work of wires leading from New York to every prominent business place in the Union. The Company is composed of well known capitalists and business men who have already secured the patent of Hughes' Electric Magnetic Printing Telegraph, for which they have paid between $100,000 and $200,000. They have also leased all the direct lines between New York and Nova Scotia, the management of which they will assume in January, and they propose in the Spring to build new lines to the South and west.

AN IMPROMPTU WEDDING.—The New York Mirror says:—"Some excitement has been occasioned during the week among the parties immediately interested, by the elopement from the New York Hotel of a very young lady, in company with an Episcopal clergyman, to whom she has been married.—The bride is the daughter of a wealthy retired merchant; and her reverend husband is the son of a highly respectable Quaker publisher of this city."

SINGULAR ARITHEMETICAL FACT.—Any number of figures you may wish to multiply by 5 will give the same result if divided by 2, a much quicker operation; but you must remember to annex a cipher to the answer when there is no remainder, and when there is a remainder, whatever it may be, annex a 5 to the answer. Multiply 464 by 5, and the answer will be 2320; divide the same by 2, and you have 232, and as there is no remainder you add a cipher. Now take 357, and multiply by 5, the answer is 1785. On dividing this by 2, there is 178 and a remainder; you therefore place a five at the end of the line, and the result is again 1785.

NOTHING MYSTERIOUS.—One Dr. Drew, who advertised himself as a "mysterious" man, and professed to tell fortunes, and see further into futurity than is given to common mortals, went to Farmington last week from this city, where he purchased some liquor of the Town Agent, for one of his patients, as he said, but got drunk on it himself, was taken up, arraigned before Judge White and sentenced to pay a fine and costs amounting to some $27, and for want of the needful was committed.—Dover Enquirer.

LOCAL.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

THURSDAY, Nov. 22.

In the case State vs. Prescott and Hobbs, the Jury returned a verdict of guilty.

The case Tappan vs. Tappan, occupied the Court through the day, and was given to the Jury at the close of the afternoon session.

MECHANIC'S LYCEUM.—The next lecture before this Association will be on Tuesday next, by Rev. Dr. Rolin H. Neale of Boston. Dr. Neale lectured before the same Association last winter, and gave universal satisfaction as an orator and scholar.

As an additional attraction, the celebrated Pianist, Mr. Satter of Boston, will be present, and perform on the Grand Piano, before and after the lecture. All who listened to Mr. Satter at the opening lecture, two weeks ago, cannot but be pleased at this exhibition of the liberality of the officers, in procuring the highest talent whether in music or literature. To those who did not have the pleasure of hearing Mr. Satter on the previous occasion, we would say that he is the very best Pianist who ever performed in Portsmouth. Under his powerful and nimble fingers the sonorous wires fairly dance for joy, while the people are carried away in an ecstacy of delight.

ROMAN CATHOLIC HATRED TO PROTESTANTISM.—The Boston Pilot of October 31, 1844, has the following paragraph. Let everybody read it:

"We say to all men in the United States, entitled to be naturalized, become citizens while you can—let nothing delay you for an hour—let no hindrance, short of mortal disease, banish you from the ballot box. 'To those who are citizens we say vote your principles, whatever they be—never desert them—do not be wheedled or terrified—but vote quietly, seriously and unobtrusively. Leave to others the noisy warfare of words, let your opinions be proved by your deliberate and determined action. We recommend to you no party; we condemn no candidate but one, and he is Theodore Frelinghuysen. We have nothing to say to him as a Whig—we have nothing to say to Mr Clay, nor to any other Whig, as such—but to the President of the American Board of Foreign Missions, the friend and patron of the Kirks and Coxes, we have much to say. We hate his intolerance—we dislike his associates—and we shudder at the blackness and the bitterness of that school of sectarians to which he belongs, and amongst whom he is regarded as authority."

A PRIEST STEALING THE DEAD.—An interesting trial is now going on in the Superior Court. It is the case of Blakeslee vs. O'Neil, in which the latter—a Romish priest of Waterbury—is charged with trespass, assault and battery, and stealing the dead body of defendant's wife. Messrs. Blackman and Buell appeared for the plaintiff, and R. I. Ingersoll and Kingsbury for defendant.—New Haven Journal.

The people of Valparaiso, on the 18th of September, were edified with the spectacle of the Romish priesthood blessing a lot of new locomotives for a railroad that has just been completed there! Might have been a better plan to bless the engineers, brakemen and conductors.

N. H. STATISTICS.—Number of Attorneys at law 296; Notaries Public 127: Justices of the Peace, Rockingham County 461; Strafford 272; Belknap 229; Carroll 259; Merrimack 492; Hillsborough 482; Cheshire 258; Sullivan 250; Grafton 482; Coos 166—total, in the State, 3361; Clergymen 515; physicians 477; postmasters 365.

We are glad to learn that Dr. B. L. Ball, whose miraculous escape from death at the White Mountains a few weeks since, is familiar to our readers, is recovering. He is at Northboro', the residence of his parents.

Dr. Gilly, well known for his interest in be half of the Waldenses, and the author of Researches amougst the Waldenses, a Life of Felix Neff, and other works, died in Sept. He was an Episcopalian, and was a canon of Dunham Cathedral.

DISHONEST FLOUR SPECULATIONS.—The Montreal Gazette cautions the public against counterfeit flour. It is said that some dealers buy barrels with the best brands, and then fill them up with flour of the worst description, much of which is adulterated.

It is stated that Mr John Middleton, a prominent citizen of San Francisco, has availed himself of the benefit of the insolvent act. In the spring of 1853, he considered himself able to retire with property to the amount of $200,000, after paying his liabilities. During the year 300 persons in that city have availed themselves of the same law.

The case of Col. Middleton is one that receives as well as deserves the sympathy of the entire community. Twice he has made and secured an independent fortune to himself, but in the goodness of his heart his friends have used him up and stripped him.

MURDER AT NEWTOWN, CONN.—We learn that a murder was committed near Hawleysville depot, on Tuesday evening. A man named Michael Mayher, belonging in Bridgewater, was it seems, at the house of John O'Hara, a respectable Irishman. It is stated that Mayher had been drinking, and was in a quarrelsome humor. He attempted to strike a daughter of O'Hara, when the father interfered. Mayher drew a knife and stabbed him near the groin, occasioning death in the course of ten minutes.

Mayher made an attempt to stab the wife of O'Hara, who rushed up at the moment, but did not harm her. There were a number of persons present, but the murderer was allowed to go off and has not yet been arrested.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its beneficence and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Mr. Buchanan, in his despatches to the government, states that the professions of friendship to the United States were never more strongly expressed by the British cabinet than now.

Government having six years ago instituted a suit against Wm. B. Scott, formerly Navy Agent at Washington, to recover an alleged balance on the settlement of his accounts, the jury, this afternoon, in the Circuit Court, rendered a verdict of nearly $18,000 in favor of the government.

HANGING POLITELY.—The following is from the Harrisburg (Pa.) Telegraph:—"The Patriot and Union winds up a very abusive article against ourselves by saying:—'An he played on a harp of a thousand strings—sperets of just men made perfeck.' When Andrew Hopkins gets justice, he will play upon an instrument of one string, with the bridge down."

In New York on Monday last, a chivalrous "greeney" from Virginia was defrauded out of $200 in gold by two sharpers, by means of the patent safe game. When the victim discovered his loss he drew his pistol, aimed it at the rogues, and told them to "surrender or die." They didn't surrender and didn't die, but escaped with their booty.

A FEMALE VOLUNTEER.—Her majesty's steam troopship Simoom, Captain Sullivan, left Spithead on Tuesday, the 30th ult., for Balaklava, with the 1st light infantry of the British German legion. A rather romantic circumstance has attended the departure of these troops. On Monday night one of the privates was discovered to be a woman, and a very fine, handsome, young woman, too, French, the wife of a soldier of the regiment, who is a Swiss. The gallant wife regularly enlisted, and passed muster, it would appear, afterwards. On the discovery of her sex the fact was reported to the colonel, who ordered her to be landed, but she begged so hard, and her appeal was so heartily and generally supported by the comrades of her husband, that she has been allowed to accompany him in her capacity as a soldier, pro tem; as she expressed her determination to fight and die in the same service as her husband.—The enthusiasm of the regiment is universal at this unlooked for episode in the outset of their martial career. So pleased were a number of visitors to the ship, officers and men, with her spirit and prepossessing appearance, that a subscription was speedily raised of upwards of £20 for her. She shouldered her rifle and has performed her military evolutions admirably.

There are five hundred millions more of heathens than of Christians in the world. For this mighty mass, it was recently stated at an anniversary in Berlin, only 1500 missionary stations exist, and only 37 societies have been formed to promote their conversion.

Blake's Patent Fire Proof Paint.

THIS extraordinary substance has now been tested nearly nine years, and its Fire and Water Proof qualities are most extraordinary. Instead of the action of the weather destroying the coat ing as it does ordinary Paints, it only serves to turn it to a perfect Stone or Stone, protecting whatever covered from the action of Fire or Weather.

LEMONS AND ORANGES—For sale by n17 W. SIMES & CO.

SAD EFFECTS OF DRINKING.—The Utica Observer publishes the particulars of a melancholy case of death from excessive drinking which occurred in that city on Thursday night. The victim was Mrs Catherine Sullivan, a wife, and the mother of five children. He purchased a quantity of whiskey at a grocery in the vicinity of her residence and was seen by the neighbors in a condition of intoxication. At night, when the boys went to bed, they left her sitting before the stove with her babe in her arms. They say she sat there quite still, with one eye open and the other shut. The boys fell asleep, but the two eldest awoke soon, got up, and endeavored to get the mother into the bed which they had occupied. They assisted her to the side of it, but could not get her into it; and they therefore laid a pillow and blanket on the floor and laid her down, leaving the babe at her breast. They again went to bed. Again, after twelve o'clock, the oldest boy (eleven years) awoke, went to his mother's side, put his hand on her cheek, and found her cold and dead.

RUM DID IT.—Denson R. Moore, painter near Mount Pleasant, Tenn., being intoxicated, shot at his daughter with a revolver, and then shot his son dead because he interfered. The wretched man then opened the arteries of his arms, but was dragged from his concealment and saved for the gallows. No cause for this deed except liquor.

THE LONDON LEADER AND THE ENGLISH ARISTOCRACY.—At length there is a newspaper in England which distinctly advocates the destruction of the hereditary aristocracy.—"The nation," says the Leader, "dislikes the system—is disgusted with the results, begins to question the principle. It sees a group of feathered field marshals and no generals—high rank and poor abilities. This does not content the public soul. What is the alternative? Reform the aristocracy! The aristocracy varies with the men who, in successive generations, represent it. Place it on a level with other classes? Then it ceases to be an aristocracy. It can never be influenced; it can only be destroyed!"

Old Cromwell was right when he said:—"There never will be a good time in England until England has no lords."

DR. J. W. POLAND'S

HEADACHE KILLER!

PREPARED BY

DR. J. W. POLAND

Goffstown Centre, N. H.

THIS Wonderful Medicine for the Sick and Nervous HEADACHE, as well as for The Dolorous, Neuralgic and all forms of Nervous Diseases, after an impartial trial of more than six years, has established its reputation as a standard Remedy. Other Headache Remedies have waxed and waned* since this was introduced to the public, but the demand for DR. POLAND'S HEADACHE KILLER has been, and is now increasing in sales every month.

Within three months, more than seven tons in weight of the Headache Killer have been sent over the Railroads to fill orders.

Please to read the Circular, which the Agents have, and you will get the history of the Medicine.

☞ Price Fifty cents a Bottle.

For sale by Wm. R. Preston, J. H. Thacher, D. Kimball and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; C. A. Merrill, Exeter; J. H Pendergast, New Market; Palmer & Brewster, Dover; J. Mason, Hampton; and by Medicine dealers everywhere. 2awfinly29

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXIR a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S

Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me. was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and endeavored to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skilful in every branch of the Medical Science, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of our citizens in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "A beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to Cod Liver Preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs attained. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as is usually all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.

To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "Dr. Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine, Shaw & Clark, Biddeford, Me., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of red enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for its cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

Sunny Side Parlor Cook.

TO obtain a PARLOR OVEN STOVE, that would combine the two qualities of a truly good and ornamental Stove, and at the same time could be relied upon to bake and boil when required,—from the demand for and the convenience of such a desideratum,—has been the cause of much and continued effort among manufacturers. With these facts in view, the proprietor of this patent has, this season, perfected and brought into the market, a Stove that proves to be the Parlor Cook wanted. The demand for this Stove exceeds the supply, and all who desire the handsomest and best Stove in the market, are invited to examine the "Sunny Side" of the picture here so imperfectly portrayed.

For the Chronicle.

LIVE THEM DOWN.

Brother, art thou poor and lowly,
Toiling, drudging, day by day,
Journeying, painfully and slowly,
On thy dark and desert way;—
Pause not, though the proud one frown;
Shrink not, fear not—live them down.

Though to vice thou shalt not pander,
Though to virtue thou shalt kneel,
Yet thou shalt not escape slander—
Guile and lie thy soul must feel,
Jest of witling, curse of clown;
Head not either—live them down.

Hate may wield her scourges horrid,
Malice may our woes deride,
Scorn may bind with thorns thy forehead,
Envy's spear may pierce thy side,—
Lo, through Cross shall come the Crown;
Fear not, brother—live them down.

S. W. C.

The Newsboys on the taking of Sebastopol.—Though the newsboys do not appear to be influenced by any political principle in their opinions about the war in the Crimea, they debate the siege of Sebastopol in their own way very often.

'Say,' said Barney, with all the dignity of a captain among them, 'I don't go in for taking Sebastopol; extras wouldn't sell well after, d'ye see. Let the Russians get whipped and what will become of our trade?' 'Well,' said Cigars, 'if Sebastopol is taken we'll have another loss of the Arctic day of it. Oh, wasn't that a time?' 'The last bombarder,' said Fatty, 'gave me three extra plates at the Nassau, and three shillings I paid as I owed. The death of Lord Raglan wasn't worth an oyster pie. The Emperor Nick's was a better affair,' said Fatty. 'Yes, sir,' said Paddy Moore. 'Let me see; the death of the Emperor Nicholas put seventy-six cents in the bank and gave me a new pair of pants as good as second-hand.' 'One battle,' said Yank, lifting up his eyes from his book, 'is better than twenty deaths. Why don't they blow up a ship or fortress. I dunno that we have much in that way at all as we read in the life of Paul Jones here.' 'Well,' said Barney, 'I guess there's no Paul Joneses among 'em.—Give me a look at that, Yank, when you get through with it. I want to see how Paul did those things.' And so the conversation was diverted into another channel.—New York paper.

Badly Broken.—A well known Providence sporting character tried his luck in that city the other day, and found it bad. The bank refused discount for him, and his deposits were exhausted. On turning his back upon the scene of operations, a sympathizing friend said to him, "Tom, are you broke?"—"Yes," said Tom with a sigh, "and so dead broke that if steamboats were selling at a cent apiece, I couldn't buy a gangway plank."

Patents.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.
Agency for business with U'S Patent Office, Washington,
76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.
Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 30 per cent less than others in the profession,) but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents of the highest respectability.
R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1855.

IRISH CATHOLIC GRIEVANCES.

The Boston Pilot of this week contains an article of some length and considerable ability, against the K. N. or American party. It says:

There were several popular prejudices, whereon they could lean for support. 1st. The general dislike evinced by Protestants towards Catholicity, and shown in various ways by almost all Protestants. That dislike is an integral element of Protestantism. Every true Protestant must hate,—not Catholics, necessarily, but Catholicity. Protestants, who happen to be ignorant and vulgar, hate also the Catholics for the sake of Catholicity.

2. The dark-lantern party counted also on the general "Anglo Saxon" dislike of foreigners, particularly Irish foreigners,—Catholic Irish, of course. These were needed for our roads and canals, in years past, and therefore tolerated, though with a bad grace. They always wanted to keep the Irish Catholics at the outskirts of the town, and they persisted in treating them as an inferior race. Nor were they averse to measures kindred to those of the British government, whereby Irish Catholics here, as well as at home, should be compelled to content themselves with an inferior position. Hence, in every town, they told Irish Catholics not to build churches, or, to build them in the remotest parts of the place, away from the civilized quarters,—they told them not to naturalize, not to acquire real estate, not to obtain a stake in the country, and they evinced great uneasiness when Irish Catholics thought it proper to disregard their advice in each and all of these particulars.

They have made a most diabolical use of the Maine Law in almost all the towns of the East. Their plan is to overlook the existence of the worst liquor shops,—those which we would call the worst, so that Irish Catholics might spend in rum the money which would otherwise procure them houses and lands.

These statements, so plausible, and so likely to irritate the Irish reader, are in many particulars erroneous, particularly the last of the three paragraphs. Friends and foes of the liquor law "in almost all the towns of the East," know that no such intentional overlooking of Irish drinking dens has been made—and that there is no considerable class of our people, whether K. N.'s or of any other party who do not deem them a great nuisance.

Nobody profits by those wretched holes except their keepers—and if any great number of them are K. N.'s it is news to us. We disbelieve it; and think it cannot be proved.

That there is a prejudice of race and nation, an aristocracy and a caste of condition, there can be no doubt; and this no human power can wholly remove: but it is less extensive and considerably less bitter than the Pilot makes it in the second paragraph which we copy above. Many of the Pilot's articles tend, in our view, to keep alive and increase this prejudice; and also, in our view to foster in its readers of the Roman church and the Irish blood, exactly such a hatred of Protestants, as the Pilot in the first paragraph describes as dwelling in the bosom of ignorant Protestants against Catholics.

For this hatred we see no good cause: yet it is so common as to seem quite natural. We cannot easily separate, in our minds, a man's person from what he is, nor can we separate what he is from what he does.

If therefore, I laugh at the assumptions of the Roman Church to be the only true church in the world,—and if I condemn her tyranny which she always has built on that assumption, whenever she got power enough,—her adherents, worshippers and apologists must hate my heresies,—and very probably would hate me, and burn me if Queen Saint Mary ruled here;—yet I need not hate them: there need be no hatred at all on either side, and there would be none, but for the monstrous assumptions of infallibility, supremacy and universality, which outrage common sense.—Our common people hoot at them:—and the poor ignorant creatures who swallow them are indignant at such sacrilege. Hence the origin of so much hatred as really exists.

Much of it, we doubt not, will fade away before increasing light.

GODEY FOR DECEMBER.—The December number of this popular periodical is received, from J. P. Morse of this city. The number contains sixty-four articles, over half of which are illustrated by fifty-five well executed wood cuts, and embrace all branches of domestic industry practised by ladies who devote their time and talent to fancy work. The frontispiece is a beautiful steel engraving, entitled a "Reading from a sense of Duty," and is exceedingly natural in its design. Opposite the frontispiece, is a splendid colored lithograph of Paris fashions for Crotchet Purses.

The Furnished House, (concluded,) is a good and well told moral tale. My Story, by an old maid, is also well told, and the reader may imagine the moral for himself.

$3 per year; 25 cts. by number. A new volume begins with the new year.

CATHOLIC PRIEST CASE.—The case of the alleged widow of Charles Smith, the Catholic priest, for the recovery of certain property, is progressing in New York. From the evidence it appears that Smith, at the time of his death, in 1851, resided in Chelsea, in Mass.

CHANGE OF LIGHTS.

Lieut. Franklin, of the Navy, who has charge of the Eastern Light Houses, has been found fault with for changing so many of the lights. In a communication, he gives the special reasons for changes in half a dozen lights,—and then adds the following general reasons, which seem to us to cover the whole ground.

The changes of lights along the coast should be avoided as much as possible. But along the coast of Maine nearly all the lights, until lately, have been of the same character, and wrecks have occurred in consequence of sameness. On this account it was necessary to make changes. The arguments which hold good against changes in lights are equally good in most cases against improvements of any kind in lighthouses. A light which was originally visible only ten miles, and which, by improvements becomes visible twenty miles, shows over a space four times as large as it did previously. It is therefore seen by vessels which would not have seen the old one, and might mislead them. But no one will argue that on this account the lights should not be made better, if it is possible to improve them, for after the fact that the improvement has been made becomes generally known, every mariner will expect to make the light at a greater distance than he did when the old light was in existence.

So it is with changes. They always give dissatisfaction at first, whether judiciously made or not. But after they become generally known, the character of the light is fixed, and the new light is looked for in its proper place, and with its proper appearance. It is to be hoped that great care will be taken in making these changes, and that due notice of them will be given; but when it is known that of twenty two lights on this coast, east of Manheigan Island, in the year 1852, all were fixed white lights except three, one of which was revolving, and the other two red, any unprejudiced seaman will acknowledge that the time for making some radical change in the arrangement of the lights had fully arrived.

THE "NIGGER" AN INSTITUTION.—The New Orleans Crescent gives the following view of the great propelling power in American politics—that mighty force, which, if it does nothing else, is of immense importance as an agent to keep society from stagnation:

"The 'nigger' is a great, in fact, a stupendous institution. He answers a three fold purpose, and that is more than many white men are capable of. In the first place he sows, hoes, and gathers in a product which clothes a world; which has made Massachusetts rich and saucy—better than her neighbors; which enables England to carry on the war against Russia; which supplies France with the sinews of conflict, and which helps Christian nations to cut each other's throats by furnishing the raw material indispensible to the prosecution of multifarious branches of industry.

"In the second place, the 'nigger' assists the Abolitionists and Anti Americans of the North wonderfully. Without Sambo they would soon languish and die. His odor alone supplies them with vitality.

"In the third place, the 'nigger' is just as useful in the South as in the North. In the North he manufactures bogus Democrats, Abolitionists and Anti Americans. In the South he manufactures Anti American Secessionists, and bogus Democrats. He is equally valuable in both sections of the Union in the furtherance of objects diametrically opposed to each other. Wonderful product is Sambo. Hurra for Africa!"

There is some truth asserted, and much falsehood insinuated, in the above extract. Moreover, we have rarely read anything more heartless and repulsive in its tone.

HOUSEHOLD WORDS.—We have received from the publishers, Messrs. Dix & Edwards, No. 10 Park Place, New York City, the American reprint of Dickens's Household Words for December. The following is the table of contents:

Out of Town; Winifred's Vow; The Light of Other Days; Ghost Music; Model Officials; Italian Village Doctors; Instructive Comparisons; Holiday Quarters; Sportsmanship in Earnest; Peter the Great in England; London Stones; A Dream: Half a Life-time ago—in five chapters; The Calliff Postman; Pierre Erard; A Dash Through the Vines; Barbarous Torture; Yellowknights; The Present; Bound for Brazil; Sunday Music; An Enemy's Charge; An Excursion Train; Another Tight Little Island; The Roving Englishman—From Krajova to London; In Belgium; Truffles; The Beechgrove Family; Nostradamus; Tardy Justice; A City Weed; A Ladies' Warehouse; The Lost Mistress.

Terms—$3 a year, or 25 cents a number—Putnam's Monthly and Household Words $5.

MORE LIQUOR CASES DISMISSED.—In the Municipal Court on Thursday morning, on motion of County Attorney Cooley, 45 indictments against as many persons, "of high and low degree," for violation of the liquor law, were nolle pros'd. It has been impossible thus far to obtain convictions in these cases in this city, through the operation of the law giving juries the right to pass upon constitutionality, &c. Seven cases only remain on the docket for trial, out of 100 which have been before the Court. The evidence in these seven cases is said to be of the strongest possible character, and will probably be submitted to juries hereafter at the discretion of the prosecuting officer.—Boston Transcript.

On Tuesday of last week, James Clark obtained, by false pretences, a horse and buggy, in Greenfield, Ms. On Wednesday Clark was arrested; on Thursday his case was presented to the Grand Jury; on Friday he was arraigned, and pleading guilty, was sentenced to two days solitary confinement and eighteen months hard labor in the State Prison.

DR. BEALE PARDONED.—A dispatch from Philadelphia on the 22d, states that Gov. Pollock has pardoned Dr. Beale, the dentist, and he has been liberated from prison.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

FRIDAY, Nov. 23.

Case No. 31, James Hall vs. P. & C. Railroad, and Daniel Marcy, Andrew H. Jones, Trustees, was put on trial this morning. The action is assumpsit for the recovery of $1985. 84, being the balance due the plff. for services rendered the deft. The case will probably occupy the Court the remainder of the day and Saturday.

Hackett for plff.; Hatch for deft.

SUNDAY EVENING LECTURES.—The course of Sunday evening lectures, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, will commence to-morrow evening, at the Temple. The first lecture is to be delivered by Rev Dr Cleaveland, of Lowell, Mass., well known as an interesting and able speaker.—This course is not intended to be placed in competition with either of the other courses of secular lectures, but will be of a moral and religious character, suited to the day on which they are to be held, and should be fully attended. The price of the tickets is but a trifle, and the net proceeds, if there should be any, will be expended in increasing the library of the Association. Tickets may be purchased to-day at the various places mentioned in their advertisement, and on Sunday evening at the door. Price only 50 cents for the course of eight lectures.

PROBABLE SUICIDE OF A PROMINENT CITIZEN.—Mr Josiah B. Kilbourn, of the firm of French, Wells & Co., crockery dealers, 151 Milk street, Boston, left the Revere House, Wednesday morning, and has not been seen or heard of since. He left a letter behind him, which leads to the belief that he has committed suicide. The letter closes with, "I'm off Cambridge bridge." The supposition is that he drowned himself. We learn that he passed a very troubled, sleepless night on Tuesday, and while in this condition, bordering upon insanity, committed the self-destruction.

Mr Kilbourn was a Director in the Grocers Bank. We do not learn that the bank accounts exhibit any thing wrong on his part, nor that he is personally involved to any considerable extent. The affairs of the business firm are sound and satisfactory. The motive to the suicide, if such has been committed, is involved in mystery. He leaves a wife at the Revere House. The fearful event created no little sensation in the city Thursday evening, the facts having been kept back during the day.—Bee.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 22.—The K. N. National Convention reassembled this morning. The Committee on Resolutions reported a conservative platform, and the ten minutes' rule was adopted. The platform requests that the National Council will expunge the twelfth section, denounces the Kansas act, and claims that no more slave States shall be admitted into the Union.

Mr Allen of Massachusetts offered a resolution, asking the Grand Council to blot out the twelfth section and make a platform, upon which the North and South could both stand, without violence to the principles of the majority of the people in either.

There are two reports for a platform, and lots of amendments. A sharp debate is now going on. The name of George Law has been mentioned here, and considerably discussed in private circles.

Italy.—The correspondent of the London Post, writing from Naples 30th ult., says there is no longer any doubt that a revolutionary movement has broken out in Sicily. Some of the insurgents have been taken and shot. It is difficult to get details. The authorities say the movement is not of a political nature, but is occasioned by cholera and scarcity. This remains to be seen.

Spain.—Unfriendly relations are arising between Great Britain and Spain.

NEW YORK.—The complete vote of the State for Secretary of State is given in the Albany Evening Journal as follows:

Headley, K. N.,	146,001
King, Rep.,	135,962
Hatch, Soft,	90,518
Ward, Hard,	58,394

Headley's plurality, 10,089. In the State outside of the city of New York, King, Republican, has a plurality of 4269.

FATAL CATASTROPHE.—We learn that a man by the name of Gilman, a nephew of Mr Theophilus Gilman, of this city, was suddenly killed at the Durham depot of the Boston & Maine Railroad, on the 19th inst. He was engaged in shackling together some cars on the freight train when he stepped into a culvert, and before he had time to recover himself the wheels of a car loaded with stone passed over him, cutting him in two from the groin to the neck. He had been engaged on the train as brakeman for only a few days, and leaves a wife and one child to mourn his loss. He died almost instantly.—Dover Gaz.

Concert.

THE next Rehearsal for the Concert to be given on the evening of Thanksgivigg Day, will take place in Academy Hall, on MONDAY Evening, Nov 26, at 7½ o'clock. The accompaniments will be the same as at the Concert, viz: two Piano Fortes and a Double Bass Viol.

N. B.—All who intend to take part at the Concert, are requested to attend this rehearsal.

NOTICE.

THE subscriber having sold his STORE, STOCK and TRADE, (possession to be given the first of January,) would most respectfully say to his customers and the public generally that he will continue the business as heretofore until the above time.

All persons indebted to the subscriber are requested to call and settle on or before January 1, as it is his intention to leave the city as soon as his business can be closed.

REMARKABLE INCIDENT.—A correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, under date of Hamburg, Berks County, Pennsylvania, November 20th, gives an account of the death of Mr Jeremiah Jacoby, who was killed while walking upon the track of the Reading railroad. Philip D. Miller, a friend, helped to arrange the corpse and then proceeded to town, where he gave an account of the accident, charging the deceased with carelessness. He was himself killed on the railroad on the same day.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, may almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

ONE WEEK LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, Nov. 22.

The mail steamship Canada, Capt. Stone, from Liverpool on the morning of the 10th inst., arrived here at 1 P. M. to-day.

The steamship Washington, with 120 passengers, sailed from Southampton on Wednesday, the 7th inst. The Washington carried three days later papers, but they contain little news, except a rumor that Russia has accepted the office of mediator between Denmark and the United States.

The War.—The most important feature of the week's news is the effort made by France and England to bring Sweden into an active alliance. Gen. Canrobert is in Stockholm, charged with this mission, and Sweden is required either to assent or refuse.

Peace Rumors.—It is reported from Berlin that the Czar has recently made confidential communication to Prussia and Austria of his wish to renew negotiations, and that M Bourquency, French Ambassador, has returned to Vienna with fresh instructions to meet the contingency of proposals from Russia. It is further said that Prince Gortschakoff, Diplomatists from Vienna, and Russian Ministers from other German Courts, are certainly to meet the Czar at Warsaw in the middle of the month, when the question of the renewal of negotiations will be settled. It is also stated that the Emperor of France is favorable to a renewal of diplomacy.

The Danube.—The Austrian Gazette states authoritatively that a French camp of 50,000 men is being formed at Silistria.

The Crimea.—The armies are engaged in building huts for the winter, with occasional military promenades and exchange of long shots with Cossack pickets.

Letters from Sebastopol say that the Russian projectiles from the north side reach almost every spot of the city. A desultory fire is kept up on both sides. The allies say that the Russians, although keeping up fire, are making preparations for a retreat.

The following is the substance of several official despatches and letters:

"The French will garrison Kinburn, consequently the English returned to Sebastopol Nov. 3. All the Turkish forces for Asia have left Sebastopol."

Gen. Simpson, on Oct. 27, says the weather is magnificent, and the British troops healthy. Exchange of prisoners had arrived from Odessa.

An Anglo-French force from Eupatoria, under Gen. D'Allonville, made a reconnoissance on the 22d, and falling in with a large force of the enemy, offered battle, but the Russians retired, after an exchange of a few rounds of artillery. The allies burned the villages of Schadoffka, Karagurt, Yuzela, and the town of Saki, also many farms and stores along the route, and on the 24th returned to Eupatoria.

Odessa intelligence of Oct. 27 says Gen. Todleben is fast rendering Nicolieff defensible. Below Spasska, where the river is only 600 fathoms broad, gunboats, manned by crews of the former Black Sea fleet, are stationed.—Batteries are being erected on both sides of the river. The inhabitants of Nicolieff and Kherson are informed that the cities may be attacked, and a large proportion have gone into the interior at the government expense.

It is reported that Odessa will be disarmed and the guns sent to Nicolieff.

General Luders with the grenadiers and cavalry is posted between Kinburn and Kherson.

It is confirmed that the Czar and the Duke Constantine witnessed the capture of Kinburn from Otchakoff. The Czar has returned to St. Petersburg direct from Nicolieff without staying at Warsaw.

The squadron off the Buff have towed out two rafts of oak timber worth $100,000. Beyond this nothing has been done except making reconnoissances.

St. Petersburg despatches say that the Russian army in the Crimea has provisions sufficient for eight months.

The Vienna paper Fremden Blatt learns from Prince Gortschakoff's headquarters that the Russian army in the Crimea amounts to 200,000 men.

The grenadier corps mainly had arrived at Simpherpol accompanied by 8000 wagons drawn by oxen. So the army is provided for six months, and Gortschakoff will not expect convoys after November, when the steppes will be covered with snow.

Asia.—Omer Pacha has opened friendly communications with Schamyl. Selim Pacha is to establish himself at Erzeroum with the Turkish Imperial Guard, whence he will threaten the rear of the Russian army, besieging Kars. Omer Pacha commenced his advance on Kutais on the 20th, with 22 battalions. Accounts from Persia mention the departure of the ambassador for St Petersburg.

LATEST.—Rumored Bombardment of Nicolieff.—Vienna, Nov 3d.—Despatches have been received at the Turkish Embassy, stating that the bombardment of Nicolieff commenced on the 29th of October, and was continued the whole of the following day. The result was not then known. It was added that the Emperor Alexander had been induced to leave the place before the bombardment began, but the Duke Constantine would not be prevailed upon to leave the town.

Turkey.—Constantinople, Oct 29.—It is said that the Sultan will visit Paris and London in the spring of next year, having made his intention to that effect known to the Grand Vizier and principal ministers.

Great Britain.—The excitement respecting the war with the United States has quite subsided, and the leading journals are ashamed of the panic they had created, and attempt to excuse it, and let themselves down gently by attributing it to what they call the hostile attitude of the American government to an election ruse on the part of the President or his Cabinet, although it is notorious that the excitement was begun, fostered, and kept alive by the London Times. Anxiety is now manifested to learn how the news of the excitement and the comments of the Times will be received in America. Intelligent Englishmen, of all ranks, express themselves pained and humiliated by the whole affair

The commercial news is in favor of a rise in breadstuffs and cotton, and in the London stock market consols are reported by telegraph at 88 7-8 for money and 89 for account, which is an essential rise.

Holland.—Mr Fillmore has been visiting the King of Holland.

Try it! Try it! Try it!

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—OR—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be relieved from to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dyspepsy, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. Are you afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

DR. J. W. POLAND'S

HEADACHE KILLER!

PREPARED BY

DR. J. W. POLAND

Gorhtown Centre, N. H.

THIS Wonderful Medicine for the Sick and Nervous HEADACHE, as well as for Tic Doloreux, Neuralgia and all forms of Nervous Diseases, after an impartial trial of more than six years, has established its reputation as a Standard Remedy. Other Headache Remedies have "waxed and waned" before this was introduced to the public, but the Genuine DR. POLAND'S HEADACHE KILLER has been, and is now increasing in sales every month.

Within three months, more than seven tons in excess of the Headache Killer have been sent over the Railroads to fill orders for it.

Please to read the Circular, which the Agents have, and you will get the history of the Medicine.

☞ Price Fifty cents a Bottle.

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his Invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for each complaint, to give his ELIXIR a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has acquired a world wide reputation, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine; let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little one.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S

Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me. was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and a high moral character in his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skillful in every branch of the Medical Science, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of our citizens in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "A beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs attained. In compounding it, the greatest care is exercised; every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and, the very instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.

To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S COUGH MEDICINE, SHAW & CLARK, BIDDEFORD, ME., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of red enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

Sunny Side Parlor Cook.

TO obtain a PARLOR OVEN STOVE, that would combine the two qualities of a truly good and ornamental Stove, and at the same time could be relied upon to bake and boil when required,—from the demand for and the convenience of such a desideratum,—has been the cause of much and continued effort among manufacturers. With these facts in view, the proprietor of this patent has, this season, perfected and brought into the market, a Stove that proves to be THE Parlor Cook wanted. The demand for this Stove exceeds the supply, and all who desire the handsomest and best Stove in the market, are invited to examine the "Sunny Side" of the picture here so imperfectly portrayed.

A PARAGON OF A WOMAN.—The Indianapolis Journal gives the following account of a lady residing in Paris, Tennessee. Her example is worthy of imitation, not so much as regarded the extraordinary fecundity she has herself exhibited, as the generous conduct she has manifested toward those not of her own blood. We are sorry that we cannot give her name in full. The matron in question is a Mrs D——, now eighty-seven years old. She had twenty-three living children, and prayed to the good Lord to give one more, to make the round and goodly number of two dozen. Beside these, she has raised fourteen orphan children. She has educated thirty children—her own and a portion of the orphans—and for many years sent nineteen children to school in Paris, and their dinners with them. She says that none of those she had reared and educated had ever disgraced her or themselves. The girls have all married well and are rich. The boys have all done well; and one of her orphan proteges has been in Congress, several others in the State Legislature; there are sundry colonels, &c. among them, and all are highly respectable.—Philadelphia Sun.

HANDEL'S ORATORIO OF SOLOMON.—"Who is that?" said Mrs Partington in a big whisper, at the Music Hall on Sunday night, during the performance of the oratorio of Solomon. "That's Solomon," said the one she addressed, tapping out the time on his thumb with the libretto. "And these in front," said she, pointing to the ladies on the platform, "are some of his seven hundred wives, I suppose, and the men up behind 'em must be the children of Israel. Well, Solomon must have been a wise man to know how to take care of so many wives, but he wasn't any better than he should be, if all stories are true. Ah, what blessed music that is to be sure! How much better than that which folks hears on week-a-days in the play-houses, played on godless fiddles!" She seated herself in an attentive attitude listening to the music, while Ike sat counting the new gas lights round the hall and drumming "Jordan" on the arm of the settee.—Boston Post.

THE HIRSUTE MOVEMENT.—The sophomore class of Yale College held a meeting on Tuesday forenoon, and after various speeches, extolling the hirsute movement, unanimously resolved that no razor should invade their faces; or in plainer language, that not one of them would shave or be shaved until after the next biennial examination, which occurs in the summer term of 1856.

CONVICTED FOR BLASPHEMY.—Mr. Martin Rudolph, who was indicted by the Grand Jury of Waterloo, at the last fall Assizes, for blasphemy in a German newspaper published by him, called the Waage, has just been found guilty and fined in the sum of ten pounds.—Quebec Chronicle, Nov. 14.

Lily Dale.

THIS is a new Cook Stove, invented last year by the makers of the world renowned Bay State Stove, and is intended to meet the wants of all desiring a cheap Stove which will unite beauty with economy. It may be used either with Coal or Wood. The arrangements for using either are very complete. The size of the oven is large for this Stove. It bakes as quick as any Stove in the market, and with an equal heat in every part. No Stove has ever been invented that has come so rapidly into use as the LILY DALE. Thousands of them have been sold within the last year in the New England States and have given perfect satisfaction.

Any person who likes an early breakfast, and wishes to purchase a first rate Stove for a small amount of money, we cordially invite to call at No. 46 Market street, where they will find the greatest variety of Cook, Parlor and Office stoves that can be found in this section of the country—all to be sold at reduced prices for Cash.

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors of the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1855.

PRAYING TO OLD FATHER NOAH.—Yes—positively! It has been a bad time with the vine-growers for the last year or two in many parts of the world. Tuscany, as we learn from a French paper called the Religious Weekly, has been very severely visited in this respect, and the archbishop of Florence has come forward to "combat the pest." But hear the Religious Weekly upon the subject.

Tuscany, like all lands of the vineyard, has experienced for several years much calamity from the vine disease. To combat this pest the archbishop of Florence has composed a collection of eighty-five prayers. In view of the special object of these prayers, they are not addressed to God, but to Noah. "Most holy patriarch Noah," says one of them, among others, "you who were employed during the course of your long life in planting the vine, and in gratifying humanity by the precious liquor which quenches our thirst, nourish and render cheerful all, cast your eyes upon our vines, which, after your example, we have up to this time cultivated, and seeing them languishing and wretched by effect of the devastating pest, which before their ripening destroys the fruits, in severe punishment for so many blasphemies and other enormous sins which we have committed—be moved by compassion toward us, and prostrated before the high throne of God, who has promised his sons the fecundity of the earth and the abundance of corn and the vine, pray to him in our favor; promise to him in our name that, with the assistance of his grace, we shall quit the road of vice and sin, and that we shall scrupulously respect the holy law and that of our holy mother, the Catholic Church.

The ninth prayer is directed to the Virgin: "Address yourself, O Mary, to your well-beloved son, Jesus Christ, in repeating to him, as at the marriage of Cana: 'They have no wine;' and may he who, at your demand worked the wonderful prodigy of changing water into wine, renew this miracle in curing our grapes of the malady which consumes them," etc. The prayer-book is ornamented with a vignette which represents Noah presiding at the operations of the vintage, and contains the archbishop's counsel allowing forty days of indulgence to those who shall devoutly recite the prayers in question.

Considering the indiguities which wine-bibbing brought upon Noah, (says Life Illustrated) he would be one of the last persons to whom we should apply for a blessing on the vine. We should rather be inclined to attribute the blight to his interference,

All comment on Saint Noah in this connexion would be superfluous. The scripture story, as told in the 9th chapter of Genesis, is simply this:

Noah, after the deluge, began to be a husbandman, and planted a vineyard; drank of the wine, was drunken and uncovered in his tent; was seen by Ham, his younger son; and then he cursed, (for no reason that we see in the narrative,) his grandson Canaan.

SCAN. MAG.—The Boston papers for several days past have teemed with items relative to two jealous husbands, named Edward O. Coburn and Frank Dalton, who decoyed to Coburn's house and there flogged two bachelors named Josiah Porter and William Sumner. These bachelors had been very intimate with the wives of the jealous husbands. Porter had received an amatory billet from Mrs Coburn, and Sumner had received a number of the same sort only more so, from Mrs Dalton. The four had often met at Vinton's, had walked and rode in company, &c. &c. The two fast women are sisters, and daughters of Mr John Gove, a well known and wealthy citizen.

Porter is a lawyer, and probably old enough to know better, though still a young man; but Sumner is a boy, as the Times says, between nineteen and twenty years of age, and has attended school until within a short period. He is a cousin to Hon. Chas. Sumner, and his family one of the highest respectability. Like all young men who have spent their time with books, he is quite retiring and modest in his manners, and one to be easily caught by an intriguing and pretty woman. In regard to the character heretofore sustained by the two husbands, we might furnish our readers with proof against Messrs Coburn and Dalton, if a small portion of the evidence afforded us were given. But we need not waste our time or space in relating that which, if known to the world, could not greatly injure reputations already destroyed, and esteemed most vile. Mr Coburn has a father who is well known to many to many of our citizens as a large contractor and builder. He has already suffered much in mind and purse from the bad conduct of his son. Of Mr Dalton we have heard enough to satisfy us that he is an editarer, who allied himself to his present amorous spouse for the sake of obtaining a home, and also having in view the fortune of his father-in-law. At the time of the assault upon Mr Sumner he was boarding with his wife, at No. 40 Summer street, but they have since left this place, having been politely requested so to do.

The husbands are both said to be clerks.

The state of morals, manners and life, exhibited in the story, is deplorable. A couple of young women, idle, dressy, fanciful and void of principle, (wives of husbands no better than themselves,) go out to catch beaux and carry on flirtations, not once nor twice, but many times;—and the young men, not knowing at first that the women are married, keep up their intimacy after they find it out.—A good substantial allowance of hard work, plain fare, and constant employment, would benefit the whole of them.

An idle man (or woman) is the devil's playmate.

DOINGS OF A DIDDLER.

The Boston Chronicle of Nov. 24, tells the following story of a financial operation in the sober and quiet old town of Ipswich, Massachusetts:

Some short time since there arrived in the town mentioned a young and prepossessing young gentleman, who gave his name as Horace D. Bennett, stating that he was engaged in the stove business in Chicago, in company with another young man named Nutter, who was about to be joined in holy bonds with a young lady named ———, an inmate of the very excellent orthodox academy in Ipswich. Bennett stated that the wedding was to come off with great eclat, and that his principal being detained to the last moment by pressing business, had commissioned him as an avant courier, to make arrangements for the happy event which was to transpire in about a week. In the meantime our nice young man, as all the ladies voted him, had ingratiated himself into the esteem of a clothes dealer in the town, and had procured a new wedding suit, the like of which had never before been seen in the place. The day for the wedding having arrived, the church was warmed up, and the clergyman notified to be in readiness, but at the altar no bride or bridegroom appeared. A telegraphic despatch, (exclusive to our friend) however, explained the cause, (urgent business again) and the affair was postponed. No suspicion was aroused, as the young man seemed the soul of probity, and the young lady whose name he used as the to-be bride, was known to have been a scholar in the Ipswich seminary for young ladies.

During this interval, the speculative eyes of the youth were turned to an inviting display of ready-made clothing in the establishment of his friend of the shears, and saying that they would "go off" readily in Chicago, he purchased the lot, and induced the proprietor to buy out the stock of an over-the-way rival and add it to his bill, which, in all, amounted to $470. Large trunks were ordered from Boston, wherein to pack the goods, the obliging expressman paying the bill and expressage, as the great dealer wished to settle in a lump and pay his bills in one grand draft, when all was concluded. This was agreed to. The barber of the place, who had shaved him daily and loaned him $20, the stable keeper, on whose books his name figured opposite a $40 mark, all had the highest confidence in the distinguished stranger—and all was right, of course.

Still, all this while, no happy couple appeared; and the more knowing ones began to think that a rattish effluvia was apparent about their several proboscs. The tailoring man intimated that before his goods departed he should really like to behold something in the shape of the "ready." The expressman had an idea about the trunk investment very similar to that of his friend the tailor. Nothing daunted, our financier drew at once upon J. W. Clark & Co., of Boston, for $500, being a part of a deposit of $2600 which, according to his account, lay with them to his credit.

Mr Choate, the excellent express agent, took charge of the draft, but was somewhat astonished when the banking gentleman denied all knowledge of any such signature as that appended to the paper presented. Back posted the expressman, but on his return his wealthy friend was out, enjoying a drive, and so could not be seen. A letter was, however, left, to which the following answer was returned:

"Mr. Choate—there is something very strange about where my money is I wish you to go to the firm where I sent you and see wether it is there or not the man that Carried It Has told me that He Has not put It there but at A nuther place it seems Like A queer affair to me still all may be Right.

Get my things and I will settle with you and No by the time you Return where my Rights are

Yours in Haste HORACE D BENNETT"

Mr Choate about this time told the affair to another expressman at Portsmouth, who, to his dismay, informed him that the young man in question was probably one Jacob L. Dennett, who had just graduated from the New Hampshire State Prison, as the description of the two exactly tallied. With this startling news all the mercantile community of Ipswich were in a ferment. A meeting of the creditors was held, at which were present the tailor, the barber, the stabler, the boarding-house keeper, and others interested. Their indignation knew no bounds. The youth (who now was a wretch) received their ultimatum—to pay or go before a Justice.

This was a bad view for our young man, and with the idea of obtaining advice, he proceeded to the residence of Hon. Augustus C. Cary, Know-Nothing Senator elect from Essex county, who had become the fast friend of our subject, and, by his advice, he owned up, or "came the honest game," as police officers say. He now said that he was the son of a wealthy gentleman in Montpelier, and that his father would make the matter all right—By Mr Cary's advice the assistance of councillor Fernald was procured in the matter, but this gentleman, receiving as his only retainer a bogus check on Mr Leavitt, mine host of the Mansion House in Salem, with the usual caution of his race declined interfering in the matter, and our whilom groomsman, merchant and moneyed man, was on Thursday last seized by his outraged creditors, and now awaits the dread summons of the law to appear before the Courts, to show cause, if any he has, why he should not again serve the State in one of our peculiar institutions. He was the first diddler that ever operated in Ipswich, and his doings created a furore among the quiet people such as was never before there witnessed. They now, it is said, have their eyes very wide open indeed.

LOCAL.

THE NEWSPAPER.—The New Hampshire Gazette, speaking of newspapers, especially dailies, says:

The main object of the newspaper press must be to disseminate news, and the first and best news-gatherer will receive the largest public patronage. A strictly partizan paper must rely principally upon partizans for its support, and this class of men are hardly numerous enough, if they were sufficiently liberal, to sustain the smallest newspaper.

We believe all this to be strictly true: and pity the poor fellow whose tongue or pen is tied to the apron-string of any party that can be named.

Therefore, while our leading aim in establishing a daily newspaper is to aid more effectually than we can now do, the political principles which we cherish as best adapted to promote the country's prosperity and the continued perpetuity of the federal Union, we are aware that this can only be done by presenting a sheet which shall first supply the actual wants of the people as news-seekers; which shall aim at excellence and superiority as a local medium of intelligence and shall demand consideration as a vehicle of information in all that pertains to the State and nation, while it may devote reasonable attention to foreign matters.

This is excellent. No better platform could be built: the Chronicle has stood on one of the same height and nearly of the same size these three years and more.

The following also, is exactly to our taste:

We hope that our citizens of all parties and persuasions who wish to see a daily paper of this character—will send in their names to this office.

Yes, that's the talk;—names, with $1 for the Weekly or $3 for the Daily Chronicle for a year from New Yeer's Day.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

SATURDAY, Nov. 24.

In the land case, Tappan vs. Tappan, the jury did not agree.

The case of James Hall vs. P. & C. Railroad, Marcy and Jones trustees, occupied the day, and was given to the jury at the close, when the Court adjourned to Monday at half past ten.

The Court will probably sit through the week, and then adjourn over on account of the Supreme Judicial Court at Dover.

CATHOLIC CHURCH.—Right Rev. Bishop Bacon, of the Portland diocese, administered the rite of confirmation to nearly two hundred members of the Catholic church in this city, on Sunday forenoon. Previous to the ceremony, he preached a most eloquent and impressive discourse upon the claims of the Catholic church as the true representative of the Christian religion. It was no more dogmatic than we should have expected from such a source, and was prolific in practical suggestions and advice of the precise character and tenor with which Protestant ears are wont to be greeted. The house was well filled, and among the audience we observed a considerable number of our Protestant population, and some leading members of our Protestant churches. *

Died at sea, on board the ship Torrent, of New York, on her passage from Shanghae towards London, on the 23d August last, Chas. Hale, aged 4 month, and on the 4th Sept. Julia B. aged 24 years, wife and son of Capt. George A. Trundy, of Portsmouth, N. H.—They were buried in St. Paul's Church yard, in the Country, Sept. 25. The service was administered by Rev. R. Kempthorne, Rural Dean, the bodies being followed to the grave by the Consul and Lady with other American friends.—St. Helena Herald.

☞ On Thursday last, at Kittery, a son of Mr Charles Caswell, aged 2 years and 8 mos., fell backwards into a tub of boiling water, and was so severely scalded that he died next day.

JOSIAH B. KILBOURN.—The Boston Telegraph of Friday evening, thus explains the mystery of this gentleman's supposed suicide:

It is reported that he has been for some time engaged in private speculation, and in order to supply himself with funds he has used the name of the firm without their knowledge, for his individual purposes. By means of this paper he has been enabled to raise funds from the bank of which he was a director, but in consquence of changes which have been recently made in the management of the bank, his facilities in this quarter have been suddenly cut off, and knowning the exposure which would inevitably follow, his pride would not permit him to meet the result. His wife, who last evening was at the Revere House, did not know until then that any letter had been left for her.

Mr Kilbourn suffered the loss of an only child, about two years old, about two months since, and has recently suffered depression of spirits.

SUICIDE.—Mrs. Abial Ricker, of Berwick, committed suicide last Wednesday afternoon by hanging herself to a nail drived into a rafter of the house. She was heard to drive the nail previously, but the family having seen nothing of any insanity did not regard it.—She hung herself with a skein of yarn.

ALL FOR LOVE—and Money.—An extraordinary elopement case has recently occurred in Louisiana, resulting in one elopement, one cowhiding, two separations, two trials, and one transportation.

The Claiborne (La.) Advocate, of the 31st ult., has an account of the extraordinary series of events connected with the affair, which is published under the heading, "Elopement, marriage, civil commotion and bloodshed."

☞ Mr John Neal, the Overseer of the Town Farm in North Berwick, Me., died on Thursday very suddenly in a fit of apoplexy. He was a man well fitted for his place, and gave general satisfaction in the discharge of his duties.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

COLLISION.

The following development made by the correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, writing from Pittsburg, shows that besides approving of the course of Judge Kane in the U. S. District Court, the President went so far as to threaten, that if the Judges of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, should grant the writ of habeas corpus asked for of them, he, the President, would order the U. S. Marshal to take Williamson out of Moyamensing prison, and confine him on board a United States vessel, under guard of a military force sufficient to resist the State authorities!—N. H. Reporter.

"When the case of Passmore Williamson was argued, last summer, at Bedford, on the motion to bring Williamson out on a writ of habeas corpus, three of the Judges (Messrs. Lowrie, Woodward and Knox) were in favor of granting the writ, and two (Messrs. Black and Lewis) opposed to it. When the Court re-assembled in Philadelphia, Judge Kane and his friends had an interview with our Judges, and communicated to them the fact that the President had ordered the United States Marshal, in case the Court should direct the writ to issue, to remove Williamson from Moyamensing to a United States receiving ship, and defend him there, with United States marines and soldiers, against any force which the State might send to take him. The question presented to our Judges was, whether it was prudent to risk the threatened collision? I am sorry to say that they thought it was not. They had not the nerve to stand up for State rights. Judges Lowrie and Woodward changed their opinions, and the writ of habeas corpus was not issued. The threat—for it was a threat—should have been an incentive to its issue, instead of the pusillanimous course adopted; for the question of State Rights has got to be settled, and this was the opportunity needed."

We give the above statements as we find them, with the suggestion that we do not believe all of them. We have seen it said, and not contradicted, that Judge Kane visited Washington and consulted Mr Cushing, not long before he released Williamson. We do not believe the executive at one time proposed soldiers, and at another advised Kane to back out. We do not know that either was done—but we think it much more probable that Mr Cushing advised the latter, than that President Pierce advised the former. Some day or other, perhaps the public may know.

PREPAYMENT OF POSTAGE TO BE MADE BY STAMPS ONLY.—It will be recollected that by the act of March 3d, 1855, requiring the postage on all letters not free, sent by mail within the United States, and not from or to a foreign country, to be prepaid, it was also enacted that from and after January 1, 1856 the Postmaster General may require postmasters to place postage stamps upon all prepaid letters upon which such stamps may not have been placed by the writers.

We learn that the Postmaster General has decided to require postmasters to comply with and carry into effect this provision of the law, and, if not already done, to supply themselves with postage stamps accordingly by sending their order for them to the Third Assistant Postmaster General. Of course it is not intended nor expected that this regulation shall throw upon postmasters the labor of affixing postage stamps to letters where the writers might, without inconvenience, have done it for themselves. The main thing is for postmasters to keep themselves supplied with stamps, that all persons having occasion to use may readily obtain them.—Washington Union, 21st.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—There was a very large torch light procession of the Americans here this evening. It was enlivened by music, banners bearing various devices, and monments on wheels. The line extended upwards of half a mile. Before reaching the Capitol 400 to 600 Baltimoreans joined the procession. Bonfires blazed in various parts of the city, and cannons were fired from different points on the route.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23. John C. Dobson, of Richmond, Va. has recovered $7300 damages against the Magnetic Telegraph Company, for an error made by them in a despatch, which he sent over the wires to New Orleans. The despatch was an order for 500 bales of cotton, but was made to read "2500" bales.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 22.—Ralston's range of stores at Macon, Ga. was destroyed by fire yesterday. Mr Ralston's loss is estimated at $30,000; insured for $5000 in the Ætna office, Hartford, and $5000 in other offices in the same city. One of the buildings was occupied by Mr Ayers, dry goods dealer, whose loss is $20,000; insured for $12,000.

LA SALLE, Ind., Nov. 23.—Last night a mob of armed Irishmen surrounded the house of the ferry master at the Central Railroad bridge, and fired several shots into it, killing the ferry master instantly. One of the Irishmen was arrested to-day.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC, AND

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, are too obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT;—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others, as the most delicate of all diseases, a single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who are troubled with Hooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me. was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Pulmonary Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more envisable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the confidence of the medical fraternity at the time of his death. Although skillful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself an unusually successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of our citizens in its favor, and a knowledge of what has accomplished or is claimed, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "A beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease arrested, and a healthy action of all the organs attained. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.

To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S COUGH MEDICINE, SHAW & CLARK, BIDDEFORD, ME., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of red and enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

Sunny Side Parlor Cook.

TO obtain a PARLOR OVEN STOVE, that would combine the two qualities of a truly good and ornamental Stove, and at the same time could be relied upon to bake and boil when required,—from the demand for and the convenience of such a desideratum,—has been the cause of much and continued effort among manufacturers. With these facts in view, the proprietor of this patent has, this season, perfected and brought into the market, a Stove that proves to be THE Parlor Cook wanted. The demand for this Stove exceeds the supply, and all who desire the handsomest and best Stove in the market, are invited to examine the "Sunny Side" of the picture here so imperfectly portrayed.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.
Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington,
76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those enjoyed by numerous others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.
Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 30 per cent. less than others in the profession,) but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents of the highest respectability.
R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of pushing their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
August 17, 1854.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

MAHOMEDANISM DECLINING.

Mahomedanism, that vast system of religion extending over so many millions of the human race and continuing through so many centuries, is drawing to a close. Its destiny has been linked with the destiny of Turkey, and together they sink—the oriental religion and the oriental people. Whatever is the result of this war, (says the Newburyport Herald,) its effect upon Turkey is certain, and hence it is equally certain upon the religion that has its highest seat in Turkey, finds its head in the Sultan, and its power in the sword of the Ottoman. All accounts from the East, from whatever source, give as this general fact.—The providence of God, contrary to all human calculations, has hastened a crisis in the civil affairs of the world; and when we talked of the spirit of peace and the advancement of the race—of the bonds of peace in the commerce of the nations, and the inventions (such as railroads, steamboats, telegraphs, quick printing presses) which should make brothers of men—quickly they are plunged into wide-spread war; and now appearances indicate that the providence of God by that war will affect religious as well as civil institutions, and absolutely remove one form of worship that has had its day and answered its end.

The mission of Mahomedanism, in its day was well, and much through it has been done for mankind; but borne on as the race has been through the christian age to a day that promises to open even a brighter prospect than our fathers had, which the inspired of old foretold, Islamism and even the ruder and more material of the Christian churches have outlived their times; and the hand that reared them, and which guides all things, however much we may claim to do of ourselves, casts them down. Mahomedanism having but a temporary purpose, partook of the ignorance of the age in which the Koran was written, and under the light of science it has constantly been crumbling. It inculcated political and moral principles at war with human progress, and hence it has to yield. The Turks themselves have been prepared for its end, and for centuries there have been Moslem predictions of a brighter and better era—of a higher dispensation. For a long time it has lived only upon the quarrels and divisions of Christians, and hence the priests in the mosques have, every Friday, prayed the Prophet to continue our enmities which might secure empire and faith to them. Gradually, however, one event after another has weakened their system.—There have been innovations and reforms, and when they threw themselves upon Christian powers for protection, they virtually abandoned the whole. It is now more than ten years since the education of youth in Turkey, was taken from the priesthood, and the State was responsible for instructing them in the great truths of the world. In 1845, when the first Turkish university was built upon the former site of the Janissaries' barracks, the old gave place to the new; and in 1851, the system of education was quite perfect, there being some 400 schools with 23,000 pupils in Constantinople. Like progress has been noticed in changes of laws, and in toleration to Christians; and now Christians and Moslems act together, church and mosque rise side by side, the civil and penal codes are being revised, the Sultan even inquires how he shall elevate the condition of w man, liberty springs out of despotism, old and dying, and the fires of Christianity begin to burn in places where they have been smothered for ages. A brighter day dawns in the East—a day of hope and promise; and we see in this change, as in that when Mahomet beat down the false gods and overturned false worship, the hand that holds all, and the Intelligence that governs all, and the Goodness that is over all.

SWINDLE, DWINDLE & Co.—The Boston Courier of Monday morning informs us that—

Mr Josiah B. Kilbourn is still missing. It appears that his financial affairs were somewhat complicated. It is stated that in addition to $75,000 in notes given by him in the name of French, Wells & Co., for stock of the Grocers' Bank, which he had pledged in the street for eighty-three per cent, there is a large amount obtained on similar notes on the street and the firm have dissolved partnership, and are now engaged in ascertaining their position. Among other notes given by Mr Kilbourn, in the name of the firm, was one for about $4300 to a porter of the Revere House, for money loaned by him to Mr Kilbourn.

We think that Mister Josiah B. Kilbourn will remain missing for some time. That he went off from Cambridge bridge seems quite probable—but whether he went over the water or under it is a question not yet settled.

AN OLD CUSTOMER.—The Newburyport Herald of Monday says—an administrator's notice in our paper to-day, reminds us of the loss of an old friend and subscriber, Major Oliver Pillsbury, a very worthy citizen of West Newbury, aged 81 years, who had been a subscriber of the Herald from the commencement of its publication, sixty years; and what is more had always paid for it promptly on the presentation of his bill. Very few men can have so good an obituary notice, truthfully written of them, as this. With Mr Pillsbury, however, this was characteristic—he was one of the most conservative and honest men we ever knew, particular in all his engagements, though in a long business life, himself a loser by the failures of others to an amount of not less than $100,000.

Anthony Burns is studying for the ministry at Oberlin College, Ohio.

THE NATIONAL AMERICAN CONVENTION at Cincinnati adjourned on Thursday at midnight. A telegraphic despatch gives the closing part of the proceedings thus:—

The Committee on Resolutions presented two reports. The minority report was signed only by Thomas Spooner of Ohio. It reaffirms the old principles of the Free Soil party, and insists on the non-extension of slavery.

The majority report was adopted, with amendments, as follows:—The Select Committee, to which was referred various resolutions and propositions mainly on the subject of the differences existing between the North and South on the subject of slavery, has had the same under consideration, and has approved the following resolutions, and recommended their adoption at the proposed session of the National Council to be held at Philadelphia on the 19th of February next, in lieu of the twelfth section of the National platform:

That the repeal of the Missouri compromise was an infraction of the plighted faith of the nation, and that it should be restored; and if efforts to that end should fail, Congress should refuse to admit into the Union any State tolerating slavery which shall be formed out of any portion of the territory from which that institution was excluded by that compromise.

That this Convention protests against coalescing with any party which demands the postponement or abandonment of American principles or the disorganization of the American party.

That this Convention recommend to the delegates of the States here represented to the National Council to request the President of the National Council to call a meeting of the same, to be held at Philadelphia on the 19th day of February next.

There was a debate on this, which was finally carried—yeas 96, nays 11.

Mr Gossler of Pennsylvania offered a resolution requesting the Grand Council to expunge the twelfth section, and exclude the slavery question from the platform altogether. Lost.

Mr Sewell of Pennsylvania offered the following, which was adopted:—

Resolved, That we recommend the National Council to abolish all but one degree, and require the word of honor instead of the obligation now required by the order.

EXCURSIONS.—At a late Sunday School Convention in Boston, made up of Teachers from Evangelical Churches only, the subject of Excursions was briefly discussed.

Deacon Palmer was opposed to excursions, on principle. The Sabbath school teacher has nothing to do with providing amusement for the children. That belongs to the parents.—He had been a superintendent fourteen years, and had never been on an excursion.

Rev Mr Williams of Somerville, considered the subject one of the most important practical topics before the Convention. He had not taken the position that they are, when properly conducted, censurable, but he was getting to question their propriety. He thought want of spirituality was one of the causes of this custom of excursions. He would like to have the whole system of fairs and excursions discarded by evangelical christians.

Mr Hartt of New York, alluded to the Teachers' excursion to New York as an evidence that excursions sometimes do good. A rule cannot be laid down for all. Some schools in New York it would do to take on these excursions, and some it would not answer to take.

The venerable Mr Sharp of Dorchester gave in his adherence to the system of excursions. He had attended many, and never saw an act of impropriety at one of them.—With his school the poor people of the church are all invited to go free. He didn't believe it to be a sin to give the children a little run into the country. He hoped no vote of censure would be passed on the system of excursions.

Rev Mr Clark of Swampscott, spoke strongly in favor of excursions, as furnishing almost the only enjoyment which many poor children get during the year. No general law, however, can be laid down for all.

So the great question remains unsettled: nevertheless, there will be excursions—when the time comes round again.

A SERENADE.

BY MORN.

"Lullaby, O, lullaby!"
Thus I heard a father cry—
"Lullaby, O, lullaby!"
'The brat will never shut an eye;
Hither come, some power divine,
Close his lids, or open mine!

"Lullaby, O, lullaby!"
What the dickens makes him cry?
"Lullaby, O, lullaby!"
Still he stares—I wonder why?
Why are not the sons of earth
Blind, like puppies, from the birth?

"Lullaby, O, lullaby!"
Thus I heard the father cry—
"Lullaby, O, lullaby!"
Mary, you must come and try!
Hush, oh, hush, for mercy's sake!
The more I sing, the more you wake.

"Lullaby, O, lullaby!"
Fie, you little creature, fie!
"Lullaby, O, lullaby!"
Is no poppy-syrup nigh!
Give him some, or give him all,
I am nodding to his fall!

"Lullaby, O, lullaby!"
Two such nights and I shall die!
"Lullaby, O, lullaby!"
He'll be bruised, and so shall I!
How can I from bed-posts keep,
When I'm walking in my sleep?

"Lullaby, O, lullaby!"
Sleep his very looks deny—
"Lullaby, O, lullaby!"
Nature soon will stupefy—
My nerves relax, my eyes grow dim—
Who's that that's fallen—me or him?

The British army in the Crimea is represented as besotted to a most disgraceful and ruinous extent. They may triumph over a thousand Russian bears, but dissipation, at this rate, will triumph over them.

LOCAL.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

MONDAY, Nov. 26.

In the case Hall vs the P. & C. Railroad, the jury found a verdict of $1259.35—being exactly half the sum claimed.

Plff. moves to set the same aside.

Jeremiah Dearborn vs Andrew J. Locke, was tried to-day and submitted to the jury.

Hackett for plff. Hatch for deft.

Claggett vs Simes and Emery is next in order.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—A course of lectures for the winter, before the Young Men's Christian Association, was commenced at the Temple on Sunday evening.

The weather and walking were most unfavorable, and consequently the audience was not large. The lecture was able; and the music was excellent, being performed by a large choir conducted by Mr Clark.

The lecturer was Rev. Dr. Cleaveland, of Lowell, on the subject of Self Reliance, founded on the text, Every man shall bear his own burden. He pressed the subject home to the consideration of all young men, especially young christians, urging earnest effort in man and filial trust and confidence in God.

He made a striking reference to the ant, as he quoted Solomon's exhortation, Go to the ant, thou sluggard, consider her ways and be wise; which having no guide, overseer nor ruler, provideth her meat in the summer, &c.

No overseer, said the lecturer, no slaves to oversee—all were free laborers, and from the quantity of soil they used, it might be free soil. They were individual laborers too; no one called for help to house his grain of food till he had tried it thoroughly himself.

The lecture, in four weeks from this first, is to be by Rev. Dr. Huntington, of Cambridge.

THE LYCEUM TO-NIGHT.—We are requested by the managers of the Mechanics' Lyceum, to state that unforseen circumstances have prevented Rev. Dr. Neale from fulfilling his engagement to lecture before that institution this evening. Rev. Dr. Cleaveland, who was opportunely here, has consented to fill his place; and those who heard this gentleman last year will not be disappointed at the change of one of these first-class lecturers for the other. Whatever his subject, it will be ably handled; and his auditors will be entertained and instructed. See advertisement.

Mr Satter will perform on the Grand Piano, before and after the lecture—to hear which alone is well worth the price of admission. He is complete master of the instrument, and plays in a manner to satisfy both the keenest critic and the popular ear. Every one who enjoys piano-playing, should hear him.

The subject of Dr. Cleaveland's lecture this evening, will be "Any legitimate calling compatible with the highest type of moral virtue."

☞ The large and interesting class of young ladies and gentlemen, which has been under the instruction of Mr Lamprey during a term of evening lessons, at Congress Hall, closed their term last week. The Class, with their teacher and invited guests, are to have a Ball in Congress Hall, on Thanksgiving Eve, Wednesday, Nov. 28th. Music by the Saco Quadrille Band.

SNOW SQUALL.—The early risers saw a splendid sight on Saturday morning. The day broke clear, and the sky was cloudless, save a bank in the east; when, about half-past six o'clock, a black cloud swept along the sky, and almost instantly the air was completely filled with the whirling snow. The tornado passed almost as quickly as it came, and again the sky was clear. It was a most beautiful and startling display.

CONSOLING TO THE SOLDIERS.—The London United Service Gazette says that however much the government may have been to blame for neglecting the wants of the troops in the Crimea, it is now determined to supply them with every comfort; and it mentions, among other proofs, that "two very elegant black hearses are now waiting at the Tower for shipment to Sebastopol."

The people of Labrador, who are mostly of French origin, are said to be suffering poverty from the deprivation of one of their chief means of support—birds and eggs. Of late years parties from the United States have been there in the season of them to collect and carry away all the eggs and by that means the birds are getting scarce from want of reproduction.

A person calling himself Joseph Doe of Lowell street, Boston, complained at a New York Police Court, on Tuesday, that having entered a gambling trap in Barclay street, he was drugged and fleeced of $325. His case was not a very plain one.

A young California widow, residing in Cincinnati, a few days since received a draft of five hundred dollars from her husband, a digger in the mines, and before night she had spent the major part of the sum in new and gaudy dresses.

In Richmond, Va., on Friday last, thirty-three negroes from Halifax County, including all ages and both sexes, sold for $20,666.

Miss Shaeffer, a young lady in Baltimore, was burned to death on Monday last, by her clothes taking fire from a camphene lamp.

Quite an excitement was caused in Cincinnati lately by an ineffectual attempt to capture an alleged female fugitive from slavery.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The Union has been authorized by the State Department to say that Mr Buchanan has had two conferences with Lord Clarendon in relation to the West India squadron, at which Lord Clarendon stated that the squadron originated in no purpose unfriendly to the United States, but its object was to protect British commerce against Russian privateers; three or four of which, according as he had been informed, were fitting out in New York—one being nearly ready for sea, and one said to be a very large and fast vessel specially intended to intercept British ships conveying Australian gold, with the purpose first, however, to capture one of the Cunard steamers. In justification of his statement, Lord Clarendon had reference to the case of the bark Maury, as represented in the affidavit sent to him, and said to be communicated by Mr Barclay, the British Consul in New York, to Mr Crampton, and by him transmitted to the British government, and at the same time laid before our government.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 25 —A shocking affair took place in this city last night. Two policemen, named Thomas Cummings and Wm. Grant, attempted to arrest a drunken man in an Irish groggery in Morocco street, when a gang of ruffians present extinguished the lights and commenced an attack upon the officers, and beat them so fiercely that one of them (Cummings) has since died of his wounds, and the other (Grant) is in great danger.

Mr Cummings was sexton of the St Paul's Church. He reached there and began his ordinary duties preparatory for Sunday services and was found dead near the furnace this morning. His skull was ascertained to have been fractured by a slung shot.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—A bill has been introduced into the legislature of Georgia, proposing to confiscate for the benefit of the owners of fugitive slaves, the debts due by citizens of Georgia to citizens of the State to which slaves may have escaped, if the authorities of that State refuse to deliver up the slaves upon claim of their rightful owners.

Nov. 25.—The Herald's Washington correspondent telegraphs:—"Mr Cushing decides that the Mexican three million drafts, having been regularly drawn by Santa Anna while in full power, are binding on Mexico, and should be paid the American holders.

APPRECIATION OF HONESTY.—On Wednesday last, a gentleman belonging to a firm in Cornhill, Boston, (says the Bee) was passing up Leverett street, and discovered upon the sidewalk a pocket book. He picked it up, and observing in the light snow which was falling, footprints leading up the doorway of the residence of a well known broker, near by, he rang the bell and was ushered in by the servant. Meeting the broker in the parlor, the finder asked him if he had lost anything. A search of the premises of his person satisfied the broker that he had mislaid or lost his pocket book. The finder very properly asked him to describe it, when the broker at once accused him of stealing it. The gentleman disclaimed the "soft impeachment," and refused to comply with a demand, urged by a threat of violence, to give up the property.—The broker's son joined issue with the father, and matters waxing warm, an officer was called from the 3d station, and after a description of the property was obtained it was given up. The gentleman finder handed the pugnacious broker his card, and unless an apology is offered him we shall probably be treated to a consideration of the affair in the Police Court.

A "FREE LOVE" AFFAIR.—The particulars of a very romantic attachment have lately come to our knowledge. A young lady who works on one of the corporations of this city, has, it appears, been for some time corresponding with a married gentleman, lately residing in Manchester. The wife of the delinquent husband and father being mistrustful of the existing state of affairs, and rather opposed to "free love" institutions withal, intercepted some of the tender epistles which were intended as "strictly confidential." The girl was called to the counting room, accompanied by her overseer, and after being confronted by the injured wife and hearing some of her letters read and criticised, was discharged from further service, and has had her name posted at the counting rooms of various other manufacturing corporations in and out of the city. The girl has worked in the mills in this city for several years, and, we are informed, had saved up quite a sum of money, which, joined with that of her "worser half," was to be the capital of the new partnership. Such is life.—Lowell Citizen.

A LIBERAL ACT.—The Christian Register of this week reports that the Rev. Mr Knapp, of the Unitarian church in Brookline, after 8 years of service, has been obliged by continued ill health to give up preaching for the present, and has resigned his pastoral charge. It states that his parishoners, on learning his determination to resign, sent him a gift of upwards of $2800, and at his request have judiciously invested it for his benefit. "We are glad to hear," it adds, "of such an act of thoughtful liberality. It is highly honorable to the people; and is a desirable encouragement to the profession, in these times of uncertainty and change."

LIBEL CASE.—At New Bedford last week, in the case of Ira Barrows vs. Luther V. Bell, to recover damages for an article published in a medical journal, reflecting upon Barrows, the defendant pleaded the truth of the charge in justification, and a verdict was rendered in his favor, the plaintiff having the right to take the case before the full bench for arguments upon questions of law.

The Hartford Courant, says that at one of the Agricultural Fairs recently held in Connecticut a farmer gave an early notice to the Secretary of his entries for the 'fare.' He was to send one 'Duram' Bull, one 'you,' (ewe) and two 'lams.' If his 'vewes,' concerning the rules of the society, were 'rong, he hoped the Secretary would 'rite him by the next male.'

HARD TIMES AT LOWELL.—There are empty and closed eight of the best stores in the city, on Merrimack steet, between Central street and the depot.

Copartnership Notice.

THE co-partnership heretofore existing between Frank W. Miller, Samuel Gray, and Thomas W. Miller, under the firm name of MILLERS & GRAY, was dissolved, by the death of Thomas W. Miller, on the eighteenth day of October last.

All persons indebted to the late firm are requested to settle forthwith; and all having demands against that firm, or either member of it, will please present them at the Chronicle office.

The business from the above date will be conducted by the subscribers, who have formed a Copartnership under the style of MILLER & GRAY for the publication of the Daily and Weekly Chronicle, and the carrying on of the Printing business generally, as heretofore.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only purgeth all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels: Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

DR. J. W. POLAND'S HEADACHE KILLER!

PREPARED BY

DR. J. W. POLAND

Goffstown Centre, N. H.

THIS Wonderful Medicine for the Sick and Nervous HEADACHE, as well as for Tic Doloreux, Neuralgia and all forms of Nervous Diseases, after an impartial trial of more than six years, has established its reputation as a standard Remedy. Other Headache Remedies have "waxed and waned" since this was introduced to the public, but the Genuine DR. POLAND'S HEADACHE KILLER has been, and is now increasing in sales every month.

Within three months, more than seven tons in weight of the Headache Killer have been sent over the Railroads to fill orders for it.

Please to read the Circular, which the Agents have, and you will get the history of the Medicine.

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and hopes of those who have undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to purchase, themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine; let Mothers give it to their children when they are troubled with Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me. was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of pulmonary and nervous complaints was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"As a Physician he was eminent for his quick conception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skillful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of our citizens in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their respective properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "A beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs maintained. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.

To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S COUGH MEDICINE, SHAW & CLARK, BIDDEFORD, ME., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of tan colored paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

Sunny Side Parlor Cook.

TO obtain a PARLOR OVEN STOVE, that would combine the two qualities of a truly good and ornamental Stove, and at the same time could be relied upon to bake and boil when required,—from the demand for and the convenience of such a desideratum,—has been the cause of much and continued effort among manufacturers. With these facts in view, the proprietor of this patent has, this season, perfected and brought into the market, a Stove that proves to be the Parlor Cook wanted. The demand for this Stove exceeds the supply, and all who desire the handsomest and best Stove in the market, are invited to examine the "Sunny Side" of the picture here so imperfectly portrayed.

PLAINT OF THE OLD MAN.

Some boast of their fore-fathers; I—
I have not one!
I am, I think, like Joshua,
The son of none!

Heed ess in youth, we little note
How quick time passes;
For there flows ruby wine, not sand,
In our glasses!

Rich friends (most pure in honor) all have fled,
Sooner or later;
Phsaw, had they India's spices, they'd not be
A nutmeg greater!

I've neither chick nor child, as I have nothing,
Why, 'tis lucky rather;
Yet, who that hears a squalling baby, wishes
Not to be a little farther?

Some few years back, my spirits and my youth
Were quite amazing;
Brisk as a pony or a lawyer's clerk,

What am I now? weak, old and poor, and by
The parish found;
Their pence keeps me, while many an ass

A CURIOUS PROSECUTION.—The New Haven Courier gives an account of an aggravated case which was recently tried before the Superior Court. It was an action brought by a Mr Blakely of Watertown, Ct., against a Catholic priest named O'Neil. Blakely is a Scotch Presbyterian, from the north of Ireland, whose wife came to this country about two years before her death, which occurred in 1852. About four months before her death, he came here also. The brothers and sisters of his wife were Catholics. Subsequent occurrences are narrated as follows:

"After he had been in this country a short time, his wife fell dangerously ill, and being near her end, her relatives called a Catholic priest, one of the defendants, to perform the rites peculiar to that church on such an occasion; he came, and while the plaintiff was gathering his family about the bedside of his wife to offer his own prayers for her and himself at her request, the defendants interfered to prevent him, and excluded him from the room until the rites of the church were performed. As he expressed it, his wife said in reply to his inquiry if she sent for the priest, 'that she was bullied into it by her family.'

The two nights succeeding her death, against his protestations and remonstrance, the ceremonies called 'Irish Wakes,' were performed, and on the third day she was buried in the Catholic graveyard, and the ceremonies performed by a Catholic Priest. He did not attend the funeral.

The defendants claim that the deceased was a good Catholic, and that her husband had no right to prohibit her the rites of the church in which she believed, and to which she and her family belonged, nor to deny her blood-relations the privilege of burying her according to the forms which she and they thought right."

The trial resulted in imposing a fine of $150, with costs, upon the priest and his companions.

A SHARP RETORT.—The New York Sunday Mercury returns the following shot at the Philadelphia Ledger,—which is about as raking as anything that we have seen lately:

"The Philadelphia Ledger, which shakes its indignant finger at New York, and prates of the corruption of our legislative bodies and public officers, might as well look a little at home. The legislature of Pennsylvania is undoubtedly the most corrupt and debased body on God's foot-stool. It is notorious that there has not been a man connected with it, the last five and twenty years, who has not openly traded for bribery. Mr Nicholas Biddle, when he wished to use it, went into the Harrisburgh market and purchased it by the wholesale."

DR. KANE'S FORTHCOMING WORK.—The forthcoming work of Dr. Kane's giving his recent adventures in the Arctic regions, will be an interesting and attractive publication, both in its matter and embellishments. Dr. Kane has selected James Hamilton, Esq., the well known artist, to make the drawings and paintings. Mr Hamilton has devoted much of his attention to the study of Arctic subjects, and his artistic skill is universally conceded. Dr. Kane could scarcely have made a more judicious selection. The volumes, which will be issued by Childs & Peterson, of this city, will be a credit to the publishers.—Dr. Kane, though having many advantageous offers in New York, preferred to have his work issued in his native city. His Philadelphia publishers are determined to do justice to his choice.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Nathaniel Stimpson, arrested on charge of being engaged in the disturbances at the laying of the corner stone of the Catholic Church in Bath, has been bound over in $2000 for trial in April.

VOTERS IN CONECTICUT.—Gov. Minor of Connecticut has issued his proclamation, announcing that the amendment to the Constitution lately adopted, that voters must be able to read and write, is now part of the organic law of the State.

Lily Dale.

THIS is a new Cook Stove, invented last year by the makers of the world renowned Bay State Stove, and is intended to meet the wants of all desiring a cheap Stove which will unite beauty with economy. It may be used either with Coal or Wood. The arrangements for using either are very complete. The size of the oven is large for this Stove. It bakes as quick as any Stove in the market, and with an equal heat in every part. No Stove has ever been invented that has come so rapidly into use as the LILY DALE. Thousands of them have been sold within the last year in the New England States and have given perfect satisfaction.

Any person who likes an early breakfast, and wishes to purchase a first rate Stove for a small amount of money, we cordially invite to call at No. 46 Market street, where they will find the greatest variety of Cook, Parlor and Office stove that can be found in this section of the country—all to be sold at reduced prices for Cash.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1855.

PORTLAND.

We accepted the invitation of friends in Portland, to help them celebrate their Thanksgiving, last week. We commend the Governor of Maine for re-election, for his exhibition of good sense in appointing a day for Thanksgiving differing from his neighbor State—so that many could enjoy both. The train we went in was long and well-filled; and arrived in Portland an hour late. We (our companion and ourself) were afraid the dinner would get cold; but reached the house of our host just as "the turkey" was being served up. All proved themselves appreciative and duly thankful for such a gift—if good usage and no abuse proves this; not to speak of the plum pudding and other indispensible accompaniments of the glorious Thanksgiving institution.

All "down east" is celebrated for snow and hospitality, cold weather and pretty women. Well, we found twice as much snow and cold in Portland as we left in Portsmouth, and hospitality unbounded. As to the pretty women,—why, each one must judge for himself; but we think we had the pleasure of meeting some.

We have a great liking for Maine, and especially for Portland, which is certainly one of the finest cities in the land. Her streets are broad, well laid out, and bountifully supplied with shade-trees—presenting in summer a most beautiful appearance. The location of the city affords eligible sites for building, and elegant houses abound.

We last year enjoyed a delightful carriage-ride through a portion of Maine,—publishing notes of our trip as we went, till we reached Portland, on our road homeward. We made good our return home, after a day or two; but have been waiting "a convenient season" to write out our journey's notes. Perhaps we may as well tell what we saw of interest in our flourishing eastern neighbor city, then and now.

As to the ride home,—we won't say a word respecting the objections one of the company,—(there were three, it will be remembered, two who rode, and one who led the way, on foot,) made to another's singing anything save psalm-tunes, as it was Sunday afternoon; nor how we were brought to a dead halt by a turnpike-gate, the first we had ever seen, and which was not to be opened except by a tenent bit; nor how another and longer halt was made at Cape Neddock, about tea time; nor how finely we made the trip of fifty miles in seven hours. That was a pleasant journey on the whole; and that day's ride by no means an exception.

Portland has very much changed within a few years; and what she has lost in natural beauty, is more than made up in business-like improvements. The city has now a population of about twenty-five thousand,—having nearly doubled since 1840. The increase in her foreign commerce has been almost as great. The tonnage of the district in 1853, was 104,350. And the prosperity of Portland is owing less to natural advantages, than to the persevering enterprise of her citizens.

Middle street is the principal business thoroughfare of the city; and for spaciousness, airyness, elegance and business activity, may challenge competition with almost any street of its length in any city of the Union. A new Custom House, of granite, is being erected on the site of the old Exchange, which was burned a year or two since. It will be a very handsome structure.

A little below, on the other side of the street, a new Hotel is in course of erection; which is designed to be one of the most splendid in the country. It is located directly opposite the elegant residence of Hon. John M. Wood, who is sole owner of the Hotel. This forms a complete block of itself, lying on three streets. It is two hundred feet long, and about one hundred in breadth; and eighty feet in height—divided into five stories, ranging from twenty to five feet, besides basement and attic.

The walls of the edifice, from the foundation to the principal floor, will be of finely hammered granite. Thence upwards, on the flanks and rear, they will be of brick covered with mastic, similar to that used on the exteriors of the Revere House and the American Hotel, Boston; while the front and the rustic corners—which will project in bold relief, giving an air of substantiality to the whole—will be of finely wrought white marble. It is built in what is termed the Italian style, with projecting windows, and will be a most superb work of art — unequalled, in many respects, by any building in the Union. The owner amassed a large fortune, in building railroads; and has invested very heavily in real estate in Portland. The new Hotel is expected to be completed next summer, and James M. Fernald, Esq., the popular clothier in Portland, is reported as the landlord. There could hardly be a better.

The railroads have made Portland—particularly the Atlantic & St. Lawrence, which when commenced in 1845, was regarded by many as one of the most quixotic enterprises of the age. Extending for hundreds of miles through an almost unbroken wilderness, it connects Portland with Montreal and Quebec, and makes that city a seaport of the Canadas.—The road was begun and completed by Portland enterprise to the Canada line in Vermont; there the Atlantic & St. Lawrence road is joined by the St. Lawrence & Atlantic road, built under a Canadian charter, and with the aid of British capital, which now completes the communication.

The depots, wharves and warehouses of the road in Portland, are laid out upon a most liberal scale. A broad street has been cut through from one extremity of the city to the other, across the head of the wharves; along which a track is laid, so that the cars on either of the roads can load or unload upon any of the wharves in the city. The stations and tracks of the road cover twenty or thirty acres of land, which is enclosed by a sea wall, and was reclaimed from the ocean. Within the limits is the wharf of the Trans-Atlantic steamships, which can unload almost directly into the cars. A large freight depot and a passenger station have been erected, the latter of which is one of the finest in the United States, constructed of brick and stone, in the most substantial manner, four hundred and fifty feet long and ninety feet wide.

All the recent improvements in Portland have been planned on a magnificent scale, and with a view to an immense future growth in population and business. Her citizens entertain the most hopeful ideas of the prospects of their city. And well they may. F.

NAVAL.—Captain W. C. Whittle, late in command of the Corvette Dale of the African Squadron, is relieved from the command of that vessel, at his own request, by I. I. B. Walbach, her first lieutenant, whose name we find enrolled in the recent changes in the Navy as "dropped the service" by the decision of the Navy Board. This efficient and accomplished officer is the son of the present General Walbach of the Army, who is now (although at an advanced age,) in active service, and is well remembered by many of our townspeople during the period of our war with Great Britian, ably and gallantly defending our harbor being, stationed at Fort Constitution. X.

BOSTON.—On Monday, Nov. 26, an election, of one Representative to the Legislature, was held in Boston. Whole vote 3337; scattering, 125. Mr Nickerson, whig and coalition, had 1438; and Charles C. Conley, American, had 1774, and is elected, having 211 more votes than all others, and 336 more than Nickerson. The Bee says the Whigs, Democrats, Liberals, Free Soilers and Farnham Plummer's Committee of Sixty did their best to defeat him.

AN ADVOCATE OF SLAVERY.—Hon. J. M. Mason, in a letter declining the invitation of the Boston lecture committee, says:

"An experience of two centuries and a half has done much to enlighten the public judgment at the South on the institution of slavery in the African race as it exists there. We are satisfied not only to retain it, but, as far as we can by the fundamental law, to ensure its perpetuation amongst us. That experience and its results (for the reason assigned) can be of no value to you; and considering thus that the people of the North cannot want information on the subject of slavery for the purpose of determining what is best for themselves, there should be no seeming concession even of their right to determine for others. And, lest it should be in any way implied, I deem it proper to decline your invitatio to participate in the lectures proposed at Boston."

The National Intelligencer styles the letter "sensible!" ??

The Washington Union says;—"God forbid that another war should ever occur between the United States and Great Britain; but we confidently believe that, if such a war should occur, we could raise 300,000 men for the invasion of England with less trouble than she raises 30,000 for the invasion of Russia.

Is it possible that we have ten times as many fools as there are in Great Britain?

PENALTY FOR SEIZING LIQUORS.—In the Supreme Court, at New Bedford, Thursday, Mr Albro of Fall River, recovered $1500 damages, with interest from the time of seizure, from an officer who two years ago seized a quantity of liquor in his possession. The seizure clause of the liquor law having been declared unconstitutional, the present suit was brought.

The word Penalty, is here entirely misused. What was recovered was no penalty, but the estimated value of the liquors, and the loss which the owner suffered by their seizure.

THE MAINE LAW.—Judge Harris of Albany, has no doubt of the competency of the Legislature to pass a prohibitory law. He denounces the idea of forestalling the decisions of the Courts by legal opinions, given by members of the bar in accordance with the wishes of their clients. He decides that the Grand Jury has no right to pass over violations of the Prohibitory Law.—Boston Chron.

The New York Herald states officially that the receipts of the Rachel company in New York and Boston amounted to $128,389, of which $28,890 was taken in Boston.

LOCAL.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

TUESDAY, Nov. 27.

In No. 63, Dearborn v. Locke, the Jury returned a verdict this morning for the Plff. for $577.53.

No. 89, Leonard S. Hook and George C. Hook v. Richard Fitts, is now on trial.

The action is trespass quare clausum fregit, for breaking and entering, and taking and carrying away ten cords of wood and lumber, a coal house and coal pen, and one half cord manure. Defts. set up a licence.

Stanyan and Wells, for Plff's.; Marston for Defts.

☞ The lecture before the Mechanics' Lyceum on Tuesday evening, was by Rev. Dr. Cleaveland of Lowell, Ms., who supplied the place of Rev. Dr. Neale.

The subject, as previously announced, was, "Any legitimate calling compatible with the highest type of moral virtue."

The lecturer handled his subject in his own peculiar way. The lecture proper, in which he brought the several prominent occupations of common life, in contact with spiritual life, abounded in good ethics, sound philosophy, and not very bad theology. And then, running along by it, or rather through it, like a white basting thread through a blue coat, there was a vein of digressions, humorous, satirical, and sometimes nonsensical, which produced a singular effect.

Those of our readers who remember the Voluntary which Doestics heard in a fashionable church, can form a very tolerable idea of the effect of the lecture. The organist played Old Hundred with one hand and Yankee Doodle with the other:—but it was not very bad music after all—the audience were pleased—and so were we; though the lecture was long and rambling.

Mr Satter's brilliant performance on the Grand Piano, before and after the lecture, added materially to the pleasure of the evening.

THE OTHER SIDE.—Robert Gray, Esq., Treasurer of the Portsmouth Flour Company, published in the Chronicle of Thursday last a statement in relation to the doings of that company, which contained an attack upon Chas. Robinson, Esq., flour dealer, charging him with unrighteousness, envy, trap-setting, &c., without making any specifications. The Flour Dealer says he has been refused the publication of a reply in the Chronicle, Gazette and Journal.—Ballot.

The editors of the Ballot are informed that Mr Robinson was not named in the statement; and it seems strange that a man so extremely mild and gentle, and withal so high minded as Charles Robinson Esq. should have put on a coat which only fitted the shoulders of some nameless flour dealer who indulged envy and malice, dabbled in lawsuits, and crowded himself in where he was not wanted.

Yet strange as it is, Mr R. does consider himself attacked, and offers his defence; in which he does not say why a dealer who buys his thousands of barrels, should wish to subscribe for a dozen;—nor why he should persist in getting it after it was declined.

We learn from the Ballot that this valuable article was rejected by the Journal and Gazette. It was shut out of the latter, only because the author was not willing to pay for it.

We declined to publish the article because we knew it was incorrect in its principal points.

The Treasurer of the Flour League did not receive, but refused to receive the money when it was offered by the flour dealer; but the latter, in spite of this refusal, left it on the counter of the treasurer, in the presence of a witness, and then left the store.

The Treasurer did not refuse to return the money to Mr Robinson, but proposed, as a condition, to deliver it in the presence of the same witness who saw the money left in the store. S.

NEW SHIP.—The Newburyport Herald says:

"Star of Hope," is the name of a fine new ship of 1200 tons, nearly ready for sea at Portsmouth—owned by Messrs. Charles H. Coffin and B. B. Titcomb, of this city. We passed a few minutes on board of her yesterday—she will compare favorably with our Merrimac built ships—the cabin is richly finished and furnished with every convenience, but the most desirable requisite on board was Capt. Abraham Somerby, of this city, who is to take command of her.

She was to be called the St. Paul,—but her name is now fixed as above.

☞ We understand that the new ship now being built at George Raynes & Son's yard in this city, for Messrs Coffin and others, of Newburyport, is to be called the Witch of the Wave—the ship of the same name built at the same yard a few years ago, having been sold to a house in Amsterdam.

☞ There will be a Conference of Adventists at their Chapel in Hanover street, commencing Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, and continue over the Sabbath. Friends interested are invited to attend.

☞ Tomorrow being Thanksgiving Day, no paper will be issued from this office on Friday morning.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The despatches by the Canada underwent examination at the State Department until a late hour on Sunday night, and to-day were officially considered, the Cabinet meeting an hour earlier than usual. It is understood that the representations of our government regarding the alleged violation of the neutrality laws by Mr Crampton, have not been met in that straightforward manner our government had a right to expect. Mr Buchanan says the professions of friendship by the British Cabinet are more profuse than heretofore, and expresses the opinion that procrastination has been resorted to, in the hope that something might turn up to relieve the British government from its dilemma.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, may almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

TWO WEEKS LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26.—The steamship Daniel Webster, from Nicaragua, arrived here to-day. She brings dates to the 5th inst.

Two hundred additional recruits had left San Francisco to join Gen. Walker.

The Oregon Indians continue their depredations.

The latest mining news is encouraging.

The Daniel Webster left Punta Arenas on the 19th.

Col. Walker was still at Grenada, and held quiet possession of the Transit route. Col. Wheeler had formally recognized Walker's government. The latter was receiving daily accessions to his troops.

Gen. Corral, ex-Commander of the government troops, has been found guilty of treason and shot.

Epinosa had been banished.

Col. Kinney was still at Greytown, but his men were deserting and joining Walker.

HOLYOKE, Nov. 26—9.30 P. M.—As three Irishmen, named David Gleason, John Barry, and Timothy Crowley, employed at the erection of the Glasgow Mills, at South Hadley Falls, were returning to this place from their work, this evening, in a row boat, when near the dam an oar-lock gave way, and they were instantly precipitated over the dam, a distance of nearly twenty feet, near a rock, to which they clung. All efforts to rescue them failed, until about 9 o'clock. After being in the water for about four hours, they were finally taken off by a boat manned by seven men, and not seriously injured. Their escape was providential.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—JUDGE KANE.—Alleged Murder on the High Seas.—Thomson Rennell, master, Samuel Lewis, first mate, were charged with malicious beating and cruel and unusual punishment to some ten of the crew on board the ship Valparaiso, on her passage from Calcutta to Philadelphia. The testimony displays the most horrible brutality on the part of the two mates, and the greatest apathy on the part of the captain, while the cruelty was being inflicted. To avoid the treatment one man jumped overboard and drowned himself, motioning to the crew not to pick him up. Another seaman then died, after enduring the most horrible tortures. The latter was badly diseased, his body covered with sores, and in every other respect in a miserable plight; but notwithstanding all this, he was taken on deck, stripped of his clothing, and scrubbed with hickory and corn brooms until the blood from his body ran down upon the deck, while salt water was played upon his naked and wounded flesh from a hose. He was also kicked and struck. Death relieved him of his miseries. A third person, while aloft, was shaken from the yard arm, according to the testimony, by the mate letting go the main brace, and was drowned. —Philadelphia North American.

We cut out the above item two or three days ago, and saved it, meaning to add some decision in the case. But we have seen nothing about the matter. Can anybody tell how it came out?

DANGEROUS FIRING.—Yesterday forenoon the workmen employed in Mr Donald McKays ship-yard, at East Boston, were startled by the whizzing of a cannon ball over their heads, and upon looking around saw the ball bury itself in the earth, a few feet from the blacksmith's shop. The dangerous missile came near hitting several of the men, which must have ended in their death. Upon examining the ball, it proved to be a six pound shell, filled with powder, nails, and other dangerous materials. It is supposed to have come from the Navy Yard.—Boston Bee.

A RUFFIAN SHOT.—On Wednesday morning, between 9 and 10 o'clock, "Mick" Brennan, a notorious ruffian, was shot by William McCrossen.

It will be recollected that about one year ago this ruffian attacked and beat McCrossen nigh unto death. The latter is a much smaller man, of a peaceable disposition, and has been bullied, abused and hectored by the deceased continually. For a long while after the beating above referred to, the life of McCrossen was despaired of. Yesterday, McCrossen and his brother met Brennan in Church street, between Ferry and John. The latter commenced his foul mouth abuse, and finally stripped for fight; as he was about assaulting Wm. McCrossen, the latter drew his pistol and fired—the ball entering the heart. Brennan made one bound, fell to the earth, and died. McCrossen surrendered himself to Capt. Sayles, and was subsequently conveyed to jail by the Captain and Chief Morgan.—Albany Ex.

POLITICAL.—Hon. Wm. A. Lake, American, who was elected to Congress from the fourth district of Mississippi, over O. R. Singleton, had the boldness to declare his opposition to the Nebraska act. Singleton voted for the bill.

A despatch from New Orleans states that Hon. Thomas J. Rusk has been unanimously reelected by the Legislature of Texas, United States Senator from that State.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Dispatches have been received from England. Mr Crampton remains as minister, and Mr Buchanan does not leave his post. It is not true that Prussia and England have agreed to the capitalization of the Danish tolls.

MACKEREL FISHERIES.—The Bay Chaleur vessels are now arriving in great numbers, at Gloucester, and the fleet are nearly all in. In three days over forty vessels arrived at that port, and the largest firm in town had four thousand barrels of mackerel afloat at their wharves a few days since. Recently the vessels on this coast have had some very fair fishing, and several of the Gloucester vessels have done very well.

THE NEW YORK MARKETS.—The receipts of apples from the West are very large, but there is an equally large demand, and there is no diminution in prices. Considerable shipments are making to European ports. Potatoes are in good demand, and are coming in freely. Prices in baskets, (of which there are three to a barrel) 62 1-2 cents; sweet do., 62 to 87 1-2. Onions, 50 to 75 cents. Turnips, 25 to 50 cents.—Journal of Commerce.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—It needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what medicine to use themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Coughs, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine; for they give it to their children when they have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S

Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me. was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skillful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of witnesses in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "a happy combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs attained. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all the medicine can do.

To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S COUGH MEDICINE, SHAW & CLARK, BIDDEFORD, ME., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of red enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

MORNING CHRONICLE.

BY MILLER & GRAY. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1855. VOLUME 7. NO 105.

THE DAILY MORNING CHRONICLE is published by
FRANK W. MILLER & SAMUEL GRAY,
At No. 4 Exchange Buildings,
Pleasant Street,.....,PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
TERMS $4 a year, or $3 if paid strictly in advance.

The Weekly Chronicle,
A family newspaper, containing the news of the week, with carefully selected miscellany, &c., is published as above, every Saturday morning.
TERMS $1 a year, in advance. Delivered on any railroad or stage route leading from Portsmouth, free of expense to subscribers. Postage in Rockingham County, free.

ADVERTISING.
For a Square (sixteen lines nonpareil) or less, one insertion 50 cts., three insertions $1, and liberal terms for continuance.
Yearly, quarterly or monthly advertisers liberally accommodated.
Unless otherwise ordered, all advertisements inserted in the Daily, also receive two or three insertions in the Weekly Chronicle, without extra charge.
Both papers having large circulation in Portsmouth, Kittery, New Castle, Greenland, Epping; on the Eastern and the Portsmouth & Concord Railroads, &c., renders the Chronicle an excellent advertising medium.
☞ Obituary Communications charged as advertisements. Notices of Funerals, 25 cts. each. Advertisements of articles lost, 25 cents if not found. 50 cts. if found.

☞ All accounts settled semi-annually.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING promptly executed.

V. B. Palmer, American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York and Philadelphia; and is duly empowered to take advertisements and subscriptions at the same rates as required by us. His receipts will be regarded as payments.

Morning Chronicle.

CANNIBALISM IN THE SOUTH SEA ISLANDS.—The New York Observer publishes the news brought by the missionary ship John Williams, which has completed a voyage among the New Hebrides and other Westerly groups. The journal of the voyage says:—"On reaching the island of Fate, the distressing news was brought on board that some of the teachers with their wives, left there on the last voyage, had been barbarously murdered. Only nineteen days after they were landed under the most cheering circumstances, the two Rarotongan teachers and their wives were murdered to furnish materials for a horrid cannibal banquet. The real reason of this sudden act of cruelty could not be learned."

PROGRESS OF ETIQUETTE.—According to Judge Kane's construction of the code of politeness, we must all amend our manners. If a man is dunned for a debt which he is unable to pay, he must not say, "I have not got the money," as this will be equivalent to putting an aggravated contempt on his creditor. The only authorized answer in such a case hereafter, will be, "I cannot pay, because it is impossible to do so." It is expected that this will satisfy the most punctilious creditor.—Oneida Circular.

THE WHALING FLEET.—The last California arrival brings reports from 182 ships of the Northwest whaling fleet, or nearly all the whaleships in that quarter. It is computed that the average number of barrels of oil taken by each vessel, is not far from 500; and the New Bedford Shipping List considers the chances good for swelling this number to 700 barrels, before the close of the season.

A lady in the Western Market at Washington, D. C., dropped a gold dollar, last Saturday morning, into a basket containing twenty live chickens, one of which instantly swallowed the golden bait. The lady not being able to identify the glutton, bought the largest chicken in the lot, in the hope, we suppose, of getting a golden egg before long.

WIVES ON TRIAL.—In Congo the negroes take their wives for a year on trial; if at the end of that time they are satisfied, the wedding is celebrated with a feast. The missionaries tried to abolish this custom, without success; the mothers declaring that they would not risk the happiness of their daughters by urging them to an indissoluble union with persons with whose habits and tempers they were unacquainted.

ENGLISH COURTESY.—The New York Times' correspondent telegraphs that Secretary Dobbin has addressed a letter to Mr Crampton, tendering the thanks of our Government, for the generous promptness with which the British Admiral Johnston, on the Coast of Brazil, recently placed the British steamer Trident at the service of Com. Slater, to search for the missing boats containing the crew of the American ship Cleopatra, abandoned at sea.

A STEEPLE BLOWN DOWN.—During a severe squall at about seven o'clock on Thursday morning, the partially finished steeple of the Baptist church, in the process of erection in Brighton, Mass., was blown down, one of the rafters passing through the slated roof of the house, doing considerable damage.

CHEAP LABOR.—An instance of the cheapness of labor in the island of Tahiti, is given in the fact, that when the steamer Golden Age touched there to coal, fifteen hundred tons were put on board at an expense of only 4s. 2d.—less than a dollar.

TESTIMONIAL.—A beautiful service of silver plate valued at $1500, has been presented to Ex-Mayor How, of St. Louis, by his numerous friends, as a testimonial of their personal regard, as well as of their high appreciation of his services as the late chief magistrate of the city.

ONE OF THE INFALLIBLES.—A Catholic priest, who gave the name of James Smith, and said that he belonged at Philadelphia, was arrested at Albany last week for drunkenness.

The newsboys in New York, on Wednesday, cut the foreign news from old papers and made "extras," which they sold at an advance.

DR. J. W. POLAND'S
HEADACHE KILLER!
PREPARED BY
DR. J. W. POLAND
Goffstown Centre, N. H.
THIS Wonderful Medicine for the Sick and Nervous HEADACHE, as well as for Tic Doloreux, Neuralgia and all forms of Nervous Diseases, after an impartial trial of more than six years, has established its reputation as a standard Remedy. Other Headache Remedies have "waxed and waned" since this was introduced to the public, but the Genuine DR. POLAND'S HEADACHE KILLER has been, and is now increasing in sales every month.
Within three months, more than seven tons in weight of the Headache Killer have been sent over the Railroads to fill orders for it.
Please to read the Circular, which the Agents have, and you will get the history of the Medicine.
☞ Price Fifty cents a Bottle.
For sale by Wm. R. Preston, J. H. Thacher, D. Kimball and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; C. A. Merrill, Exeter; J. H. Pendergast, New Market; Palmer & Brewster, Dover; J. Mason, Hampton; and by Medicine dealers everywhere. 2aw6mjy20

Lily Dale.
THIS is a new Cook Stove, invented last year by the makers of the world renowned Bay State Stove, and is intended to meet the wants of all desiring a cheap Stove which will unite beauty with economy. It may be used either with Coal or Wood. The arrangements for using either are very complete. The size of the oven is large for this Stove. It bakes as quick as any Stove in the market, and with an equal heat in every part. No Stove has ever been invented that has come so rapidly into use as the LILY DALE. Thousands of them have been sold within the last year in the New England States and have given perfect satisfaction.
Any person who likes an early breakfast, and wishes to purchase a first rate Stove for a small amount of money, we cordially invite to call at No. 46 Market street, where they will find the greatest variety of Cook, Parlor and Office stoves that can be found in this section of the country—all to be sold at reduced prices for Cash.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1855.

THANKSGIVING.

THANKSGIVING—the printer's and editor's day of leisure—the New England Puritan's day of pleasure—comes to-day, at the close of an abundant harvest, which yet brings high prices. We, as a people, to-day, may rejoice not only in food but in wealth. The high prices which make the farmer rich, may pinch the very poor;—but of these we have not many.

Pause here a moment while we say that the inmates of Portsmouth Alms House will see this day smoking on their board the choice dishes of a New England Thanksgiving—thanks to the bounty of an ex-Mayor.

And pause one moment more while we say to him who has two turkies, give one to him (or her) who has none, who is too poor to buy one, and who has not yet given up his home and gone to the alms house.

We may be sure that the present Thanksgiving Day will not suffer for want of the customary observance. The improvements in the modes of travel have done away with much of the toil, delay and expense incident to a Thanksgiving excursion. Railroads go almost everywhere, and with them it matters little whether it rains, snows, thaws, or freezes. There may be a little of the old time mode of travel at the end of the route perhaps, but nothing like the getting home under the old arrangements, when the journey, at best, must be performed in the stage coach. And so there will be, as there always have been, the gatherings of the wanderers about the old hearth-stone, merry or sad, as Providence has blessed or afflicted. And there will be many sad. Many households which met unbroken one year ago, will find a vacancy which there is none on earth can fill.

The sober part of the community—a few of them—will meet in their "respective places of public worship"—as the proclamations have it. Ministers will improve the occasion to exercise a little latitude of remark, and say smart things; choirs will exhibit the result of extra drilling, in singing noisy anthems to very small audiences; and all will go home to the Thanksgiving dinner.

Young folks will think the occasion allows a little latitude to them, and merry will be the times round the blazing fire upon the hearth stone, or where fairy forms glide in the mazy dance. Let us counsel all such to go home early. It will save a very stupid day if not a bad headache.

For our own part, we mean to boil the great New-Castle potatoes, among the extras of our Thanksgiving dinner,—to make the most of our rare day of leisure—and to be as thankful as we know how to be,—first to God, the giver of all—and then to the troops of friends whom he has bestowed upon us, by whose friendship we live, and without which life itself would be but a doubtful boon.

It is a social day Who would be alone? It is a happy day. Let the prosperous household rejoice; and let the afflicted and bereaved smile through their tears, as they look upwards to the hand which feeds—the same Divine hand which smites and heals.

A FRIENDLY EPISTLE.

While spending a day in Portland, last week, of course we didn't fail to call on our old and valued friend, Rev. H. D. Moore, who is now located there. We found him literally surrounded by friends, and were pleased to learn that his prospects are bright. He is employed as pastor of a new and independent religious society, which has rapidly increased in numbers, till the large hall occupied by them as a temporary place of worship, will not accommodate all who wish to attend; and a Church is to be erected by this Society in the Spring, in a new and flourishing portion of the city. They have already a large Sunday School.

We received a pleasant little note from friend M., a day or two after our return home; from which we cannot forbear to make an extract or two, for the benefit of his many friends—though the writer may be astonished to see his private correspondence thus made public. —— r.

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 23, '55.

Dear F.—Thanks to you and friend R——, for that Thanksgiving visit you made me;—and flying thanks for the flying visit. It was short and sweet, like a Thanksgiving pie-crust—not sweet because it was short, as is true in the case of the pie-crust; but short because it was sweet. Have you not heard of ——"Sweetness, long drawn out?"

Such was not your visit. You came down upon me as softly as snow-flakes in April, and vanished almost as quickly.

We are having a merry time, with the jingle of the sleigh-bells. When I say we, I mean the people generally—I myself never go a-sleighing. * * * * As I was saying, they, the people, are having a merry time with the snow. Last night was Thanksgiving night; and a more beautiful one could not have been imagined—so light, so still, so much enjoyed. You were here, I think; I'll vouch for it, you did not let the night slip, without making the sleigh slide, with a merry glide, for a merry ride, with a friend by your side. (Excuse the poetry, but hold on to the rhyme.)

To-day, the people are about their sober, earnest work. "Man goes forth to his labour." Doubtless the religious aspects of the day; the genial christian character of the old New England Thanksgiving festival, have blest all the people, for our Father in Heaven is ever quick to hear and bless the offerings of his children, when they come from the toils of life, to give a day to thoughts of Him; and thanksgivings for His gifts.

The sight of you brought to my memory the recent affliction of your home and hearts. * * * * "The Lord gave, the Lord hath taken away:—blessed be the name of the Lord." Of you I thought—a brother gone! Young, hopeful, earnest, loving!—gone from thy side, into the grave. But there is a home, and a happy re-union awaiting us beyond the grave! In all our joys and sorrows here, let us remember the hereafter. Have we attractions here? What are they, compared with the attractions which draw us heavenward. The strongest attraction of life, is its friendship. Yet this, the chief attraction, is so rare, that we long for the purified society of Heaven, where no selfishness, no deceit, no wrong, shall ever come.

Yours truly, M.

MORE WHIPPING.—The Boston Times says that a lady, the wife of Mr George S. Walker, a day or two since, went into the shoe store of Hiland H. Hoxie, under the Adams House, and purchased a pair of gaiter boots, and carried them home. The next day, shortly after putting them on, they turned out to be poor goods, having burst out in various places. On Monday morning, Mrs Walker went to Hoxie's store, for the purpose of exchanging the shoes, or getting them repaired, but was treated in an ungentlemanly manner by that person, who accused her of attempting to impose upon him—"He wasn't going to furnish her with shoes for nothing"—and using other abusive language. The lady left the store, without saying anything, but informed her husband at dinner time of the circumstances. In the afternoon the couple walked down town together, and entered Hoxie's store, when Mrs Walker pointed out the person who insulted her. The husband quietly asked for an explanation or retraction of the offensive sentences, but both were peremptorily and angrily refused. Whereupon Mr Walker, with great coolness, proceeded to administer to Mr Hoxie a severe pummelling, with his fists, thereby leaving marks upon the face that will cause a recollection of the affair for some time to come. Had Messrs. Coburn and Dalton gone to work in the same manner, they would have been relieved of a great portion of the odium which is now cast upon them. Mr Walker was formerly a resident of Portsmouth, N. H.

PAPER DICKIES are getting to be popular. A patent article is made in New York, by thousands, "to save expense and trouble to gentlemen," which, while they save the anxiety attendant on patronizing laundries, can be purchased new at about the cost of washing the ordinary linen collar.

There will now be more need than ever, of resisting any attempt to "turn your dickey down for ye," as such an operation would be fatal to the paper article, after it is starched to stand up.

GREAT GALE.—A severe gale visited Albany on Saturday, and did much damage. A fine elm in front of Dr. Wyckoff's church in Beaver street, was blown down, and several persons narrowly escaped being prostrated by it. Much damage was done on the river.—Steam-tug Commerce is high and dry at Merino Point. The smoke-stack of steam-tug New York was carried away. Six vessels are aground, and several barges and canal boats got adrift.

At Hudson, the tower of the new Episcopal Church—upwards of 200 feet high—was blown down by the gale. It fell with terrific din, and in its descent cut a frame dwelling literally in twain. The inhabitants had just arisen, and fortunately no one was injured. Had the accident occurred ten minutes before, several would have inevitably been crushed to death, as the steeple fell in such a manner that the beds they had vacated were pulverized. The building was cut in two as cleverly as could be done by mechanical means.

Six unfinished houses in Bridgeport were blown down on Saturday morning.

The Norfolk Argus states that a party of eighteen slaves, of both sexes, fled from Norfolk and Portsmouth last week for some northern port. About a dozen are owned in Norfolk, and the balance on the other side of the river. They are mostly young, and some of them valuable mechanics, valued at from $1500 to $2000 each.

THE UNDERGROUND RAILROAD.—We understand that the train on this road arrived, yesterday, with sixteen passengers, all in good condition. The number which took the cars at starting was twenty-one. Five of them, however, stopped at one of the way stations. Those who arrived here have been furnished with through tickets.—New Bedford Standard, Friday.

Wm. S. Patten, Joseph James, and Wm. S. Hadley, were declared elected Road Commissioners.

William Blanchard v. Atlantic M. F. Ins. Co. This was an action upon a Policy of Insurance for $1200. The Court directed a verdict for Defts. on the ground, 1st, That there was a double insurance without the assent or knowledge of Defts. altho' known to the Agent of the Co. who procured the policy.

2d, That the Pltf. had not paid his assessments.

The case was transferred upon this ruling to the Supreme Court.

Hackett for Pltf.; Wells for Defts.

The Court adjourned to meet in this city Monday, Dec. 31.

THE CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—As will be seen by his advertisements, Mr Clark is to give a Concert of Sacred Music, at the Temple this evening. The programme is a good one, and a hundred singers a chorus rarely heard in Portsmouth. Besides the varied vocal performances, excellent instrumental music will be interspersed among and accompany the singing, consisting of two pianos and a double-bass. A talented and accomplished lady pupil of Mr Clark's, will perform on one of the pianos, with him; which will add much to the interest of the entertainment. We like the idea of skilful amateur players or singers appearing in public—at least at home,—and wish there was less prudery and diffidence in our community about such matters.

Mr Clark and his concert need no commendation from us, and we will only say to strangers who may be in the city, that it will be well worth their while to attend. We hope the Temple will be filled, and thus repay the necessary expense and trouble of getting up such a concert.

☞ The services at the Middle st. Church this morning will commence at a quarter before 10. The bell will ring at half past 9.

In the other churches the services will commence at the usual hour.

☞ We shall issue no Chronicle on Friday morning.

THE BALL at Congress Hall, on Wednesday evening, (Thanksgiving Eve,) by Mr Lamprey's Class, was a brilliant affair. About fifty couples were present. The Hall was tastefully decorated with the flags of all nations; and the Saco Quadrille Band made good music. Supper was served at the Rockingham House.

☞ The schooner Gipsey, which got ashore near Odiorne's Point, a few weeks ago, has been got off under the direction of Mr Henry Danielson of this city, and towed up to our wharves. She is not seriously damaged.

☞ Gilbert's Cough Candy is an efficacious medicine for a cold, and a pleasant candy besides.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do expect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—They have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

TRIAL OF LEWIS BAKER FOR THE MURDER OF POOLE.—This case was commenced on Monday, before Judge Cowles, in New York city. Great difficulty has, however, been found in empanneling a jury. The following questions are propounded:

"Do you know Poole or Baker? Have you formed any opinion upon this case, and if so does it remain? Is it such an opinion as would disqualify you from serving as a juror?"

As was to have been expected, the bias which the public mind had received was so decided, that in another every case the juror was set aside. At half past one o'clock only two jurors had been drawn, and the impression seemed to prevail (says the Evening Post) that no jury would be selected from this pannel, and probably not from a new one which has been ordered. Says the Post:

"At eleven o'clock Baker was brought into court, and took a seat behind his counsel. He is a man of about the middle height, inclining somewhat to corpulence, with full cheeks, thick and rather prominent lips, and bright blue eyes. His head is rounded in shape and his hair light and curling. He was neatly dressed, and seemed in excellent health and spirits. Morrissey, indicted as an accessory to the murder of Poole, and who is at large on bail, was also in court, and occupied a seat near Baker. On the part of the prosecution appeared the Attorney General, James R. Whiting, Esq., and District Attorney Hall; and the prisoner was represented by James T. Brady and Horace F. Clark, Esqs."

TRIAL FOR MURDER.—A jury having been procured, the examination of witnesses in the case of Baker, indicted for the murder of Bill Poole, was commenced Tuesday forenoon.

EXAMINATION FOR MURDER.—James McNally, recently arrested in Toronto, C. W., was arraigned in the Police Court, Boston, on Tuesday, before Justice Cushing, on a charge of having wilfully murdered Chas. S. Smith, in Haymarket Square, May 26th, 1851. Deputy Chief Ham conducted the prosecution, and J H Bradley, Esq, appeared for the defence. A number of witnesses for government were examined, and related the circumstances of the homicide, after which the prisoner was committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury. The defence, it is understood, will be that the fatal blow was struck in a moment of passionate excitement, and that the crime was only manslaughter.—Atlas.

PROVINCETOWN, Nov. 27.—Singular Affair.—A brig, name unknown, coal laden, bound for Bangor, anchored here on Saturday, having sprung a-leak, and the master and crew left her, in a boat, for assistance. On returning alongside, Sunday morning, they found a strange master and crew on board, who immediately hoisted sail and left, probably for Boston.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—No decision has been announced by the Government respecting the drafts for the three million dollars drawn by Santa Anna, nor is it believed that any will be made at present.

Associate Justice Dunlop will, it is said, receive the appointment of Chief Justice of the U. S. Circuit Court in the District of Columbia, vice Cranch, deceased.

General Alamonte is expected to remain here during the winter as Mexican Minister.

MEXICAN NEWS.—New Orleans papers contain the details of the news from Mexico to the 18th inst.

Alvarez had entered the city of Mexico with 5000 men, and was quietly received. The garrison had evacuated the city.

The seat of government is to be permanently removed to Boleno de Hidalgo, on the 7th of February. The best feeling prevails between Alvarez and Vidaurri. Senor Urago had been appointed Minister to Prussia. Senor Sciato had resigned the Secretaryship of the Treasury.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Death of a New Yorker Abroad.—A letter received from Paris by James W. Otis, Esq., of this city, dated Nov. 8th, announces the death of Dudley Selden, Esq., of this city, after a short illness. Mr Selden was formerly a prominent member of the New York Bar, but had retired from practice. He was a Representative from this city in the 23d Congress.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 27.—Municipal Election.—The most exciting election ever held here, took place to-day. Over 3500 votes were polled. The American Union ticket succeeded by 406 majority. Town Clerk, Selectmen, &c., were chosen.

ROCHESTER, N Y, Nov. 27.—Fall of Bridge Towers.—The towers of the new suspension bridge now in progress of construction about two miles below this city, over the Genesee River, fell this afternoon, with a tremendous crash, and now lie on the bank, a total wreck. No person was injured.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—Mademoiselle Rachel left here this afternoon for Baltimore, on her way South. She continues very poorly, and on leaving Jones' Hotel her condition was so feeble that she had to be carried to the vehicle.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—The large grain warehouse and elevator, owned by M. O. Walker, was destroyed by fire yesterday. Loss unknown, but doubtless heavy.

WHEAT AT NEW BEDFORD.—The New Bedfordians are in ecstacies at the arrival, at that port, of a ship load of wheat for the new flouring mill. The ladies don't know what to do about it. A dozen vessels of spermaceti wouldn't create half the sensation.

Patents.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.
Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington,
76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1836) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty as paid back by others) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and in infringement of patents.
Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, generally about 20 per cent less than others in the profession, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and a correct knowledge of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents of the highest respectability.
R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S
Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Maine was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:
"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the envious position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skilful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."
This medicine was first compounded and made use of by Dr. Smart, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of which can be in its favor and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "a skilfully compounded combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."
Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs attained. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with the utmost accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.
To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "Dr. BURLEIGH SMART'S COUGH MEDICINE, SMART & CLARK, Kennebunk, Me., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of red enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

HARVARD COLLEGE.

In the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, a decision has just been made, which legally establishes and continues the connexion between Harvard College and the Divinity School at Cambridge. The case is reported in the Boston Atlas, as follows:

Harvard College, vs. Society for Promoting Theological Education in equity.—This was a bill in equity to effect the separation of the Theological School, at Cambridge, from the College, and the transfer of its funds to a distinct board of trustees, to be appropriated by them to the purposes for which they were bestowed. The bill did not allege any unfitness or failure to execute the trust on the part of the present trustees, but based the application for the interference of the Court on the ground that the connection of the two institutions, and the administration of the funds of the College was inconvenient and prejudicial to the interests of both, and that the usefulness of each would be promoted by the separation, not from the incapability of the trustees, or from any probable violation or failure of the trust, but on general grounds of expediency.

The Court were of opinion that the bill might well lie in the name of the present complainants, and was not required to be brought in the name of the Attorney General, but on the merits of the case considered that there were strong reasons to believe that the funds were given to be administered for the support of the school as a branch of the college, by the President and Fellows, as a permanent body—and that the Court had no power to grant the prayer of the plaintiffs on the grounds alleged. C. G. Loring and Wm. H. Gardiner for plaintiffs; no appearance for defendants.

Five and twenty years ago or more, the Rev. Parsons Cooke wrote many long essays for the newspapers, to prove that the Hollis professorship in the Divinity School, being founded by Thomas Hollis, a Baptist, ought not to be filled by a Unitarian, but by an Orthodox or evangelical man of some sort. Somebody, we have forgotten who, took up the pen-cudgel on the other side, and maintained that Hollis was a very liberal, catholic baptist, and that his intentions were no doubt as well carried out by the Unitarians who then held the control in the college, as they could be by anybody. And as they had the actual and legal possession of the concern, they held on.

Now, the theology and the politics of the region within a sweep of fifteen miles around Cambridge, have changed greatly. Outsiders of various kind, can now take part in the government.

It seemed rather desirable, therefore, that the Divinity School should be separated from the college,—and we suppose the above bill was brought by consent of parties. This is confirmed, we think, by the fact that no appearance was made against the bill.

Nevertheless the motion is denied, on its merits—the Court deciding that they cannot grant the prayer.

The effect of the decision is to leave the Divinity School under the government of the college; which government is to be made up from time to time by men of various creeds and opinions.

WHAT THE PREMIER GOT.—Sir Allan McNab, the Premier of the Canadian government, sued the Hamilton Banner for libel. The verdict was in favor of the editors, and Sir Allan gets only a lesson in policy for his pains.

SUDDEN DEATH AND SEVERE ACCIDENT. We learn from a cosrespondent, that Mr Eliphalet Barnard, an aged and respected citizen of Amesbury, died suddenly in the Friends' Meeting House in that place Sunday morning. He arose in the morning in his usual good health, and after eating his breakfast dressed for church. He had scarcely taken his seat when his countenance was seen to change. He immediately fell to the floor, and died without a struggle. He was 84 years of age.

We learn from the same correspondent that Mr Stewart Roswell, a young man in the employ of the Salisbury Manufacturing Company, while at work in their machine shop on Saturday, met with a severe accident by getting his left hand caught in a circular saw, taking one finger entirely off and badly mutilating the other three. Dr. Dearborn, of Amesbury, promptly dressed the wounded hand, and he is now doing well.—Boston Traveller.

PROHIBITION IN NEW YORK.—The New York Tribune says: "We state with entire confidence, and after extensive inquiry, that Liquor Prohibition will be upheld by our Legislature just chosen. Whatever modification shall be made by that body in the present law will be intended and calculated to obviate the quibbles and cavils of certain legal and judicial backers of the liquor traffic, and render the act more effective and practical than it has been."

We hear with regret of the death of Mrs. Conover of Oneida county, N. Y., the lady to whom was awarded the first prize for riding at "Ladies' Equestrian Exhibition" of the State Fair, held in Elmira. She contracted a severe cold on that occasion, we are informed, from the effects of which she never recovered.

POTATOES.—Joel Grant, of Spencer, informs us that he has raised twenty-nine potatoes which measure a bushel, and weigh 61 1-2 pounds. The two largest weigh three pounds two ounces each. He thinks this beats any other yield of which any account has been publi-hed.—Worcester Spy.

Lily Dale.

THIS is a new Cook Stove, invented last year by the makers of the world renowned Bay State Stove, and is intended to meet the wants of all desiring a cheap Stove which will unite beauty with economy. It may be used either with Coal or Wood. The arrangements for using either are very complete. The size of the oven is large for this Stove. It bakes as quick as any Stove in the market, and with an equal heat in every part. No Stove has ever been invented that has come so rapidly into use as the LILY DALE. Thousands of them have been sold within the last year in the New England States and have given perfect satisfaction.

Any person who likes an early breakfast, and wishes to purchase a first rate Stove for a small amount of money, we cordially invite to call as No. 46 Market street, where they will find the greatest variety of Cook, Parlor and Office stoves that can be found in this section of the country—all to be sold at reduced prices for Cash.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1855.

WESTMINSTER REVIEW.

This English periodical, some months ago, contained an article against teetotalism, and purporting to destroy its foundation by argument. This article has been greatly praised by many writers who do not understand the subject, and who are nearly as ignorant of the facts touching temperance efforts in this country, and the experience of teetotalers here, as a Hottentot youth is of comic sections. The writer in the Westminster Review is hardly less ignorant of these things. And indeed the liberati, the scientific men, and the religious people of England, to-day, are about as far advanced in temperance ethics and philosophy as we were in this country thirty or forty years ago.

The chemists and others of France and Germany are now trying experiments, to see whether we can live and move without the stimulus of intoxicating drinks.

While here, our noble old professor Silliman rejoices and claps his hands at a public dinner at the age of more than three score years and ten, as he tells how he threw away his stimulus, his last rum, wine, and tobacco, thirty years ago, and feels younger now than he did then.

And here again, the noble old merchant, and the more noble old christian Amos Lawrence, tells us in his book, by which he being dead yet speaketh, how he became a man rather than a sot, and how he became a wise man rather than a fool, viz. by breaking off at once and forever the chains of indulgence which enslaved and besotted his fellows.

Not only have we answered the Review by example, one of our staunch old teetotalers has just answered it by argument.

The Rev. Ebenezer Fisher of Dedham, has recently reviewed the Westminster Review, in an essay published in the Boston Telegraph Nov. 21 and 22.

The whole essay ought to be published in some periodical, and also spread widely for general perusal. We have room here for only a brief extract, from which the reader may see the gist of the argument.

Mr Fisher says:

The author in his proposed combat with Teetotalism, invokes the aid of Logic and of Science. We are content to abide their decision and shall endeavor to hold him firmly to his chosen umpires. Since he proposes like a modern Samson, to pull down the temple of Teetotalism, his first principle is to find the pillars on which it rests. These he says are only two. 1. Alcohol is a poison and not a food. 2. Whatever is true of the excessive use of alcohol is true also in proportionate degree of the moderate and occasional use. On these the whole argument rests.

Now we affirm that these are not the main pillars of Teetotalism, nor have they been so considered by Teetotalers generally. The following propositions, we believe, contain the main strength of Teetotalism:

1. Alcohol is not necessary to persons in health; neither for health, power, nor happiness. 2. Alcohol seriously endangers those who use it. 3. Reason forbids the use of any article so far as it is found never necessary, and always dangerous. 4. To persons in health, Alcohol is such an article; therefore Reason forbids them to use it.

Of the truth of our second proposition, our writer has furnished sufficient testimony in various admissions, while he has done nothing to invalidate the first; and unless one or the other of these can be overturned, we may justly consider our position impregnable.—This position the author of the Westminster article does not touch. If he would overturn Teetotalism we warn him that his work is not yet begun. * * * *

Dr Carpenter affirms that to all persons in health, Alcohol is a poison. The Reviewer contends that to persons in health, used in moderate quantities, Alcohol is not a poison but a food. And thus the issue is clearly joined. It seems to be assumed that a food is something which aids the vital operations, while a poison is something which disturbs them.

Food, then, is considered under three heads: "1. It supplies tissue; 2. It furnishes fuel for Respiration, the main source of animal heat; 3. Under both these heads it is the generator of force."—"Force," says the Reviewer, "is the end and aim of food;" and to this statement we see nothing to object. We only desire to guard ourselves, and hold him strictly to his idea, by saying that it is the production of Force in the body; and not its mere exhibition by the body, which is the end and aim of food. A stimulus which is utterly incapable of adding anything to the elements of Force in the body, may call all those elements into sudden activity, and thus produce a great exhibition of Force. It acts simply as a spark of fire does on a mass of gunpowder, producing a great elimination of Force, by destroying the material which before was prepared for that purpose. Nothing more is necessary to show the fallacy of the Reviewer's conclusion that since "Food is Force, and Alcohol is Force, therefore Alcohol must necessarily be Food, and, of course, not poison." It takes but brief thought to show the falsity of this axiom. Imagine, for example, some softly moulded poet, sauntering abroad through "fresh fields and pastures new" in all the gentle lassitude of his dainty contemplation; and in his exquisite indolence, innocent as a girl of all pretensions of bodily force. But his thrice tangled skein of sweet dreams is abruptly broken by a sound of fear. He raises his poetic eyes to behold a most unpoetic vision. A burly front of matted hair, two glaring eyeballs, two portentous horns, without even the mitigating brass balls on their tips; these, with the outstretched tail behind, come tearing on to the trombone blast of the blood red nostrils. Fly, poet, fly! And fly he does, with emphatic feet, and no "Lydian measures." With elbows that dig the air, with feet that spurn the ground, with eyes in frightened "frenzy rolling" he rushes with a racing speed to the nearest fence. His grim pursuer is just behind him, as, with laboring breath, he nears it, and vaults over it; to fall safe and gasping to the earth. Well done, poet! that is Force; and food is force, therefore the mad, roaring bull, entire and terrible with hide and horns, is food to the poet. Logically, of course, and not otherwise; in Westminster, "Physiological Reviews of Teetotal Errors," and not otherwheres.

WESTMINSTER REVIEW.—In a notice of Theodore Parker's volume of speeches, the Westminster Review says:

It is easy for us at a distance to point out that the fugitive bill is but the logical consequence of permitting slavery at all. We may ask how men who live under a constitution that treats slaves as property should hesitate to restore that property?

The Westminster Review and its writers, seem to be as ignorant of our Constitution, as they are on the subject of temperance.—And they blander as egregiously on both of them, as from this ignorance it might be expected they would. They greatly mistake the character of our people, in respect to temperance and liberty,

A drunken man was walking through C street, South Boston, Tuesday, when he staggered against a young man named Snells, and knocked him down, breaking both bones of his left leg just below the knee.

Who will say, after this, that sober men do not suffer from drunkenness in the community? Who will say that the drunkard hurts nobody but himself? Or that it is nobody's business but my own, what I eat or drink?

We have also stated that Thomas Cummings, a policeman, was killed by a slung shot in an Irish rum den at Hartford, where he went in to make arrests. It appears now, that Mr Grant, another policeman, who was maltreated at the same time, is in a critical condition, and at times is deranged.

We cannot see why it would not be as constitutional to break up a disorderly shop as a disorderly house. Yet it seems to be the doctrine in some quarters, and in some large cities, that every attempt at encroachment on the institutions of drunkenness, is an invasion of liberty, a violation of the constitution, and a step towards fanaticism and disunion.

In this state of things, Justice Dogberry's charge to the Policemen is worthy of repetition,—If the man was drunk, you ought to stand out of his way.

Now every man may see at a glance, that if Cummings and Grant had kept out of the New Haven den, they might have saved their own heads; and the slung shot men might have killed one another instead of better men.

The Superior Court of North Carolina has decided that a person professing the doctrines of Universalism was an incompetent witness, and in accordance with that decision ruled out two or three witnesses. Here is an evangelical solicitude where one would least expect it. —Portland Advertiser.

In no part of the United States is Universalism so hated and feared as in the Southern States on the sea coast. The Boston Atlas says a large State Convention of the denomination has protested against this decision.

Similar decisions were made in Massachusetts many years ago; and they ruled thus in the courts, till the Legislature passed an act admitting Universalists to make oath and testify.

DYE'S BANK NOTE PLATE DELINEATOR—This publication contains a perfect description of every part of all the genuine Bank Bills circulating in the United States and British America. The work is 14 inches long and 8 wide, and contains 300 pages, and has been got up at an expense of $30,000! A letter to the publisher, from Danforth, Wright & Co., Engravers, dated New York, Oct. 1855, says: John S. Dye, Esq., New York:

Sir: Your "Bank Note Delineator" seems to possess unqualified merit in the detailed description it gives of all genuine Bank Notes, and combined with your Mirror, describing the counterfeits, you offer to the public a work of much utility as a protection against frauds in paper currency.

NEW ILLUSTRATED NEWSPAPER. Frank Leslie will issue the first of next month, an illustrated newspaper. It promises to excel all other periodicals in that line. It will contain sixteen pages with numerous splendid engravings illustrating the events of the day. The subscription price is $2,00 per volume for six months.

AUGUSTA PAPERS.—We perceive by the Kennebec Journal, that a tri-weekly paper will be issued from that office during the coming session of Maine legislature.

The Age has issued such an one in former years, and will do so this winter.

☞ A rebellion was attempted in Sing Sing State Prison, New York, on Tuesday, headed by an Irishman—he was secured. Next day the disturbance was renewed, and the keepers, in self defence, shot and killed another Irish ringleader.

LOCAL.

MR. CLARK'S CONCERT, was given according to programme, on Thursday evening.—The large choir, mostly young, with a few of the middle-aged men who wisely delay the time of hanging their harps upon the willow, —made a fine, cheerful appearance; with the two pianos in front, and the lofty-looking but low-sounding double-bass viol supporting the rear. The performances were creditable to all concerned; the audience not so large as they merited. Mrs. Clark sang well, though suffering from a cold; Miss H. A. Rand also did herself credit, and will make a fine singer. Four young ladies, Misses Kimball and Knowlton, sang quartettes in a pleasing manner; and a couple of little short girls, sang an excellent alto twice as big as themselves. Mr. G. M. Goodrich we have heard sing much better—he was not in good voice, having a severe cold, Mr. J. H. Head sang finely; his duet with Mrs. Clark, "The barren fig-tree," and his song, "Now heaven in fullest glory shone," were among the best pieces of the evening. The choruses were well rendered, and the accompaniment brilliant and effective; and the entertainment, as a whole, very pleasing. Mr. Clark presided at the grand piano, and Miss C. Kimball played with him on a square piano of rich tone; the instruments blended well, and were played skillfully.

☞ The new Bank of New Hampshire, chartered by the last Legislature, commences operations to-day. Peter Jenness, Esq. is President, and James P. Bartlett, Esq. Cashier.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Our South Berwick correspondent writes to us, under date of the 29th: A sad accident occurred to-day at Salmon Falls Factory. Being thanksgiving day they were making repairs on the wheels, and all were finished except the last, in which two men were at work, when the order was given to the watchmen to hoist the gate belonging to another wheel; but through mistake he hoisted the wrong one, and a young man, son of Mr Jacob Chaney, 18 yrs. of age, was instantly killed, being torn in pieces.

EXPLOSION.—On Monday evening as the passenger train on the Nashua & Worcester Railroad was approaching Hollis, (about six miles from Nashua,) the boiler of the engine Clinton exploded. The engineer, Samuel Gilson, was found near the place of the accident, his clothes blown off of him, one arm broken, his face terribly cut up and body bruised. He was unconscious and lived only about three quarters of an hour. The fireman, Frederick A. Jose, was found on the top of the tender, his face buried in the wood, and blood streaming from every part of it. He will probably recover. Gilson was a resident of Nashua, and leaves a wife and two small children. His age was not far from thirty, and he had been connected with the Nashua & Worcester Railroad for nearly six years. His body, which was terribly disfigured by the explosion, was carried to Nashua. The cause of the disaster is supposed to be the absence of a sufficient quantity of water in the boiler. So great was the force of the explosion, that the cars run three quarters of a mile before they could be checked, though after the first fright the brakes were stoutly applied. One brakeman was leaning against the rear of the first car, and the sudden jump of the cars pitched him upon the rear car through the door down upon the floor, breaking a lantern in his hand, and separating the passenger cars. The terrific explosion and the sight of the brakeman thrown through the door, filled the passengers in the rear car with terror. Parts of the boiler weighing 200 pounds were thrown forty rods —bell weighing 80 pounds, thrown 16 rods—a large piece of iron weighing 175 pounds, thrown 35 rods, close to a dwelling. The momentum of speed threw everything forward and sideways, nothing back.

The schooner Eudora, now lying sunk between Hart island and City island, the cook of which is now in White Plains jail on suspicion of murdering all hands, was visited yesterday, and a hole cut in her trunk and by means of poles succeeded in getting up some bedclothes and pillows, also a flag, all of which were blood-stained. Some boys' clothes were also found. Another search will be made for the bodies. She was from Rondout bound to Hartford, with coal.—N. Y. Express of Monday.

ARRAIGNMENTS FOR MURDER.—In the Supreme Judicial Court, Boston, Aaron Sias, for the murder of his wife; Ellen Frances Tobine, for the murder of her infant child; and Peter Brown, for the murder of his wife,—were severally arraigned and each pleaded "Not Guilty." No time for trial was assigned in either case, but they will probably take place between this and March next.

DR. ROGERS' SYRUP OF LIVERWORT, TAR, AND CANCHALAGUA.—This unrivaled Expectorant, prepared without the use of Opium, is daily effecting the most remarkable cures of Bronchitis, Influenza, and other forms of Lung Diseases. It is prompt in its action, always safe, and may be given with perfect confidence to the youngest child or the most delicate female. It is for sale by Druggists everywhere.

Judge Waldo of Connecticut has decided that in that State, the secrets of the Roman Catholic confessional are not held sacred by the laws, when the superior demands of justice require their disclosure. This is contrary to a late Virginia decision.

HON. EDWARD EVERETT is become, in part, editor of the North American Review, which, we learn, is coming up to the reputation and patronage of its early days.—Bee.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

Agents in Portsmouth, W. R. PRESTON, J. H. HACKER, and D. KIMBALL, and sold by the Druggists throughout the United States. 2m ol d&w

TWO WEEKS LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK, NOV. 28.—The steamer Star of the West from San Juan arrived here at 3 o'clock this afternoon, with California dates of the 5th of November. Reports from the latter represent it as being free from cholera.

The Uncle Sam which arrived at San Francisco with nearly 700 passengers, and which left New York on the 5th, had not a single case on board.

The news of most importance from California is that the Indian ravages were growing serious.

From Puget Sound, to Shasta Platte, the savages had made a simultaneous attack upon the white men, and massacred a large a large number. Volunteers were turning out in all directions, and the U. S. troops under the command of Major Fitzgerald had turned out in pursuit.

Nearly all the tribes to the North of the Columbia River have confederated, and sworn to exterminate the whites.

A band of 1500 attacked a small force of U. S. troops, at Puget Sound, under the command of Maj. Haller, and forced them to retreat. The latter had been reinforced by nine companies of volunteers, called out by Gov. Cary, and supplied with ammunition by the sloop-of-war Decatur, and cutter Jefferson Davis, and was about to take the defensive.

A still in the distillery of Messrs. Barnett & Ashfield at San Francisco exploded, maiming and scalding a dozen men, and setting fire to the premises, which were entirely destroyed.

A severe gale occurred at San Francisco on the 30th ult., doing damage to the Piers and small craft in the harbor.

Business at San Francisco during the fortnight had not been very active, but was improving. Flour quiet.

The specie shipped per the Sonora was nearly $2,200,000.

FROM THE ISTHMUS.—Gen. Walker was in full possession of Nicaragua. Col. Wheeler, the American Minister, had publicly acknowledged on the part of the United States the independence of the new republic, and assured its Government of the kind regards and well wishes entertained by the Chief Magistrate of the United States towards it.

A duty of 20 per cent ad valorem had been declared by the Nicaraguan government upon all foreign imports, to be paid in coin.

WASHINGTON, NOV. 28.—More than fifty members of Congress have arrived. The Republicans and Fusionists among them have already met together, and express their readiness to meet in caucus for nomination of officers of the House, with all the opponents of the Administration, irrespective of any distracting political issues.

The anti-slavery Americans, will, it is said, positively refuse to meet their non-intervention brethren in caucus as a distinctive party, while several Democrats threaten, that if in the Democratic caucus the support of the Kansas Nebraska Act shall be insisted on as a test of orthodoxy, they will withdraw from the caucus.

THE GROCERS' BANK, BOSTON.—The affairs of the unfortunate Grocers' Bank have been the chief topic of conversation in the street Friday forenoon. An injunction has been obtained against the Bank by the Bank Commissioners, and its business is for the present at least suspended. It is rumored there has been an over issue of bills to a large amount. Another rumor is that a quantity of old bills have been put in circulation. The Commissioners and the Bank officers are now investigating the matter.—Boston Journal.

The Transcript learns that an over issue of bills to the amount of $106,000 has been discovered, which was the immediate cause of the prompt action of the Bank Commissioners.

During a storm at Cadiz the lightning struck a powder magazine in the island of San Fernando, and caused an explosion, which did damage to the amount of 1,000,000 reals(£10,000.)

HUMAN NATURE.—'I am sorry, Mr Wilson, to see this splendid field of potatoes so seriously diseased,' said a sympathizing inspector. 'Ah! weel, it's a great pity,' replied the farmer; 'but there's ae comfort; Jock Tamson's is not a better!'—Aberdeen Journal.

By late advices from Cadiz, we learn salt had advanced from four dollars per last to eight dollars, and the salt crop very short, with a prospect of still further advance. A prohibition law was strongly talked of by the Spanish government.

JOE DOE "FLEECED"—We see by the New York papers that the notorious Joe Doe from this city has been seducing the Gothamite police into believing that he was enticed into a gambling saloon in Barclay street, on Thursday evening, made drunk, and fleeced out of $325. Poor Joe! we pith him, but we pity the New Yorkers who believe him much more. Joe is a notorious scamp.—Lowell News.

So Joe don't belong in Boston, as reported.

SERIOUS ILLNESS OF RACHEL.—Rachel is very ill indeed at Philadelphia, and there is no prospect at present of her being able to continue her performances. Her physicians have advised her to make a trip to Havana for the recovery of her health.

Damages in the sum of $8000 were obtained yesterday, in the Supreme Court at New Bedford, in the case of Pratt vs. Fall River. This was an action to recover damages for an injury received from falling over an embankment of a street in Fall River.

DEATH BY DROWNING.—Sunday, Mr Francis Newhall, aged 40 years, attempted to cross Breed's Pond, near Lynn, on the ice, and when partly across the ice broke beneath him and he was drowned. He leaves a wife and six children.

The "crop" of whiskey, says the Kentucky American, will be greater this coming season than it has been for years in that state.

The crop of drunkards will be increased in a corresponding ratio.—Salem Gazette.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S
Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me. was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, unflinching perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skillful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its power—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of our citizens in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "A beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of the lungs and other organs induced. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.

To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S COUGH MEDICINE, SHAW & CLARK, BIDDEFORD, ME., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of red enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the care of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

THE WANTS OF MAN.

BY JOHN QUINCY ADAMS.

The following poem was written in July, 1840, when Mr Adams was 73 years of age, and under these circumstances: Gen. Ogle, of South Carolina, informed Mr Adams that several young ladies in his District had requested him to obtain Mr Adams's autograph for them. In accordance with that request, Mr Adams wrote the following beautiful poem upon "The Wants of Man," each stanza upon a sheet of note paper:

"Man wants but little here below,
Nor wants that little long."
Goldsmith's Hermit.

"Man wants but little here below,
Nor wants that little long."
'Tis not with me exactly so—
But 'tis so in my song.
My wants are many, and if told
Would muster many a score;
And were each wish a mount of gold,
I still would long for more.

* * * * *

What next I want at heavy cost,
Is elegant attire;
Black sable furs for winter's frost,
And silk for summer's fire;
And cashmere shawls, and Brussels lace,
My bosom front to deck—
And diamond rings my hand to grace,
And rubies for my neck.

* * * * *

I want a garden and a park
My dwelling to surround—
A thousand acres, (bless the mark,)
With walls encompass'd round, [low,
Where flocks may range and herds may
And kids and lambkins play—
And flowers and fruits commingled grow
All Eden to display.

I want, when summer-foliage falls,
And autumn strips the trees,
A house within the city's walls
For comfort and for ease—
For here as space is somewhat scant,
And acres rather rare,
My house in town I only want
To occupy—a square.

I want a Steward, Butler, Cooks,
A Coachman, Footman, Grooms,
A library of well bound books,
And picture garnished rooms,
Corregios, Magdalen and Night,
The Matron of the Chair;
Guido's fleet coursers in their flight,
And Claudes at least a pair.

I want a cabinet profuse
Of medals, coins, and gems,
A printing press for private use,
Of fifty thousand ems;
All plants and minerals and shells,
Worms, insects, fishes and birds;
And every beast on earth that dwells,
In solitude or herds.

I want a board of burnished plate,
Of silver and of gold,
Tureens of twenty pounds in weight
With sculpture's richest mould.
Plateurs with chandeliers and lamps,
Plates, dishes all the same;
And porcelain vases with the stamps
Of Serves, Angoulome.

And maples of fair glossy stain
Must form my chamber doors,
And carpets of the Wilton grain
Must cover all my floors.
My wall with tapestry bedecked,
Must never be outdone;
And damask curtains must protect
The colors from the sun.

And mirrors of the largest pane
From Venice must be brought;
And sandal wood and bamboo cane
For chairs and tables bought.
On all the mantel-pieces, clocks
Of thrice gilt bronze must stand,
And screens of ebony and ox
Invite the stranger's hand.

I want—(who does not want?)—a wife,
Affectionate and fair,
To solace all the woes of life,
And all its joys to share;
Of temper sweet—of yielding will,
Of firm, yet placid mind;
With all my faults, to love me still,
With sentiment refined.

And as time's car incessant runs,
And fortune fills my store,
I want of daughters and of sons
From eight to half a score.
I want (alas! can mortal dare?
Such bliss on earth to crave?)
That all the girls be chaste and fair—
The boys all wise and brave.

And when my bosom darling sings
With melody divine,
A pedal harp with many strings
Must with her voice combine.
A piano exquisitely wrought
Must open stand apart;
That all my daughters may be taught
To win the stranger's heart.

My wife and daughters will desire
Refreshment from perfumes,
Cosmetics for the skin require,
And artificial blooms.
The civet fragrance shall dispense
And treasured sweets return;
Cologne revive the flagging sense,
And smoking amber burn.

And when at night my weary head
Begins to droop and doze,
A southern chamber holds my bed
For nature's soft repose:
With blankets, counterpanes and sheets,
Mattrass and bed of down,
And comfortables for my feet,
And pillows for my crown.

I want a warm and faithful friend
To cheer the adverse hour;
Who ne'er to flatter will descend
Nor bend the knee to power;
A friend to chide me when I'm wrong,
My inmost soul to see:
And that my friendship prove as strong
For him, as him for me.

I want a kind and tender heart,
For others wants to feel;
A soul secure from fortune's dart,
A bosom armed with steel—
To bear divine chastisement's rod,
And mingling in my plan,
Submission to the will of God
With charity to Man.

I want a keen observing eye;
An ever listening ear,
The truth through all disguise to spy,
And wisdom's voice to hear.
A tongue to speak at virtue's need
In Heaven's sublimest strain;
And lips, the cause of Man to plead,
And never plead in vain.

I want uninterrupted health
Throughout my long career;
And streams of never failing wealth
To scatter far and near;
The destitute to clothe and feed,
Free bounty to bestow;
Supply the helpless orphan's need
And soothe the widow's woe.

I want the genius to conceive,
The talents to unfold
Designs, the vicious to retrieve;
The virtuous to uphold.
Inventive power, combining skill;
A persevering soul,
Of human hearts to mould the will,
And reach from Pole to Pole.

I want the seals of power and place,
The ensigns of command,
Charged with the People's unbought grace
To rule my native Land—
Nor crown, nor sceptre would I ask
But from my country's will,
By day, by night to ply the task,
Her cup of bliss to fill.

I want the voice of honest praise
To follow me behind;
And to be thought in future days
The friend of human kind.
That after ages as they rise
Exulting may proclaim,
In choral union to the skies,
Their blessing on my name.

These are the wants of mortal man,
I can not want them long—
For life itself is but a span,
And earthly bliss a song.
My last great want absorbing all
Is, when beneath the sod,
And summon'd to my final call,
The memory of my God.

And oh! while circles in my veins
Of life the purple stream;
And yet a fragment small remains
Of nature's transient dream;
My soul in humble hope unscared
Forget not thou to pray:
That this thy want may be prepared
To meet the judgment day.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1855.

PORTSMOUTH CHRONICLE.—This is a very good daily newspaper, issued at Portsmouth(1) professing to be neutral in politics(2) and asking the patronage of all classes of our citizens (3) We are highly pleased that its enterprising publishers are enabled to sustain a daily journal in this part of the state. We know, in that respect, how difficult it is to compete with the larger and more popular daily journals of Boston and other places. Its publishers, however, are very successful in making a readable paper, which will secure a sufficient patronage to give it a fair support. In the matter of news items, it is a readable paper. And even more than that, its clerical editor manages to pick up items that render his paper quite interesting (4)

But on the subject of politics we regret to be obliged to speak in a different tone. On this point, the editor is evidently out of his place. In the first place, we think he frequently evinces a want of candor. And next, there is a sort of snap-dragon style of thought and of rhetoric,(5) utterly unsuited to the discussion of grave political questions. We do not remember in a single instance to have seen a calm and candid discussion of that kind in the columns of his paper through the whole course of its publication.(6) His forte seems to be to snap, like a hungry pickerel, at somebody else. A short time since, we published an article in reference to the attacks upon Judge Kane charging him with transcending his powers and being guilty of tyranny.(7) The editor of the Chronicle thought he was his;(8) and thereupon in his usual snap-dragon style attempts a reply.(9) We do not think it necessary to rejoin, because really we do not see "very much of a shower."(10) We have no disposition to curtail any man's liberty of speech, much less that of the Chronicle. We think, however, that a little more respect might very properly be paid to the democracy of the land, even though the editor is greatly opposed to it (11) That's all! No! Stop. We wish the Chronicle an overwhelming measure of success in all its good undertakings!(12)

We subjoin a few notes, by Uncle Toby, referring back to the figures we have placed in the article from the Dover Gazette.

1. Thank you sir, for the compliment.

2. The Chronicle never professed to be neutral in politics, nor in any thing else. It professes to be independent, and tries to be impartial and fair.

3. We have all classes among our readers and subscribers.

4. That is no small praise. We hope to deserve it.

5. That is not bad. Let us see. The snap dragon style is somewhat descriptive of a prompt and short answer to a plain question.

6. Truly we have neither time nor room for a long sleepy essay on some question where the gist of the thing can be pressed into ten lines.

7. We never snap at ourselves. Judge Kane was verily guilty of official tyranny—and we have exposed him to the best of our ability.

8. We were certainly answered in some of your remarks, though perhaps not designedly.

9, 10. Truly you did not rejoin, because you could not, except in one way, to these snap dragon questions: Is Judge Kane a Democrat? And is it Democratic doctrine that a judge may imprison whom he pleases as long as he pleases?

11. Uncle Toby, cap in hand, makes his best bow to the Democracy of the land, for whom he entertains all due respect,—and a component part of which he is,—as tenacious of free speech, of trial by jury, of all personal and moral rights, as any one can be.

12. We reciprocate the good wishes. May you live a thousand years, and your shadow never be less. But do tell us, whether it is really democratic for a judge to put a man in jail at his mere pleasure, without bail or mainprise.

That is not our democracy.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE FOR DECEMBER.—This number commences a new volume, and now is a good opportunity for persons to subscribe. In the new volume will appear Dickens new Tale of "Little Dorrit," the advance sheets of which have been purchased by the Harpers expressly for their Magazine.

The present number is a valuable one. The article of Thorp upon the Mississippi, and the "Trip to Newfoundland," are worth all the Magazine costs.

For sale by J F Shores, Jr.

☞ Putnam's Monthly, for December, 1855, is on hand, from Fetridge & Co., Boston, via J F Shores of this city.

It contains an important article on the Armies of Europe; a droll article About Niggers; How I came to be Married,—and nearly twenty others.

As a whole, it is a number of more than ordinary value and interest.

☞ Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions and the Beau Monde, for December, is just published in New York.

It contains a rich variety of fashions, for ladies, gentlemen and children; patterns more than we care to count; and a portrait and a brief memoir of Mrs. J. M. Vernon, an eminent actress.

$3 a year; or 25 cents a number.

FAST YOUNG MEN.—On Tuesday afternoon, as the 2 o'clock train for Gorham, was leaving Portland, as it approached Deering's Bridge, a horse and chaise driven by James Neal, went directly on the crossing when the locomotive was within ten feet of it. The engine struck the horse, breaking the shafts from the chaise and carried the animal some distance on the track. The chaise was overturned and the driver buried under the ruins within two feet of the track. The horse was killed, but Neal escaped without any injury save a ducking in the mud. Those who witnessed the transaction did not suppose there was the slightest chance for Neal to escape, and were astonished at his recklessness in driving on to the track while the train was in such close proximity.

Could the young man be sober?

We perceive by the Enquirer that two young men named Wells and Clifford, (sons of the eminent old gentlemen who oppose the intensified law,) lately got into the lock-up in Portland, because they were not total abstinents. In copying the account the Philadelphia Sun says:—

"We cannot be surprised at the woful record of these two young men. What else, with reason, could have been expected? Their fathers, men of high social and political standing, scoffed and sneered at the 'Maine Law, as the quintessence of bigotry, fanaticism and folly. These young men listened to their teachings, and received them as the lessons of wisdom and truth. They concluded to carry out practically what they had been taught, and found themselves, to their surprise, drunk and in the lock-up. Their mistake was in not drinking and carousing moderately, which their fathers had taught them was harmless and constitutional, and an enjoyment of inalienable rights; but they went a little beyond the mark, and the prescribed limit of prudent indulgence, and as a consequence, 'put an enemy in their mouths to steal away their brains.' Perhaps they sought to show their independence, and contempt for all sumptuary laws, and determined to let the world know that they were freemen in a land of liberty, and not to be coerced as to what they should or should not drink! And, besides, were not their fathers opposed to the odious Maine Law? We think of those mistaken and misguided fathers 'more in sorrow than in anger,' and could wish this dispensation might come home to them with salutary effect."

WHAT ALL THE CATHOLIC PAPERS NOTE.—"All the Catholic papers note the fact that Sebastopol was taken on the Feast of the Nativity of the Virgin, but none, save The Leader, observes the second coincidence, that it was just nine months after the promulgation of the dogma of the Immaculate Conception. In the coincidences and the repulse of the English from the Redan, while the French leaped gloriously upon the battlements of the Malakoff, we see the interposition of Mary the Virgin."—Freeman's Journal.

Ah, now we have it: the English being but heretics, of the Anglo Episcopal Church, are only so-so soldiers;—while the French, save the mark, are such remarkable Catholic Christians that Holy Mary infuses such valor into them as to make them leap on the towers.—Vive la Humbug!

ENGLISH MARKETS.—By the steamer Atlantic, the commercial intelligence is to the effect that breadstuffs were without change, and flour sold at a less price in Liverpool than it does in Boston. The cotton market was dull, and the money market was stringent; consols had fallen to 87 7-8. The price of sugars had fallen or become languid in London, while coffee had advanced, and tea was in active demand at full prices.

THE NAVAL BOARD.—The Norfolk (Va.) Herald says:—

The action of the Naval Board, in dropping certain officers from the service, placing some on furlough, and retiring others by leave of absence, is likely to arrest public attention, and produce prolonged discussion in the next Congress.

Eminent counsel have been consulted, and it is understood that the Hon George M. Dallas will prepare a paper, which will be read in the Senate, and arrest the confirmation of the officers appointed to succeed those named in the report, until they can obtain a full hearing.

☞ Old Father Time, the parent of bright eyed truth, is daily developing new facts and theories, but among his numerous progeny no fact is more incontestible than that the success attending the introduction of G W Stone's Liquid Cathartic (and Family Physic) to the public use, is utterly without a parallel. Those families which have made the most thorough trial of its merits, are loudest and most enthusiastic in their encomiums of its virtues. It admirably meets a want long experienced by all classes of persons, and is rapidly gaining that confidence which it so richly deserves.

There is a statute in Indiana that prevents the testimony of a negro from being received in the Courts. This disability, just now, gives the negroes the monopoly of the carrying trade in liquor in that State. As they cannot be made witnesses, the liquor dealers are not afraid to sell to them, and they are very generally employed to effect the exchange between the seller and consumer of the prohibited article.

DURABILITY OF IRON SHIPS.—The iron ship Richard Cobden, (says the Liverpool Mail) which was built twelve years ago, at Liverpool, will repay a visit from any one who is interested in iron ships. She has been twelve years in the East India trade, and has not had the slightest repairs done to her; has never leaked a drop, and will, to all appearance, last for an unlimited length of time.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 30.—We have accounts from Independence to-day, stating that three armed free statesmen had attempted to drive Mr Coleman, a pro-slavery settler, from his claim, near Hickory Point. Mr C. killed one of his assailants, when a mob gathered together, drove him and other settlers off, and then burned their houses. The ringleaders were arrested by Marshal Jones, and taken to Lecompte. Governor Shannon has called out the militia. Many citizens from Independence, Western and St. Josephs, have gone to offer their services to the Governor to restore order. The people of Lawrence are in arms, and have five pieces of artillery.

A number of houses have been burned in Douglas county, and several families driven to Missouri for refuge. The law and order people of the territory are rallying in large numbers to assist the sheriff in the execution of the law.

Sixteen houses were burned at Hickey Point and several of its citizens were missing.

SUSPICIOUS.—The schooner Eudora, from this port, bound east, has been anchored for the last four or five days between City and Hart Islands, above Hurlgate. Last night she was discovered to be sunk, and the cook (a negro) who came ashore from her, on being questioned, could only state that the captain and mate had left the vessel previously.—This story being doubted, the man was detained. His clothes were marked with blood. In his pockets were found three pocket books, containing $70 or $80. It is supposed that he murdered the captain and mate for the purpose of robbery, and then scuttled the vessel. The schooner lies in about six or seven feet of water at low tide.—N Y Commercial, 24th.

ANOTHER BAR ROOM MURDER.—In Baltimore, on the night of the 25th, a party of five young men entered the Washington Hotel, corner of Eutaw and Canada streets, and drank some liquor which they refused to pay for. The proprietor's brother, Eugene Broador, attempt to help the bar keeper to put the party out, when one of them, named John Tarring, drew a pistol and shot Eugene, killing him instantly. Another of the gang named Charles Robinson, attempted to murder the proprietor by firing two balls at him, which fortunately lodged in the floor. All the parties have been arrested and committed.

A MAN SHOT.—The Providence Transcript states that Patrick Salley, an Irishman, whom two of the city watch were taking to the watch house, was shot by one of the watch while a gang of Irishmen were attempting to rescue him. Salley died instantly.

SENATOR DOUGLAS.—There have been various reports of the illness of Senator Douglas at Indiana, but the last report was that he was recovering.

ANOTHER SECRET ORDER.—Certain transactions took place in this village last week which has led to some startling developments. It appears that there is an organization composed of men and boys, some of them not yet 12 years old, for the purpose of procuring ardent spirits to be used as a beverage. This organization, it seems, has a species of initiation, in which a most solemn oath is administered not to reveal the name of a rumseller, or the place where they obtain their liquors, under the penalty of being whipped to death. —Sheboygan Clarion.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

ONE WEEK LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The steamship Atlantic, arrived at 9 o'clock this evening.

The Atlantic left Liverpool at 4 P. M. on the 17th inst., and brings 175 passengers, and has experienced heavy westerly gales for the last ten days.

Defeat of the Russians in Asia.—Latest despatches report officially from Lord Stratford de Redcliffe a victory gained Nov. 5 by Omer Pacha over 10,000 Russian troops, mostly Georgian militiamen, at the River Ingour, which he crossed with his forces amounting to 20,000 men at four points, capturing 60 prisoners, 3 guns, and killing and wounding 400 of the enemy. Turkish loss 300.

Kars is still besieged and appearances indicate that the Russians will retire to Tiflis.

The official accounts of Generals Williams and Mouravoff of the attack on Kars is published.

The Crimea.—Nothing new is received from the Crimea. Both armies are preparing for the approach of winter.

A desultory fire was kept up between the North and South sides of Sebastopol. The forifications of both sides were being augmented.

The latest dates from the seat of war received by mail are to the 3rd inst. The weather continued fine.

Prince Gortschakaff's latest despatch says:—"Nothing new in the Crimea. The enemy continue to occupy the valley of the Baidar, where they have two divisions."

A Russian cadet, who had deserted, reports, that Gortschakoff is determined to hazard an attack. The allies continue every night to reinforce their advanced posts and support them with field artillery.

St. Petersburg despatches state that the Emperor left Nicolaiff on the 7th inst. for the Crimea, to thank in person Gortschakoff army. He returns via Moscow to St. Petersburg.

Peace Negociations.—Peace rumors are extremely prevalent, but vague. Diplomacy, however, is active, especially at Stockholm, Vienna and Brussels.

Great Britian.—It is rumored that the Secretaryship of the Colonies, having been refused by the Duke of Newcastle, will be given to Mr Frederick Peel, who will be succeeded in the war office by Capt. Layard.

General Codrington accepts the command of the British forces in she Crimea.

Orders and ribbons have been bestowed on Generals Pelissier and Simpson.

France.—The Paris exhibiton is closed. Twelve thousand prizes have been distributed, including numerous decorations of the Legion of Honor.

The list of American premiums had not been announced.

Miscellaneous.—The American whaler John Henry fell in with the abandoned British Arctic ship Resoluto, of Sir John Belcher's expedition, in Davis Straits, the crew taking possesion thereof and abandoning their own ship.

President Fillmore was on his way to Italy.

In the Swiss elections the Radicals had obtained a triumph.

French papers say tha the United States offer to pay off the indebtedness of Greece to England and France on condition of receiving the Island of Milo for 90 years.

General Canrobert had an audience with the King of Sweden, and had a cordial reception. Nothing has transpired as to the success of his mission.

Reports are current at Paris that General Canrobert's mission is to demand the hand of the daughter of the King of Sweden for Prince Napoleon.

It is reported that Gen. Canrobert will visit Copenhagen on his return.

All the governments invited to take part in the conference of the Sound dues, including Russia, have signified their intention of being represented.

A private despatch says that Russia has absolutely prohibited the export of breadstuffs; also that Sweeden was expected to follow the example.

The export of breadstuffs from Turkish ports is prohibited, but importation is allowed, duty free.

CHARACTERISTIC.—Theodore Parker writes to Francis Jackson in praise of his recovery from sickness:—"Well, Doctors of Medicine know as little of the body, as Doctors of Divinity know of the soul; and it often happens that a man is saved, whom they give up as lost."

Nelson Handy, an Indiana farmer, after being confined in jail a week on the charge of passing a $6 counterfeit bill, was brought up on a writ of habeas corpus and discharged, the bill proving to be genuine! We do not learn that the State afforded him any redress.

It is said that Mrs. John Tyler, who was a Gardiner, is heir to a just discovered fortune in England, by which she will get $500,000.

In Milwaukie, reporters are a "privileged class." The Mayor has issued an order excluding them from the watch house!

JOHN S. HARVEY & SON have recently made numerous additions to their Circulating Library, and issued a new Catalogue of the same, which may be had gratis on application at their Store. This Library now contains 2500 volumes of History, Travels, Novels and Light Reading, to which all the new and popular publications are added as soon as published, thus affording to subscribers an opportunity to read all the new works as well as all the standard popular works. Subscribers are entitled to the use of two volumes at a time, which may be changed at pleasure, by paying $2.50 per year, or $1 for 3 months. o9

Lily Dale.

THIS is a new Cook Stove, invented last year by the makers of the world renowned Ray Stove, and is intended to meet the wants of all desiring a cheap Stove which will unite beauty with economy. It may be used either with Coal or Wood. The arrangements for using either are very complete. The size of the oven is larger for this Stove. It bakes as quick as any Stove in the market, and with an equal heat in every part. No Stove has ever been invented that has come so rapidly into use as the LILY DALE. Thousands of them have been sold within the last year in the New England States and have given perfect satisfaction.

Any person who likes an early breakfast, and wishes to purchase a first rate Stove for a small amount of money, we cordially invite to call at No. 45 Market street, where they will find the greatest variety of Cook, Parlor and Office stoves that can be found in this section of the country—all to be sold at reduced prices for Cash.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me., was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, uniting perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skilled in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of our citizens in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "A beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs established. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.

To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S COUGH MEDICINE, SHAW & CLARK, BIDDEFORD, ME., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of red enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

Sunny Side Parlor Cook.

TO obtain a PARLOR OVEN STOVE, that would combine the two qualities of a truly good and ornamental Stove, and at the same time could be relied upon to bake and boil when required,—from the demand for and the convenience of such a desideratum.—has been the cause of much and continued effort among manufacturers. With these facts in view, the proprietor of this patent has, this season, perfected and brought into the market, a Stove that proves to be the Parlor Cook wanted. The demand for this Stove exceeds the supply, and all who desire the handsomest and best Stove in the market, are invited to examine the "Sunny Side" of the picture here so imperfectly portrayed.

CONVICT REBELLION.

On Saturday we mentioned briefly, that a riot had occurred in the States Prison at Sing Sing, New York. The correspondent of the New York Times gives the following particulars:

On Tuesday, about 2 o'clock, Adam W. Bird, a relief keeper at the prison, went into the foundry to relieve Mr. Hatfield, the regular keeper of the shop. Mr Bird was immediately engaged in conversation by one of the convicts, who asked him if he had stated to the principal officers that he had found coffee, tea, sugar and rum in that shop. Bird replied that he had not. While thus engaged, a convict named Edward McGrath made an attack upon Bird, assaulting him with his fists.

The attack was joined in by some eight or ten others. Bird was knocked down and badly bruised. Another keeper, named Abram Van Wart, came to the rescue, and being assisted by two convicts, named Freeman and Foe, succeeded in getting Bird out of the shop. Benjamin Leggett then entered and ordered the men to go to work. The order was obeyed by all but McGrath, who struck at Mr Leggett, and called to the rest to "come on." Several convicts immediately responded to this call, but Mr Leggett succeeded in getting out of the shop, and, obtaining a carbine, returned to the scene of the riot, where he was joined by the agent and warden and the principal keeper.

The convicts were again ordered to work, and, not obeying, the officers proceeded summarily to enforce the order. Mr Batteman beat back McGrath with his cane, and Mr Leggett was forced to break his carbine over the head of a stalwart negro named Smith. Finding themselves met by determined men, the convicts returned to their duty, and order was restored.

As an evidence that this was a concocted plot, it was noticed that when the struggle first commenced, McGrath raised the window, and called out to the convicts in the brass shop that "the war had commenced—to come on!"—He also made the same call to the men in the file shop. The men in the brass shop started to respond to this call, but Mr Lewis, the foreman in the shop, stood at the door, and drove them back to their work. But for this determined coolness on the part of Mr Lewis, I can hardly doubt but that both shops would have been in open rebellion. The men in the file shop paid no attention to the call of McGrath, but kept steadily at their work.

McGrath is a man of small stature—but of high temper and determined resolution. He was convicted of grand larceny in the City of New York, on the 6th of October, 1852, and sentenced to four years' imprisonment. He is an Irishman.

This morning, there was a disturbance in the quarry gang, which resulted in the death of a convict named Urben, who was shot by the officers in self-defence. Urben was convicted in the city of New York, on the 4th of January, 1854, of assault with a deadly weapon, and sentenced for two years. He was an Irishman by birth, and one of the most desperate men. He was constantly violating the rules of the prison. He has met a terrible death, but one which he has richly merited.

When the prison was closed this evening, there were terrific groans and clankings of the iron doors along several of the corridors, the quarry and foundry gangs being the ringleaders. The shaking of eight or nine hundred iron doors, and the unearthly groans of the men would be somewhat frightful, were it not on the right side of substantial stone walls. Even there, it is an indication of ill-temper and bad blood that needs severe treatment.

Perhaps the treatment may have been too severe already. But the question arises, How came these 800 or 900 prisoners there? The true answer is, more than three quarters of them came there in consequence of strong drink!

Well may we ask, Who slew all these? There is guilt somewhere; at whose door shall it be laid?

"BLUE" WHITE LETTER PAPER.—The practice of bluing the paper pulp had its origin in a singularly accidental circumstance, which, not merely as an historical fact, but as forming an amusing anecdote, is perhaps worth mentioning. It occurred about the year 1790, at a paper-mill belonging to Mr Buttenshaw, whose wife, on the occasion in question, was superintending the washing of some fine linen, when accidentally she dropped her bag of powdered blue into the midst of some pulp in a forward state of preparation, and so great was the fear she entertained of the mischief she had done, seeing the blue rapidly amalgamated with the pulp that all allusion to it was studiously avoided; until, on Mr Buttenshaw's inquiring in great astonishment what it was that had imparted the peculiar color to the pulp, his wife, perceiving that no very great damage had been done, took courage and at once disclosed the secret; for which she was afterwards rewarded in a remarkable manner by her husband, who being naturally pleased with an advance of so much as four shillings per bundle, upon submitting the improved make to the London market, immediately purchased a costly scarlet cloak, (somewhat more congenial to taste, in those days, it is presumed, than it would be now,) with much satisfaction to the sharer of his joy.—Herring's Paper and Paper-making.

A MAYOR WORTH HAVING.—We have already noticed the election of Mr Miles to the Mayoralty of Charleston. The following article from the Norfolk Herald informs the people who and what he is:—

William P. Miles was, on Thursday last, elected Mayor of Charleston, by a majority of 416 votes. This is but a just appreciation of the noble character of this gentleman. Mr Miles was one of those benevolent spirits who came to our city at an early stage of the pestilence, as a nurse, and remained till after the 1st of October. He had made his arrangements for a delightful excursion to the Falls of Niagara, but learning that the fever was raging here with unusual violence, he instantly abandoned that intention, with all its pleasurable associations, and hastened to our city as a volunteer in the cause of humanity, in the midst of the pestilence, freely using the means he had appropriated for a very different purpose, and exerting his incessant and unwearying efforts in behalf of the sick and afflicted, seeing that none were neglected if in his power to afford relief; remaining by them until convalescent, or, if the disease proved fatal, with his own hands shrouding and lifting them into their coffins, and then following them to the grave. He "never wearied in well-doing," but was a striking instance of self-sacrificing moral heroism, not excelled by the immortal Howard himself.

PROFITS OF WHISKEY.—The present price of whiskey in Louisville, according to the Louisville Democrat, is 34 cents per gallon, which yields an enormous profit to the distiller, who pays 30 cents per bushel for his corn, (new corn,) grinds out about four hundred bushels per diem, which makes upwards of sixteen hundred gallons of new whiskey, or rather more than four gallons to the bushel. Thus a bushel of corn costing 30 cents, yields to the manufacturer upwards of four gallons of whiskey, which at 34 cents per gallon, amounts to the snug sum of $544 per day. The net profit on this single day's work of converting corn into whiskey is full $250, or upwards of $1,500 per week, provided the work is suspended on Sunday.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1855.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Message.—We learn from Washington, that the President has fully decided to communicate his forthcoming message to Congress in manuscript, not to be printed in advance as heretofore.

House.—A despatch, received on Saturday night, says:—

The Republicans, about thirty in number held a caucus this morning, but they made no nominations. They will, however, nearly, if not quite all, vote for General Cullom of Tennessee, for Clerk of the House, expecting the Americans to help them elect one of the Republican party as Speaker.

A Democratic caucus was held in the evening, at which about sixty were present. Mr Jones of Tennessee was chairman. Resolutions condemnatory of Know Nothingism and advocating National Democratic principles generally, were adopted unanimously.

Tariff.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune telegraphs as follows: "The forthcoming report of the Secretary of the Treasury will strongly recommend that unmanufactured wool, with chemicals and dye stuffs, should hereafter be admitted free of duty. With regard to iron, the Secretary will have nothing to propose interfering with the present tariff. A large space in the report will be taken up by careful and elaborate argument in support of the policy here indicated, which is very generally approved by the manufacturers in the Eastern States."

Robbery.—The Secretary of the Russian legation, who came passenger in the steamer Washington, was robbed here on Saturday of five hundred Holland ducats, valued at about $1000.

Two Parties.—No description of parties and their views, drawn by an outsider, can be so free from objection as quotations from their own statements.

National politics are now largely discussed in Maine; and we copy one extract from a paper of the Democratic party, and another from a Republican paper.

The first is from the Belfast Free Press, which is one of the most orthodox exponents of the "National Democracy" to be found in the State.

"In the administration of the interior affairs of the Union, the Nebraska bill will stand out as one of the most prominent and salutary measures adopted since the organization of the government. It is not only a measure of the administration;—but it is a measure of the party, and will be the great issue in the coming Presidential struggle. The Cincinnati Convention will hold no one responsible for an original difference of opinion upon this important measure; but it will require of its members and candidates as unconditional acquiescence in it, as an evidence of party fealty. A delegate who should go to Cincinnati, fresh from a denunciation of the repeal of the "Missouri Compromise," so called, would be looked upon as having about the same claims upon the party as Seward and Hale. Their title to seats in the Convention would be about as valid. * * * * * *

The Kansas bill is a Northern measure, a Southern measure, a Western measure, a peaceful measure, and a measure of the National Democratic party. Those who denounce it or declare it inexpedient, are candidates for admission to the abolition party, and the sooner they are taken into the abolition church the better."

The other is from the Kennebec Journal, Republican, printed at Augusta.

"Thus our government is in the hands of a class—a class resting on property—and that property in man—a class haughty, overbearing, and aggressive as any nobility that exists in any of the countries of the Old World.—This black nobility has corrupted the whole civilization of the States in which it exists.— * * The White House is to-day the Sevastopol of this black Russia.

Can the White House be taken in '56? It can be if the opponents of its occupants can be united. It is evident that the Anti-Nebraska Americans are not strong enough alone.—It is quite clear that the Republican party is its own might should not risk the conflict, if honorable allies can be had. Let there be a common bond of union between all the honest opponents of the National Administration. There need be no special fastidiousness about names. Some may prefer to be known as Americans; others may prefer that ever-honorable name of Republican. Some may have a choice to discard all party names and fellowship for the present, but are ready to aid, in their own way, in hurling from power the most corrupt, disgraceful, and tyrannical dynasty that ever ruled a professedly free land. Let each have the name he may prefer, and select the honored weapon he may like to wield, and serve in the noble alliance to rescue his country from its political thrall of wickedness and shame.

It is too late to cavil long about platforms, if there is a common purpose to place in the Presidential chair a man worthy of the country at this important emergency."

C. C. Conley has been elected representative from Boston to the "great and general court" by a majority of 336. He is of pure Irish extraction.—Exchange.

Very likely he may be. And so all the people of New England are of pure foreign extraction, except a few Penobscot and Marshpee Indians and half-breeds.

Horace Greeley is to spend the winter at Washington, as the "special representative and correspondent" of the New York Tribune.

THE SURE ANCHOR.

The Author has sent us a copy of a new religious book, with this title: The Sure Anchor; or the Young Christian Admonished, Exhorted, and Encouraged. By Rev. H. P. Andrews. "Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast." Paul. Boston; James French and Company. 1855.

We find it, on examination, a book of more than usual liveliness of style, and earnestness of manner. Its doctrines are those in which all the christian sects usually called evangelical, are agreed. And it may be read with pleasure and profit, by those who cherish brighter views and profess a more liberal creed, because it is evidently the work of a man who believes what he says, and who feels as if he has a mission to bless mankind.

The reader may get some idea of the book from a few lines of the preface.

The author of the following pages has prayed for divine guidance. He has written just as he would have talked to the young had they been around him in his study while these thoughts were passing through his mind. It has been his aim to do good; to describe to the youthful mariner upon the voyage to eternity a "Sure Anchor;" one that will not fail him in the severest storms, and which no sudden blast, however violent, will displace. If he has failed in his work, he has failed through lack of knowledge, and not from any perversity of intention.

Horrible! Most Horrible!—The Eastern Argus contains the following distressing intelligence!

$9000 for Rum!—The town liquor agency (legal rum shop!) of New Haven has sold nine thousand dollars' worth of liquor the past year. This sum would purchase ninety hogsheads of rum! According to the law, this large amount must all have gone for "medicinal" and "mechanical" uses. What a wretched farce!

Let us look into this distressing affair.

By the census of 1850, New Haven contained 20,000 people, throwing out a few odd hundreds.

Now supposing the City Agency there had sold $10,000 worth instead of nine; and we have the vast expenditure of 50 cents a year, for each inhabitant.

Calling a year 50 weeks instead of 52, and we have the tremendous sum of one red cent per week for each person in New Haven.—But really, as there were but $9,000 taken in 52 weeks, and as the population is probably something over 20,000 at this time, the real expenditure per week is about eight mills.

Any body who knows how much rum, wine or brandy can be bought for 8 mills, can see to the bottom of this awful rum story.

Some of the abolition papers declare that Passmore Williamson got off without any purgation from the contempt with which he treated the U S Court at Philadelphia, and its implied perjury, and assume that Judge Kane was glad to get rid of him through a mere formality. We think Williamson's petition for leave to amend his return was a confession that he had committed contempt, and if he did not purge himself of it in terms, and in fact, he perjured himself a second time.—There is no getting around this conclusion.—N H Patriot.

There is no need of getting around it. It all depends on two or three ifs, neither of which is true.

We do not know what to understand by implied perjury. It is almost as obscure as constructive treason.

Williamson's story, whether true or false, was alike for substance from first to last, though varied in its form, at Judge Kane's dictation, and accepted at last against the protest of the District Attorney.

But the question whether Passmore Williamson was a wise man or a fool, a liar or a man of truth, is not the main question before the American people in relation to the U S Court; but it is, whether the barefaced usurpation and detestable tyranny of Judge Kane are to be approved or disapproved? It is, whether a Judge can commit to prison during his pleasure a man guilty of no crime? This is precisely what he has done: and for this, he deserves impeachment and disgrace.

By the way, the Patriot, in the last three weeks, does not see fit either to quote from Uncle Toby to prove its assertions against him,—or to back out from them.

Is this the Patriot's high sense of honor or honesty, which is so earnestly urged on us?

Will the physician please to heal himself?

Massachusetts.—The following is a complete list of the representatives elected at the second trial on the fourth Monday in November:

Boston, Charles C. Conley; Dorchester, Gustavus E. Haynes; Ware, Samuel H. Phelps; Stockbridge, Thomas Wells; West Stockbridge, Heman Ford. All Americans.

Commodores in Washington.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Express says:

"The three illustrious Commodores of New York have all arranged here for a winter campaign—Commodore George Law, in an establishment of his own, with equipage, &c., &c.; Commodore Vanderbilt, at Brown's, with his family; and Commodore Collins, here, there, and every where. When Greek meets Greek, then comes the tug of war. The Washington coming campaign is to be a great one, on ocean and on land."

LOCAL.

☞ Two or three good boys, 10 or 11 years old, wish for places where they can earn a living. Persons wanting such boys, or a girl of 12 years, may find them by applying to the City Missionary.

☞ The Ballot of this morning contains half a column of matter about "Flour Dealer," partly editorial and partly auto-biographical:—but as no new statements are made, or new arguments introduced—we are content to let the thing remain where it is: and if any portion of the public choose to believe that the dealer is a sufferer, or that he tells the whole truth in his story, why let them do so by all means. But a statement may be "true as far as it goes,"—and yet the man that makes it, and omits two or three essential particulars thereby falsifies the whole impression of the statement, and even sometimes shifts the entire merits of a case from one side to the other.

The Dealer did something like this in his first article. He has not undone it in the second. s.

Robbing Hen-Roosts.—Two instances of this mean kind of thing occurred in our village, during the last week. The hen-roost of Elder J. W. Marsh was entered on Wednesday night, and seventeen fine chickens of the Bolton Grey breed were stolen. We understand that ten dollars reward is offered for the detection of the thief or thieves.

The other instance was the purloining of seven of Mr Carleton Spaulding's poultry on Monday night, the 27th ult.—Exeter News-Letter.

Collision between Military Companies.—At Ashland, Schuylkill, county, Pa., a collision occurred between an Irish and an American military company. The Irish fired upon the Americans, when the latter charged bayonets upon the former, and wounded three of them, two of whom have since died.

There is but little doubt but that Mr Josiah B. Kilbourn left for England in the steamer Asia. It is rumored he was disguised in in dress and gave a fictitious name.—Boston Mail.—

A letter to the Portland Advertiser states that Black, who robbed the mail between Lubec and Machias last summer and spring, and was sentenced to one month imprisonment in the county jail at Machias, has served out his time, and again been put on as driver of the mail stage between that place and Machias, his father being the mail contractor.

Fatal Accident in Candia.—On Tuesday evening an old lady known as Mrs Capt. French, was so badly burned by her clothes taking fire, that she died on Thursday. She was alone in the room at the time, reading, and before she could reach the family in another part of the house, her clothes were nearly burnt off. She was over 80 years old.—Manchester American.

Thanksgiving Parties.—The Salem Register says:—

There were many pleasant re-unions on Thanskiving, but none, perhaps more pleasant than that of the family of our venerable and respected townsman, Benjamin Cox, Esq. All the members of the family—children and grand children—were assembled around the family board, numbering upwards of twenty. What is most remarkable is the fact of its being the seventy-second consecutive Thanksgiving dinner which the honored head of the family has eaten in the same room.

Another pleasant gathering was that of the family of Mr. John Mansfield, numbering thirty-three, including all the living members, with the exception of one absent at sea—seven of the connections having died.

Thanksgiving in Rowley.—We understand that the Rowley Riflemen paraded on Thursday, and marched to church in full uniform, to listen to the Thanksgiving discourse of Rev. John Pike. This is introducing a new feature in the observance of our New England Thanksgiving, although a military parade in honor of the day, is not unusual farther South. Shooting hens and turkeys has long been considered, by "outside barbarians," as a legitimate pastime on such occasions, and it is not to be disputed that, with military parades for Thanksgiving, and Grand Balls to celebrate the Landing of the Fathers at Plymouth, the sons and daughters of the Pilgrims are rapidly coming up with "the rest of mankind" in this fast age.—Salem Register.

Thanksgiving.—'Well,' said Mrs Partington, as she returned from Quincy market on Wednesday, 'poultry is dreadful high, as Paul used to say when the turkeys roosted in the tops of the elm trees. But we can be contented with a little, and that which is good, if we only have enough of it.' She lifted the cover of the basket and took therefrom a 'titanic rooster' of the Shanghai breed, and laid it with a smile upon the table. 'A good many folks,' said Ike, trying to break the toes of the bird, 'haint got no turkeys for Thanksgiving.' Mrs Partington paused a moment, looked with a tenderness upon the rooster that the rooster didn't return, and sighed as she said, 'I wish everybody had it.' Heaven's blessings on them, Mrs Partington, that uttered the wish! and may Heaven strengthen thy seven remaining teeth, for the Shanghai is a grandfather, and the promise made to thy appetite in the yellow cuticle of the bird will be broken to thy teeth in sinewy resistance on the morrow. But like will revel in the raisins, for the box, though hidden, has been hunted to its lair, and already have its sweets been rifled.—Boston Post.

The following is the substance of a story going the rounds. A stuttering boy gets used to the round face winged figures on old fashioned tombstones—afterwards he happens to shoot an owl—"there it is," he exclaims, "I've sh—sho—(excuse the rest of the stuttering) shot a cherubim!"

One hundred crowded passenger cars left the depot in Springfield over the four roads, north, south, east and west, on Wednesday last. Thanksgiving gave an impetus to railroad business.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, may almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or Throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

BOY WANTED in a Store. Inquire at this office. n27

FIRE IN CHELSEA—Six Horses Burnt to Death.—Sunday evening, about half-past 8 o'clock, fire was discovered in a large stable on Williams street, Chelsea, near the ferry slip, owned by S. J. Durell, which, together with its contents, consisting of fifteen tons of hay, a large number of wagons, and harnesses, was entirely consumed. Loss about $2500. No insurance. As there had been no fire kept in the building, the fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. In the stable at the time of the fire were eleven valuable horses, six of whom were burned to death before they could be rescued. The fire made an exceedingly brilliant light, illuminating the country for miles around.

ACCIDENT AT CHELSEA FERRY, BOSTON.—Sunday evening, as the Chelsea ferry boat was approaching the slip, a youth attempted to spring on board before the boat was fully in, and slipping as he sprung he fell between the boat and the landing, just as the steamer was about to strike the wharf, and had both of his legs crushed in a horrible manner. It is doubtful if he survives. This is another sad warning to those who risk their lives to save a second or two of time.

THE INDIAN DIFFICULTIES.—The Washington Star says:

"The Indians in Oregon and Washington Territories do not commit their outrages indiscriminately upon the whites, but only upon the Americans. The subjects of Britain there remain almost entirely unmolested by them. This is accounted for by the fact that their arms and ammunition are procured from the Hudson's Bay Company, which still has stations in that quarter of our country. By the treaty, they may retain their posts and trading houses on our side of the line until this government pays them a valuation for them.—Having availed themselves of the privilege, their commerce with the hostile savages is really at the bottom of most of the murders and robberies the latter are committing on our people."

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—On Saturday afternoon, Nov. 24th, the Connecticut River Railroad freight train from the north, ran off the track at Cheapside, just as they were going on to the bridge, precipitating the whole train into the road beneath, causing a complete wreck of cars and freight. No lives were lost and but one man was injured. The height of the bridge is some eighty or ninety feet, and is so much injured that the passage over it will be interrupted for some time, and passengers now cross the county bridge in carriages. It is a most fortunate circumstance that it was not a passenger train, as great loss of life must have been the result. The slow rate of the freight train gave the brakeman a chance to escape.—Mail.

SHOP BREAKING.—The shop of George B. Webster, in East Kingston, was broken into last Monday night, by breaking and entering through the window, and fourteen pairs of shoes stolen, belonging to George K. Dakin, a workman in the shop. The next morning Mr Dakin tracked the thief southerly on the railroad, and took the first train to Newton, finding he had not passed there, he followed back a short distance and met Henry Huntress, a well known transient thief. He was immediately arrested, his bundle searched and six pairs of the missing shoes found therein. He was tried before Justice Whittier of Newton, and in default of one hundred dollars bail, committed to the Jail in Exeter, to await his trial at the Feb. Term of Court.

We learn that Huntress has been but a short time out of Amherst Jail. He was tried about a year since in this county for shop breaking and stealing, but acquitted on the ground of insanity and set loose again, to prey on the community. We have been informed he is a city pauper, belonging to Portsmouth.—Exeter Newsletter.

The Newark Advertiser, says that the body of Clements, (whose death was caused by a stone thrown from the hands of Robert Quill, the keeper of a drinking shop,) still remains unburied, the Catholic priest refusing to inter it in consecrated ground because the Coroner's inquest persisted in refusing to render a verdict, as requested by him, that the deceased was not intoxicated at the time he was struck. The Jury did not consider it a part of their duty to enter into any investigation of that subject, as their business was not to try the habits or condition of the deceased, but to ascertain the occasion of his death.

AFFRAY IN WEST NEWTON.—On Thursday a Protestant Irishman named Riley, together with his wife, had a difficulty with one James Mahan, whom they best severely.—Mahan forthwith procured a warrant from Justice Davis, for the arrest of Riley, on the charge of assault and battery. In the afternoon, James and Michael Mahan, in company with a third person, repaired to Riley's house, and attacked him, beating him severely with a pitchfork, stones, &c., so that on Saturday he was considered to be in a critical condition.

RETURN OF FUGITIVES.—We understand that the seven negroes, belonging to Miss Susan L. Hatcher, who ran away last Saturday night, have all returned. It is said that on reaching the Appomattox river, the vessel that was to take them off was not to be found, and hence they had no alternative but to come back. They will hardly get a chance to run away again. The underground railroad is in a bad way just now.—Richmond (Va.) Whig, Thursday.

THE RECENT ARMY APPOINTMENTS.—It is stated that the Secretary of War has ordered a Board of Army officers to assemble at Charleston, S. C., to examine the recent citizen appointments to the Army. Several resignations have already been received from those who were ordered to appear before the Board of examination.

THE Norfolk Herald of 29th ult., says:—"Large quantities of corn, of the new crop, are arriving in our harbor, and there is an unusual demand for vessels to take it off to other ports. Coasting vessels are much wanted, and will always find cargoes waiting for them, with freights at the highest figure.

Reading for the Long Evenings.

JOHN S. HARVEY & SON have recently made numerous additions to their Circulating Library, and issued a new Catalogue of the same, which may be had gratis on application at their Store. This Library now contains 2500 volumes of History, Travels, Novels and Light Reading, to which all the new and popular publications are added as soon as published, thus affording to subscribers an opportunity to read all the new works as well as all the standard popular works. Subscribers are entitled to the use of two volumes at a time, which may be changed at pleasure, by paying $2.50 per year, or $1 for 3 months. o9

Lily Dale.

THIS is a new Cook Stove, invented last year by the makers of the world renowned Ray Stove, and is intended to meet the wants of all desiring a cheap Stove which will unite beauty with economy. It may be used either with Coal or Wood. The arrangements for using either are very complete. The size of the oven is large for the Stove. It bakes as quick as any Stove in the market, and with an equal heat in every part. No Stove has ever been invented that has come so rapidly into use as the LILY DALE. Thousands of them have been sold within the last year in the New England States and have given perfect satisfaction.

Any person who likes an early breakfast, and wishes to purchase a first rate Stove for a small amount of money, we cordially invite to call at No. 42 Market street, where they will find the greatest variety of Cook, Parlor and Office stoves that can be found in this section of the country—all to be sold at reduced prices for Cash.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me., was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skillful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of our citizens in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "A beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the CAUSE, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs attained. A compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.

Morning Chronicle.

A PATRIOT.—We cannot tell who is hit in the following paragraph, from the Boston correspondence of the New York Evening Post, and leave it for our readers to guess:

"A good story is told of one of our State office-holders, who seemed to be desirous, in the late contest, to keep well with everybody. Originally a Whig, he joined the Know Nothings, in their early days, and was elected to a high local office in his place of residence. He was the holder of a good county office, to which he had been appointed by the Whig State Government, and which he retained under the Know Nothing ascendency. When the last attempt at the formation of a Republican party was made, this gentleman favored it and was for a time prominent among the supporters of Mr Rockwell, to aid in whose election he gave the sum of twenty-five dollars. As time went on, it occurred to him that Mr Beach might be chosen, and he gave twenty-five dollars to aid to elect him. He was not the only man who was so deceived, as the Democratic and Liberal votes were rated a good deal higher than they came to.

But not long before election day it began to be whispered about, and then to be talked openly, that Governor Gardner's chances were the best, whereupon our disinterested office holder, tendered the sum of $50 for the purpose of advancing his Excellency's prospects. But the Know Nothings were not to be duped in that way. They did not need the money, and they told him that they would not take him back, with so small a premium. It would, they said, be doing injustice to themselves were they to do so. They have, since the election, taken measures to have him removed, and his case will come before the Governor and Council at their next meeting, which will commence on the third of December. A distinguished gentleman has been named for the place, who will, probably, receive it, to the great satisfaction of all who dislike time serving and want of back bone."

This beats a certain Boston politician, now or recently a Know Nothing, who in the Clay campaign in '44 was an ardent Whig. He was deputed one evening to go from South Boston to the city proper, to obtain election returns from New York or Pennsylvania, and finding that the State had gone for Polk, securing his election, he returned bearing a torch in a Democratic procession!—Boston Journal.

AN ARGUMENT FROM THE STATE'S PRISON.—It is very well known that the prohibitive liquor law is enforced in this State, throwing out Boston and a few of the larger towns and cities. A gentleman who employs a large number of the convicts in the State's Prison in Charlestown, was conversing, a few days since, with the Warden, when it was remarked that there were then, and had been for some time, fifty less convicts than usual confined in the prison. "How do you account for this?" said the contractor. The Warden replied that he knew of no way to account for it, except in the fact that the prohibitive law had been generally enforced in the country. He then stated that there had been no diminution of convicts from Boston, but that the falling off had been altogether from the country. We ask the citizens of Boston to make a note of this. The anti-liquor law has here been trampled under foot. If we remember correctly, there has not been a single conviction under the new statute, while in the country the law has been respected and enforced.

The above statement is from a reliable source, and in addition to the fact given, the opinion is expressed by the Warden that the diminution of convicts is attributable to the enforcement of the law.

Now, when it is known that seven-eighths of all the commitments to the State's Prison may be traced directly to the use of rum, the value of the Warden's statement is greatly enhanced. Any one who will frequent the courts of justice will be convinced, in looking at the prisoners as they are arraigned, that rum is at the bottom of nearly all the crimes committed.—Boston Telegraph.

UTAH TO BE A SLAVE STATE.—I met a prominent citizen of Salt Lake City when at Weston. His name is Williams. He is the principal merchant of the Latter Day Saints, and also, I believe, one of the twelve unholy apostles. I inferred from his conversation that the name of his Deity is Gum. He asseverated by Gum. When he wished to be solemnly emphatic he declared "My Gum!" and then would make his statement. I am inclined to believe that the Gum he invoked is Gum Arabic. But I will refer to this curious problem on another occasion.

I heard him say that when Utah applied for admission into the Union, she would seek to be enrolled as a slave State. He said that he owned a slave; that all the apostles did; and that polygamist, Brigham Young, owns several negroes. This statement, although at variance with previous accounts from Utah, is undoubtedly true. I submit it as a text for political essays and Buncombe speeches.

He told me that the accounts of famine in Utah had been enormously exaggerated; and that there is corn enough in their Egypt yet for two years to come.—Kansas correspondent of St Louis Democrat.

A VERITABLE PATRIARCH.—We see by the Bangor Journal that Father Sawyer, in his one hundredth year, journeyed some weeks since some four hundred miles, from Garland, Me., to his native town of Hebron, Conn. He preached last Sunday week. His text was, "Is it well with thee?" Said he, "It is now ninety-nine years since my good father and mother brought me to the meeting-house on this green, to give me up to God in the ordinance of baptism. I have come back, after almost a hundred years, to administer the same ordinance to some of the children of the same church, and to inquire, "Is it well with you?"

SHOE BUSINESS IN LYNN.—The Lynn News says that shoes are sent from Lynn to Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, to be made; and a large number of expresses, running in all directions, find a great amount of business in carrying the stock and shoes out and back between the manufacturers and the workmen. Much of the prosperity and growth of other places is owing directly to the enterprise of Lynn, The News thinks it would be safe to say, that three-fifths of the boots and shoes sold by Lynn manufacturers are bound and made out of the city.

FAMINE.—Advices from Cape de Verd of October 31st, announce that a terrible panic is now prevalent at the Cape de Verd islands, the crops having totally failed, and nearly all the cattle had died of starvation. Many of the inhabitants were also dying of starvation. The United States Consul had made an appeal through Commodore Crabbe to the people of this country for assistance. At the island of San Antonio 30,000 people are living on the stalk of the banana and the carcasses of the animals that have died of starvation.—Boston Chronicle.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1855.

CHOICE EXTRACTS.—The Boston Mail, a day or two before election, gave out sundry "Omens of Victory," among them the following.

Every day brings fresh accounts of the spread of Liberal principles, and the success of the Liberal nominees may now be considered as a fixed fact. The camp fires are burning brightly both in city and country, and the voters of Massachusetts are determined to remove the stigma that has been placed on the name and honor of the old Bay State. The tornado of fanaticism has swept over the Commonwealth, and now nature and reason are restoring the order that existed before its ravages commenced.

* * * * *

All that the people want is to understand rightly the issue now proposed to them, and their votes, in such a case, are certain for Beach and Davenport. Therefore be vigilant, be zealous, and victory is certain.

* * * * *

The weakness of the friends of prohibition is evinced by their unwillingdess to avow openly their approval of the measure, notwithstanding they secretly favor it.

* * * * *

But if the enemy is crafty and timid, the Liberal man is ingenuous and courageous. His principles and purposes are boldly avowed.

* * * * *

The ship of state is not lost. Freshening winds are now filling her sails. A captain, familiar with rocks, shoals and quicksands, will soon be at the helm. Glad shouts even now go up from the deck in anticipation of a pleasant and propitious voyage; and the gallant craft will soon move over the ocean waters as nobly as in the days of Hancock, Brooks and Lincoln. Cheer her, Boys, as she puts to sea, with the flag of BEACH & DAVENPORT flying at her mast head.

So much for the plans of the voyage. Now for the Log Book. Election day, the ship Liberal sunk in Boston harbor. The crew were supposed to be intoxicated.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTH DAY.—The New York Commercial Advertiser suggests that the 22d of February should be observed in all parts of the Union as a national holiday. In Boston, arrangements have already been made for a celebration of the next anniversary of Washington's Birth Day, and Edward Everett is the orator. The services will be under the auspices of the Mercantile Library Association. We publish the concluding paragraph of Mr Everett's letter to the Committee of Arrangements, as it will show that the young men have taken hold of this matter in earnest:

'The purpose of the young gentlemen of your association to celebrate the birth day of the father of his country, as indicated in your letter, is so commendable and so well calculated to strengthen the foundations of an enlightened patriotism, that I feel as if I should do wrong to withhold my participation. There is the greater propriety in selecting the next anniversary for such a celebration, as the first visit of Washington to Boston was made in the last week in February, 1756, just a century ago next winter. I have much pleasure in complying with your request, and I remain, gentlemen, with deep interest in the prosperity of your association, and friendly regard individually towards yourselves

Sincerely yours,
EDWARD EVERETT.

THE RUSSIAN LOSS AT SEBASTOPOL.—Gortschakoff in his general order issued after the fall of South Sebastopol acknowledges the daily loss of from 500 to 1000 men for thirty days previous to that event. The New York Evening Post thus comments upon the startling statement of the Russian General:

What an immense waste of human life is here acknowledged! Taking the expression of the general order literally, we have a daily loss of 750 men to the Russian army, amounting to 22,500 men in the last thirty days of the siege. Every day nearly a thousand men cut off from life; every night a vast grave to be dug and the earth to be heaped over that mountain of dead! And yet the cause for which the war was undertaken was not worth a single life of all the thousands upon thousands which it has cost the Russian people.—All perished in a struggle in which not one of the races by which Russia is inhabited has any interest—a struggle to extend the dominion of the Czar.

CAPE DE VERD ISLANDS.—On our first page to-day, is an account of a famine at the Cape de Verd Islands. A gentleman who has been on the spot, gives us this item of comment:

Mr. Editor:—It might be well to remark that the people are about as well off now as usual, at the Verd Islands. The islands never supply sufficient food for the use of the inhabitants. The islands of Mayo and Sal are dependant upon the sale of salt to support the people. S.

NEW MUSIC.—"Song of the happy father," a humorous quartet, composed by Ossian E. Dodge; "Bright star of my bosom," a serenade song, composed by J. Becker. Both meritorious and desirable compositions. Geo. B. Reed & Co., Boston, publishers; for sale by J. S. Harvey & Son, with a full assortment of vocal and instrumental music.

SURRENDERED.—Mr Coburn, of Shawmut Avenue lame, was on Monday evening surrendered by his bail, Mr C. V. Whitten, of the firm of John Gove & Co., and being unable to obtain other bondsmen, he was remanded to jail to await his trial.—Boston Chronicle.

FROM MEXICO.—We are in the receipt of Mexican papers to the 18th of November. From the Trait d'Union of the 17th we learn that General Alvarez, on the 15th, entered the capital, where he was received by salvos of artillery and immense popular rejoicing. He had previously issued the following proclamation:

"Mexicans:—In entering the capital of the Republic, I deem it my duty to address you, not for the purpose of rendering an account of my conduct, for that is open to the country and the world—but rather to tell you of my hopes. A glorious revolution has been consummated. Tyranny has fallen. Despotism has disappeared forever. The principles which our fathers conquered, by twelve years of glorious and severe struggle, and which the Dictator had snatched from us, have been reconquered.

Fellow-citizens—I bring you Liberty and Peace. Blessings so precious are not dear at any price. It is for you to preserve them. Union is the only means of rendering Peace assured. Let us enter together upon the road of Liberty and Progress; let us continue united, without stopping to consider whether some advance more rapidly than others.

Compatriots—The Government knows no enemies but the traitors to her Independence and the tools of Despotism.

For my part, I have no other aspirations;—to redeem the nation,—to leave it on the glorious path marked out by the Revolution, and to retire, as soon as possible, to the care of my private interests, and to pass in tranquility the few days of life which remain to me,—this is my sole desire. You ought, therefore, to believe in the sincerity of my words.

I have raised the flag—a papular representative Republic, gathered around that banner, aid me in carrying out its principles. And believe me your fellow citizen and friend,

JUAN ALVAREZ."

The Mexican papers contrast the republican simplicity of his entrance with the magnificent displays of Santa Anna. Alvarez did not receive any official congratulations upon his entrance, but repaired to the Cathedral, when Te Deum was performed. The garrison had been withdrawn to the neighboring cities to render conflict impossible. Its place was supplied by General Villareal, at the head of 1200 men. Festivities of all kinds, and general illuminations, celebrated the return of Alvarez to the capital. The Ministry had not been formed. Tampico is still defended against the revolutionary troops.

LATE FROM HAYTI. Philadelphia, Dec. 3.—By the arrival at this port of the bark Chas. E. Lex, Capt. Harper, we have Haytien news to the 14th ult.

At Aux Cayes, business was exceedingly dull. Money, with produce, were in very limited supply. The new Coffee crop was small and none coming to market, owing to the scarcity of labor.

The Emperor had been successful among the laboring classes in raising a respectable force to march as soldiers against the eastern (Dominican) part of the island. This recruiting paralyzed busidess to such an extent that men could not be found to foward the little native produce on hand to market.

It was reported that the Emperor was going to the eastern part of the island at the instance of its President, Santa Anna, who is inclined to acquiesce in any honorable measure to prevent a collision between the two governments.

FROM HAVANA.—New York, Dec, 3.—The steamship Black Warrior arrived this evening with Havana dates to the 28th ult.

The French brig-of-war La Perouse arrived at Havana on the 27th ult.

Great preparations were being made at Havana for a grand celebration of the funeral obsequies of the late Capt. General Tacon.

Freights were slightly improving for small vessels.

DEATH OF AN EDITOR.—We regret to learn that Samuel Kettell, the editor of the Courier, died at his residence in Malden Monday night. He has been confined to his house for nearly a year past with a lingering and painful illness. Mr Kettell has been connected with the Courier since 1848, succeeding Joseph T. Buckingham, Esq. He was an able and forcible writer, and a vigorous reasoner. His philological knowledge was unusually accurate and extensive.—Boston Journal.

POSTAL DEFICIT.—New York, Dec. 4—The Tribune says: "We learn from good authority that the deficit in the Post Office the present year will be about two millions and a half of dollars, or some three quarters of a million more than last year. There has been added during the year 3700 miles of road service to the operations of the Department."

THE TRIAL OF BAKER.—On Friday, (says the N Y Evening Post,) "a passage of arms took place between the counsel for the defendant and the prosecution, in which the former accused the latter of packing the court room with friends and sympathisers of Poole to the number of five or six hundred, and of excluding the friends of the defendant, one of whom, Lynn, jointly indicted with Baker, had been refused admission."

The crier of the court stated that Lynn had demanded admission for a number of his friends at the same time, and that he had refused to admit them, but not him. It also appeared that several hundred subpœnas for witnesses had been issued by the prosecution, and had been distributed by handfulls in public houses, although the District Attorney disavowed all knowledge of the fact, and said that he had only issued subpœnas for such witnesses as he should call upon the stand.

Some remarks from Mr Whiting on the culpability of an attempt on the part of the defence to appeal to the mob excited loud applause, which was promptly checked by the Court.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A man named Munyan, residing in the South part of Grafton, was thrown from his carriage on Friday afternoon last, while riding through the middle of the town, and had his skull fractured in several places, and his arm broken near the wrist. He was not expected to survive.—Worcester Spy.

The Philadelphia Ledger says, the anthracite coal trade is considerably depressed, and some of the best men in the mining regions are going out of the business.

LOCAL.

☞ The Ladies of the Methodist Society hold a Social Levee or Festival, at Jefferson Hall this evening, for the benefit of their Church and Society. The Hall has been nicely fitted and trimmed for the occasion; and the ladies will be found amply able and abundanly willing to entertain all who wish to pass a pleasant social evening. See the advertisement, and don't forget to see the advertisers also.

☞ The Old Folks Choir is to meet this evening, (see advertisement,) for rehearsal and business. We are informed that they contemplate giving a concert of the ancient sacred music, this winter. Of course their harps will 'in tune be found,' fally 'up to concert pitch;' and will have full and eager hearing.

☞ The Selectmen of Ward No. 1, in this city, meet this evening for the last time, at the Ward Room in Elm street for the purpose of examining the papers of Naturalized Foreigners, and recording the same.

☞ In place of the usual lecture before the Mercantile Library Association, on Tuesday evening, Mr Wyzeman Marshall gave Readings from Shakespeare and the Poets, with his usual and acknowledged ability and taste.

DIED, in this city, Dec. 3 1, after a long and very painful illness, of consumption, Mr. SAMUEL R. CLEAVES, aged 36 years, only son of Hon. Samuel Cleaves of this city.—Mr. Cleaves was well known as one of our most popular, enterprising and public-spirited citizens; having labored and expended much to forward many matters of general interest and importance. Possessed of exquisite taste and skill, as is evinced in the adornment of his beautiful private residence, he was ever ready to render invaluable assistance on occasions of public or private decorations, floral processions, &c.; and in so doing, has secured a lasting remembrance in the hearts of many, especially the young, who appreciated his services. Though cut off while in the midst of his years, and with everything around him to make life desirable, he was not fearful, but resigned, to go to rest forever, in the halcyon bowers of those "everlasting gardens,

Where angels walk and seraphs are the wardens:
Where every flower escaped through death's dark portal, Becomes immortal." F.

In Bristol, R. I., Dec 2, Edward Howard, of this city, aged 24 years, after a painful illness of nine days, caused by a stab he received from the hand of an assassin.

The deceased leaves a large number of mourning relatives, who keenly feel this blow, and sorrow that he who was the flower and the pride of his family, should meet a fate so sad, an end so untimely. He had many friends and companions in this city, as also in Providence, Warren and Bristol, R. I., to whom he was much endeared, for his kind and manly heart, his gentle and uniform manner: these friends now mourn for him as for a brother. But he has departed: God has taken him to the reward of the just.

Funeral this afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from the Middle street Church. Friends are invited to attend. F.

MATRIMONIAL.—We are indebted to several of our young "Mr. & Mrs." friends, for cards, cake, &c., received of late, for which we trust we are duly thankful, though we have not acknowledged them in each case. We cannot say that these reminders and hints of what is going on among the young folks, make us any better satisfied with our own "state;" but if they are indicative of the annealing of any of life's woes, of enlarging the area of freemen, or assisting the progress of us walkers "here below," we shall certainly rejoice with those that rejoice." So, bring out the cake and—water. F.

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.—The County Committee give notice in the Phenix that a convention of the friends of temperance in Rockingham County will be held in Chester on the 14th of December, at 11 o'clock A. M. Addresses by Rev E. W. Jackson, J. W. Ray Esq., and others.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested, and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

XXXIV CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

MONDAY, Dec. 3.

SENATE.—The Senate was called to order and new members were sworn in at noon.

HOUSE.—Mr Forney, Clerk, called the House to order, when the confusion which existed up to this time, was abruptly terminated. Two hundred and twenty-five members answered to their names.

On motion of Mr Jones, the House proceeded to the election of a Speaker, viva voce.

Nominations were then made with the following result:—

Richardson of Illinois, Democrat, 74; Fuller of Pennsylvania, Know Nothing, 17; Campbell of Ohio, Republican, 53; Pennington of New Jersey, 7; Marshall of Kentucky, Know Nothing, 30; Banks of Massachusetts, Republican, 21.

Others were voted for. No election, 113 being necessary for a choice.

The vote on the 4th ballot was the same as the first, with the following exceptions:—Messrs Bailey and Harris, who had voted for Richardson, absent; Bennett and Gilbert, who had voted for Campbell, absent; Bliss changed from Harlan, Dodd from Banks, Knox from Haven, Meacham from Pennington, Wade from Harlan, and voted for Campbell.

The National Americans, will, it is believed, to-morrow vote for Mr Fuller, and endeavor to draw the entire Democratic vote on him, by conceding to them the Clerk and Printer, thus forming a union against the Free Soil factions. They deny that the Republicans can, by fusion, poll more than 105 votes, whilst 113 are necessary to elect.

The President persists in refusing to print the message.

AFFAIRS AT WASHINGTON.—Washington, Dec. 3.—Despatches received by the Atlantic represent our affairs with England as being wholly unchanged since the departure of the Canada.

Mr Buchanan says that Lord Clarendon and the British Cabinet are endeavoring to patch-up a reply to our Government's communication referring to the violation of our neutrality laws by British agents, in order, if possible, not to wound our sensitivenets, and at the same time shield Mr Crampton.

Our government has formally acted on the memorial of Denmark, proposing a capitalization, or a tax according to the value of a cargo in lieu of the present Sound dues, and rejected the proposition.

Caucuses are being held to-night. It is generally understood that the Black Republicans and Freesoilers will concentrate to-morrow on Mr Banks, and, numbering 123, that they will be sufficient to elect him.

A caucus of Southern K. Ns., National Democrats and Whigs, numbering 73, resolved to reject all fusion with the Freesoil faction, but have no hope of defeating them.

Messrs Greely, Weed and Seward have been all day working to fuse the factions, and are understood to have succeeded.

We may look for the organization of the House to-morrow and the President's Message Wednesday.

NAVAL.—The U S flag ship Jamestown, Commodore Crabbe, Lieut. J. F. Armstrong commanding, was at St. Vincent, Porte Grande, on the 29th of October, and sailed on the 30th for Porto Praya and the coast of Africa, southward. She would be down the coast five or six months.

The Dale, Lieutenant commanding Walbech, was at S. Vincent, Porte Grande, and sailed on the 31st of October to join the Commodore at Porto Praya, and thence to the United States. All well in both ships.

The master and crew of the late barque Kalafat, of Bath, were on board the Dale for passage to the United States—the Kalafat having been sunk in the English Channel, by collision with a vessel said to be from Cardiff for Pensacola. The master and crew of the Kalafat all saved and well.

SPRINGFIELD CITY ELECTION.—Springfield, Ms., Dec. 3.—About 1700 votes were cast. Ansel Phelps, Jr., Democrat (late whig) was chosen Mayor by 200 plurality, over Trask, Know Nothing and present incumbent. The ticket for Aldermen and School Committee, made up by the Republicans, is elected. It is composed of men of all parties. The Aldermen comprise 3 Republicans, 2 Democrats, 2 Know Nothings, and 1 Whig. Joseph Ingraham is re-elected City Clerk and Treasurer, by nearly a unanimous vote. The Republicans divided the greater part of their vote for Mayor between the Democratic and American candidates, though they gave about 200 votes to George Bliss, their Independent candidate.

NEW YORK.—In the Board of Aldermen, a resolution was passed, by a vote of 12 to 8, declaring the office of Chief of Police vacant. A committee, it will be remembered, has been endeavoring to prove that Mr Matsell, the present Chief, is an alien.

The appeal of Edwin Forrest, in the Divorce case, has been set down for Wednesday next in the Supreme Court.

The City Comptroller has presented to the Common Council his annual estimates of the expenses of the city for 1856, making the tax heavy—exclusive of receipts from other sources $6,475,000, an increase of $632,000 over last year. He urges the necessity of retrenchment and reform.

FATAL FIGHT BETWEEN BOYS.—Coroner Hilton held an inquest this morning, at No. 16 1-2 Downing street, upon the body of Michael Butler, a boy 12 years of age, who died last evening, from injuries received a week since in a fight with another boy named Hugh Dyer. The boys fought at the instance of a lad named Bernard McHugh, who, while partially intoxicated, offered a sixpence to any boy in the crowd who could whip another.—The above boys proceeded to contest for the prize, and in a few minutes Butler fell from the effects of a blow upon his head. He, however, soon recovered himself, but discovering his mother approaching, left the ring and went home. From this statement, and the medical testimony, the jury rendered a verdict of death from inflammation of the brain, from injuries inflicted by Dyer. The latter was arrested and held to answer.—New York Com. Advertiser, 1st.

A miser having heard a very eloquent charity sermon, exclaimed—"This sermon so stongly proves the duty of alms, that I have almost a mind to beg."

THANKS.—Thursday, the 12th of December, has been appointed as a day of public thanksgiving throughout the province of New Brunswick. The blue noses are imitating their Yankee neighbors in almost everything that is good. The St. John Courier says:—"The Almighty has dealt bountifully with us during the past year, and as a people, our gratitude to him, who is the giver of every good and perfect gift, should be made manifest."

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.— Emma Herbert, an English woman, about 30 years of age, attempted to commit suicide on Saturday, by throwing herself off Lewis' wharf. She was rescued and taken to the harbor police station. No cause is attributed for the act, except a natural depression of mind, which those who knew her had noticed for some time. She belongs in Portsmouth, N. H.—Mail.

"The man who will not admit that each party may honestly maintain its peculiar opinions, is a bigot with whom it is vain to argue, and toward whom anger would be ridiculous.

The receipts of the American Bible Society for the month of October last, amounted to $30,863, of the sum of $430 was collected in the Sandwich Islands.

Hon Edward Everett is not connected with the North American Review, as has been erroneously reported.—Boston Chronicle.

"Swifter than the weaver's shuttle," is now the phrase of fast men in Bangor.

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXIR a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

Patents.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.
Agency for business with U S Patent Office, Washington,
76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS instead of twenty, as paid back by others, will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 30 per cent less than others in the profession,) but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S

Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me. was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extensive practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and ardently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skilful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by a prominent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trial of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of our citizens in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in the country, who unite in pronouncing it "A beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.

To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "Dr. Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine, Saw & Clark, Biddeford, Me., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of red enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

WOMAN'S SORROWS.—The Macon (Ga.) Telegraph, narrates the particulars of a sad incident which recently occurred on a railroad connecting with that city:

"A poor, forsaken mother, with her sick babe, enters the cars at Columbus for Macon, Ga. She has been at the former place in pursuit of an unfaithful husband and an unfeeling father. Failing in her object, she returns to her desolate home, about fifteen miles from Macon. The babe dies in her arms, unattended by a single mourner save the heart-stricken and heart-broken mother—no kind hand to wait upon her in this the hour of her deep affliction. A passenger took a seat by her side, closed the eyes of the lifeless corpse, and tried to administer words of consolation to the bereaved mother. Mr Lindsay, the kind-hearted and gentlemanly conductor, made her situation known to some of the passengers, and took up a subscription for this poor and helpless woman. When we arrived at the Macon depot, the mother, with her dead babe in her arms, set out for her home, her eyes streaming with tears at each mournful step."

A GEOLOGIST ON HIS TRAVELS.—A correspondent of the New Haven Register, who has been journeying through Northern Wisconsin, says:

I have heard of our most respected townsman, J. G. Percival, Esq., [the poet,] at almost every tavern, and he was always represented as a nice, rusty old gentleman, with leather cap, grey suit, and a sleek, smooth pony, and terribly rusty baggage, with a wooden box for his apparel, books, &c., that once contained a dozen Lynn boots. One taverner called him the "State Theologist," another the "State Phrenologist;" and another, who was bound not to make a mistake, "The Old Rock Smasher."

MONSTER MORMON GRASSHOPPER.—A gigantic grasshopper was exhibited at the Corn Exchange, in New York, last Saturday, which was brought from Salt Lake, Utah Territory, via California, to Mr John J. Morris, at the corner of University place and Eighth street, where it can hereafter be seen. It measures five inches in length, with a body and legs to match. It is one of the family of destructive insects which made such havoc with the Mormon crops last summer. It is said that they appeared in vast multitudes, so much so as to bend the extreme branches of trees, and often destroyed whole crops in a very brief period of time.

A SAD CASE.—The Cork Constitution mentions the fact that Mrs. Gore's novel, "The Banker's Wife," of which the villany of an unprincipled banker forms the ground work, was dedicated to Sir John D. Paul, as an illustrious example of probity and good faith, and one in whom the office of banker was made honorable. Mrs. Gore is a creditor of Sir John D. Paul's bank, it is said, for £30,000, in which are included the gains by her voluminous writings. The baronet is one of the bankers who was recently sentenced to transportation for fourteen years.

CASUALTIES.—An intoxicated man named Robinson, fell from the Custom House on Saturday evening, and was badly bruised.—On Saturday evening, a child about eighteen months old, daughter of Patrick and Margaret Ragin, was left alone in a room at 19 Washington square, while the mother went out for provisions. Upon her return, Mrs Ragin found her child with its clothes on fire and nearly burned from its body. The child lived about an hour.—Boston Telegraph.

A despatch received from the Erie Canal Commissioner, yesterday morning, states that the Canal is open, and boats running. The superintendent of section 1, at Albany, has received orders not to draw off water until the 10th.

BELLIGERENT BOYS.—Some thirty or forty Irish boys were engaged in a disgraceful pitched battle Sunday afternoon, on Tremont road, Boston, using stones and other missiles. The ringleaders were promptly arrested by officers from the Fifth Station.—Journal.

KOZTA.—Martin Kosta, who has become so well known as the naturalized Hungarian in whose person Capt. Ingraham so nobly vindicated the rights of American citizenship, came over with his lady, by the Mexico, last night. He is direct from Chicago, where he has made his residence the past year or two, and proposes making his home in Texas, should the country come up to his anticipations.—Galveston, Texas, News, Nov 17.

The New Prussian Gazette announces that immense beds of sulphur have been discovered on both sides of the Volga, near Samara. The Russian government has given orders for the instant working of the beds, which are said to be "more valuable to Russia than a discovery of gold at this juncture."

The Chicago Democrat, of Tuesday, says that a woman arrived in that place a few days previous, with the dead body of her husband, which she was taking cast for burial. On the route she fell in with a young man, and, on the arrival of the cars at Chicago, they went off together, leaving the dead body of the husband in the depot, where it has remained since.

"WHAT SUNDAY SCHOOL IS THAT?"—It is pretty generally known that Elizur Wright is at the head of a large family of children.—While walking with them upon the Common, the other day, a gentleman stepped up and thus accosted Mr. Wright:—"Sir, what Sunday School is this that follows you?" Mr. Wright laughed, and then replied, "the Hard Shell Baptists."—Boston Courier.

A matrimonial alliance of an uncommon character has lately been effected in Fluvana county, Va. Mr Robert Grey, the gallant groom, is 95 years of age, and the late Mrs Catherine Riley (now Mrs Grey) 92 years of age.

In Lincolnville, Illinois, the women armed with axes, shovels, hatchets, knives and pistols, marched to Boyd's bowling saloon, and destroyed all the liquor, cigars, tobacco, &c., on the premises. They also nearly demolished the house.

BREADSTUFFS ARRIVED.—Between Saturday and Sunday morning, the very large quantity of 15,300 barrels of flour, 4427 sacks and 523 bushels of wheat, and 1694 sacks of corn arrived at Boston from New Orleans alone.

Blake's Patent Fire Proof Paint.
THIS extraordinary substance has now been tested nearly nine years, and its Fire and Water Proof qualities are most extraordinary. Instead of the action of the weather destroying the coating as it does ordinary Paints, it only serves to turn it to a perfect Slate or Stone, protecting whatever covered from the action of Fire or Weather.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1855.

SAMUEL KETTELL.

This gentleman, an editor of the Boston Courier, as we have already noted, died at his residence in Malden, a few minutes before 12 o'clock on Tuesday night. He was a native of Newburyport, and was in the fifty-sixth year of his age. He leaves a widow, but no children.

Mr Kettell was a ripe scholar, and a close reader of history. He was one of the most vigorous writers connected with the newspaper press of America, and as a humorist, he was unsurpassed. As a controversialist—and, in the rough life of an editor of a political journal, there must be controversy—he was a courageous and able antagonist, but always honorable. His wit was a sort of vehicle upon which he put forth his judgment.

Mr Kettell succeeded Mr Buckingham as editor of the Courier. Prior to his entering that office, he was a contributor to the magazines, and early in life published several volumes, which are now among the standards of American literature. It is very well known that he was a large compiler of Peter Parley's historical and geographical works. He travelled Europe in early manhood, and was for a time a writer in London.

Mr Kettell was not a man very generally known. He was a person of exceeding modesty, and his friends were mostly scholars.—He did not court public life, and it was with reluctance that he consented to go to the Legislature during the years 1851 and 1852.

We regret, says the Boston Transcript, that we have not time to-day to write so elaborate a notice of our deceased friend as our regard for him would prompt us; for we have known him from our boyhood, and have been indebted to him for many kindnesses. He was one of the most genial and unselfish men we have ever been acquainted with. The public only knew him through the efforts of his pen; his friends were endeared to him by his rare conversational powers, which evinced the breadth of his culture and the extent of his attainments.

We mourn the loss of this gentleman sincerely; for he was more than a common person. He was not only distinguished in his profession, but he had a private history, grander and more praiseworthy. The men of taste and culture of Boston have lost their foremost ornament. So says the Transcript.

We also knew him well in the days of his youth. In Newburyport, young Kettell was the quiet and beloved brother of a circle of sisters, who had a large acquaintance of their own sex. His evenings were spent with them. For boisterous sports he had no taste: for haunts of dissipation he had a strong distaste.

But, book in hand, he would occupy a corner in a room, amid the chatter of a dozen girls, by whose noise he was not in the least disturbed.

One evening the company was numerous, the conversation livelier than common, and for an hour Samuel was forgotten. But at last one girl waked up with, "Sam, are you asleep?" No: not quite. "Well, I don't believe you know anything but books." Sam very quietly produced a paper, and answered that he could tell all they had been saying,—and then proceeded to read a very fair report of the debate, interspersed with shouts of laughter by the debaters, who had no idea of the great variety of matter they had got off.

About the time Mr Kettell arrived at manhood, there was a new bell hung in a church tower at Newburyport; and a singular controversy arose about the tone of the bell and the manner of hanging it. This controversy was between a mechanic who knew nothing about music, and a musician who knew little or nothing about mechanical powers. Consequently both were right and both were wrong. Both wrote in the Herald, the only paper in the town; neither of them wrote well; but both wrote long pieces, and the readers were tired. Finally, Caleb Cushing and Samuel Kettell put their heads together, and for the purpose of ending the controversy, wrote a couple of serio-comic articles, in burlesque imitation of the real combatants.

These were also inserted in the Herald, filling one side of it pretty full, and convulsing the town with laughter by the aptness of their hits. They not only closed the controversy, but they went beyond this, and converted the disputants into allies and friends. The mechanic and the musician dropped all their own contentions,—clubbed their wits and purses together,—and issued a large handbill defending themselves as best they could against the waggery and wit of Cushing and Kettell. But the laugh was only prolonged by this: it could not be turned aside.

In these minor matters Mr. K. showed the same kind of talent, of which the Boston Courier speaks so truly in the following paragraph:

This community well remembers, too, how often, in the political excitements or interesting public events of the last twenty years, his unerring detection of sophistry and pretence, and his keen sense of the ridiculous have exposed with subtle and perfect humor the weak points of parties and public men, which were fairly open to ridicule,—and this so effectively as to be far better than argument. It is rare that such wit and humor are so close to purpose, and so allied to logical demonstration.

He was a man indeed of rare mental powers; of rare good temper; and of rare social and domestic loveliness and worth.

N. H. TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

This Association held their second Annual Meeting at Great Falls, on Monday and Tuesday of last week. The attendance was as large as could have been expected, considering that the meeting was held on the extreme border of the State.

The officers elected were the following:

Jonathan Tenney, of Manchester, President. Cyrus S Richards, of Meriden,—Secretary. Wm. H. Ward, of Manchester, 2d Sec. B. F. Wallace,—Treasurer.

Vice Presidents:—J P Payson, Rockingham. B B Muzzey. Merrimack. Ashael Bennett, Cheshire. Wm. A Webster, Hillsborough. M. L. Morse, Strafford. Hosea Quimby, Belknap. Sylvester S Dickson, Carroll. Edwin D Sanborn, Grafton. B F Whidden, Coos. B F Sawyer, Sullivan.

Counsellors:— Harry Brickett, of Merrimack. Milan C Sebbins, of Nashua. Sylvanus Hayward, of Francestown. Joseph G Hoyt, of Exeter. H. E. Sawyer, of Great Falls. Aurin M. Payson, of Portsmouth. Elihu T. Quimby, of New Ipswich.

The proceedings are reported at length, in the Great Falls Journal; and briefly sketched in the Exeter News Letter, from which we make the following extract:

The exercises were of a highly interesting character, consisting of reports, lectures, essays and discussions, besides the usual business transactions. The lecture Monday evening was delivered by Rev. E. E. Adams, of Nashua. His subject was, "True Scholarship, and the various hindrances in the way of its attainment." Tuesday evening, S. J. Pike, Esq., of Lawrence, Mass., lectured on "School Government." Both were lectures of sterling worth, able, eloquent, and eminently suggestive.

The subjects discussed were principally, Teachers' Institutes; Examinations and Exhibitions; the establishment of a State Normal School; and State and Town Supervision of Schools. Quite a number of energetic, whole-souled teachers took part in these discussions, giving life and animation to the meeting, and making it a highly profitable one. The conclusion in regard to a State Normal School was, that we must have one, and the teachers must begin the work, and not by talking alone, but by furnishing material aid—by raising $2500 annually for five years, to support a competent board of Instructors, provided the State will do the same. The result was that nearly $1400 were pledged on the spot, the list being led off by Dr. Calvin Cutter, with a subscription of $500.

Resolutions were also passed on the mission of Teachers' Institutes. Criticisms formed another prominent and profitable feature of the meeting.

A mutual good feeling seemed to pervade every one.

BEGGARY IN EXETER.

A citizen of Exeter writes in the News-Letter as follows:

A FACT FOR THOSE WHO OPPOSE THE TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.—Ever since we were children, and that is almost half a century syne, it has been the custom of the poor of the village, who could not afford their meat and pudding, once a year, and that once at the annual Thanksgiving, to call at the houses of their more prosperous fellow-citizens, and ask freely for assistance, which was generally we hope, freely given. We remember, when beside the distribution which was sent to those who could not dig, and to beg were ashamed, one member of the family was appointed to the office of provider for the poor applicants. The situation was no sinecure for the cry of "please give me something for Thanksgiving"—often came from sixty persons and upwards. Then, as now, poverty, except in cases of sickness or some other visitation of Providence was generally the result, immediately or remotely of intemperance.—Each year, for the last ten years, the number of applicants has been growing "beautifully less," and this present Anno Domini we had only two applications for contribution to the Thanksgiving dinner. One was from a relic of the olden time, who has not capacity sufficient to provide for herself, the other, from a youth from parts unknown, whose parents, we presume, if he has any, are among the opposers of all reforms both in theory and in practice. The expense of supporting a family has certainly not diminished. To what other cause then, than to the decrease of Intemperance, shall we attribute this happy fact in our village statistics?

We may say something of the same kind respecting the diminution of Beggary in Portsmouth. It may be said, however, and said truly, that the Howard Benevolent Society, and the City Mission, have done a great deal towards diminishing beggary in this city.—Nevertheless, it is true, that the temperance movements, moral or legal, or both, have diminished poverty and beggary here. Conversing a day or two ago with the city missionary, we put to him a question about poverty this fall, compared with last year and the year before. The answer was,—There is considerably less;—and what there is, is chiefly among the sick, and in families where there is no male head to earn money. The laboring men are nearly all at work; a considerable number who were generally idle before the new liquor law went into operation, have worked ever since with commendable regularity.

The reader will draw his own inferences.

LOCAL.

LADIES FAIR.—The Entertainment by the ladies of the Methodist Society, at Jefferson Hall, was well attended by ladies and gentlemen, last evening, and all seemed pleased at the liberal arrangements made for this festive occasion. The beautiful decorations of the Hall, the well filled tables—whether of ornamental, useful or edible articles, and the beautiful ladies behind the tables, all aided in producing a happiness which glistened in each eye, and shone in each countenance.

Among the attractions of the hall, is what is called the Antiquarian Room, where many things are exhibited which are seldom seen now-a-days. In this room for a small sum the curious visitor may partake of the luxuries which were so familiar to our ancestors, such as pork and beans, mush and milk, and other articles many of which are actually produced by the aid of a veritable cooking-stove.

The Hall will be opened to visitors this evening, and Friday evening.

ASSASSIXATION.—In Wednesday's Chronicle we published an obituary notice of Mr. Edward Howard, of this city, who died from the effects of a stab received in Bristol, R. I. Upon inquiry, we learn that Edward and his brother went into a house in Bristol, to see an Irish dance, and were quietly looking on, when they were ordered to clear out. Previously, on the same evening, a party of rowdies had been making a disturbance, and being put out of the hall, threatened to return with help and break up the dance. The Howards, being strangers, were probably taken for a part of this party.

These young men told the managers that they intended no interference with their pleasure, but no explanation would be heard.—Words ensued, and probably blows, in which quite a number of the Irish joined. In the confusion Edward Howard was stabbed. The Boston Bee gives the name of the assassin as Edward Quirk. Mr Howard suffered from the wound nine days, and then died. His remains were brought to this city, on Tuesday, and buried on Wednesday, as before announced.

The Boston Times of Monday says:

Four men, Patrick and Dennis Marsh, and Richard and Edward Quirk, Jr., have been arrested. The latter is presumed to have struck the fatal blow. It was at the house of the former that the difficulty commenced. The marriage of Richard Quirk and his sister was being celebrated when the affray occurred. Other persons are suspected, and will doubtless be arrested. The above-named persons, who were taken in custody several days ago, on a complaint for assault and battery, will be examined on Monday or Tuesday of next week.

HONOR TO PORTSMOUTH.—J P Payson, one of the Portsmouth Teachers, stated at the meeting of the State Teachers' Association, on Tuesday last, that the vacations were left by the citizens of that town entirely to the Teachers, to be taken whenever most convenient for themselves. He also stated that he had been sick sometimes a month at a time, but no deduction had ever been made for his delay. Such a testimonial reflects great credit upon the good old city, and speaks well for the liberality of her citizens and their appreciation of education, and good Teachers. Old Portsmouth has as good teachers as any town in New England, and is thus giving undeniable proof that she knows how to care for them, and to treat them with the kindness which their self sacrificing labors deserve. — Great Falls Journal.

On Friday last a child of Mr Gray, of Preston county, Va., only two years of age, wandered into the woods, and, although a most rigorous search was instituted, in which fully 200 persons participated, the poor baby was not found until the next afternoon, when it was discovered about half a mile from home, dead.

Grand Musical Festival.

THE ROCKINGHAM COUNTY MUSICAL ASSOCIATION

Will hold a

PUBLIC MUSICAL CONVENTION,

AT HANOVER STREET CHAPEL,

Portsmouth, N. H.,

Commencing on Tuesday, Jan. 8, 1856,

To continue three or four days, and close with at least one

GRAND CONCERT

of Sacred and Secular Music.

ALL Singers and Players, whether living in Rockingham County or not, are cordially invited to attend and join in the exercises. Those who play well are requested to bring their Instruments, as it is designed to form an Orchestra.

The Convention will be under the direction of

Prof. B. F. BAKER, of Boston,

With able Assistants; though it is designed to have all the exercises, including the Concert, carried through as far as possible, by the volunteer members of the Convention.

It is designed to impart such information and instruction as shall tend to the improvement of Singing, especially Sacred Music; and all, at home or abroad, are invited.

Half-price will be charged to Members of the Convention on all the Railroads leading into Portsmouth--those having certificates of attendance being passed free on their return home during that week.

A Chorus of two or three hundred is expected; and no effort will be spared to render the occasion one of social and musical enjoyment and improvement.

TICKETS, admitting gentlemen to all sessions of the Convention, and the Concerts, $1 each, will be sold at the Chapel door, to pay the necessary expenses. ☞ Lady singers admitted free of charge.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

ONE WEEK LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE AMERICA.

HALIFAX, Dec. 5.

The steamship America, from Liverpool 24th ult., arrived here this morning.

There is nothing important from the seat of war.

The main feature of the news is a report that Gen. Canrobert had concluded a treaty of alliance between Sweden and the Western Powers, to take active effect both by sea and land in the spring. The rumor, however, is believed to be premature.

Peace rumors were quite abundant, and amongst others it was asserted that the Czar had given his assent to Prussia's informing the Western Powers that he is willing to treat or peace All these reports, however, lack confirmation, and are regarded as very doubtful.

In active hostilities nothing had occursed since the last advices, either in the Crimea, Southern Russia, or Asia.

From the Crimea, it is stated that the allies have determined upon a grand bombardment of the Russian position on the north side of Sebastopol.

Cotton market dull, and a general decline on the quotations per the Atlantic, reaching in some cases as high as 2-3 d. per lb.

In Breadstuffs a limited business had been transacted, and prices had undergone a slight decline, say to the extent of about 2d on Wheat, and 6d each on Flour and Corn.

XXXIV CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

TUESDAY, Dec. 4.

SENATE.—Messrs Hale, Yulee, Durkee and Pearce were sworn in.

HOUSE.—In the House another ballot was had for Speaker, resulting in no choice.

The vote stood—Richardson, 74; Banks, 23; Fuller, 20; Campbell, 58; Marshall 19; all others, 26.

Sixth trial—Richardson, 74; Campbell, 57; Banks, 25; Fuller, 22; Marshall, 18.

Seventh trial—Richardson, 74; Campbell, 54; Banks, 28; Fuller, 20; Marshall, 20.

Eighth trial—Richardson, 75; Campbell 51; Banks, 32; Fuller, 20; Marshall, 18.

Ninth trial—Richardson, 75; Campbell, 51; Banks, 31; Fuller, 21; Marshall, 16. No election. Adjourned.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Clubs are being formed in this State for the support of Robert M. T. Hunter, at present U. S. Senator from Virginia, for President of the United States, and Augustus Schell, a prominent lawyer, and Hard Shell Democrat, for Vice President.

The Washington correspondent of the Journal of Commerce telegraphs that it is agreed that Mr Banks shall be run to-day by the Northern Republicans and Freesoilers. If he cannot be chosen the next rally will be upon Pennington, Whig, of New Jersey.

The Washington correspondent of the Herald telegraphs: "I am authorized to say that the President has dispatched no troops to Kansas to preserve order."

A dispatch from the office of the Milwaukie Sentinel gives full returns of the State. Coles Bashford, the Republican candidate for Governor, is elected. The Democracy of the Barstow party have elected the other candidates on the State ticket. The Republicans have one branch of the Legislature, and the Barstowites the other.

FROM THE BRITISH PROVINCES.—The St. John Morning Freeman of the 29th says:—

"Within the year no event of such importance to the people of these Provinces has occurred, as the promulgation by the Emperor of the French, of the decrees admitting foreign vessels to a French registry, on a payment of ten per cent. duty, and the admission of ship timber duty free, provided it be used within one year of the date of importation. It is said that the French mercantile interest was long desirous of this change, and there can be but little doubt that it will give an astonishing impetus to ship building in British North America. If our ship builders display their usual energy and enterprise, they may easily secure almost a monopoly of the vast trade thus unexpectedly thrown open, as the ship builders of no other country can successfully compete with them. The Americans, we know, cannot, and the sailing vessels built in England are of too expensive a kind and too old fashioned in shape to sell in any great numbers, although England will probably supply a great number of small steamers.

At present the vessels employed by the French in their commerce are generally under a thousand tons burden, and for some time ships of from 500 to 800 tons, and even vessels of a smaller kind will find the readiest sale."

SUPPOSED FUGITIVE SLAVES.—The ship Middlesex, Capt. Cook, which arrived at this port on Sunday from New Orleans, when off the coast of Florida picked up two negroes, who were in a small skiff out of sight of land. When taken on board they refused to give any account of themselves, and the probability is that they are slaves escaped from Nassau, or some other land in that region. Capt. Cook placed them in irons, and not being certain as to the legal course he should pursue, he brought them to this city to obtain advice from the proper authorities.—Boston Times.

FACILIS DECENSUS AVERNI.—The Boston Atlas says:—Edward O. Coburn, who was recently mixed up with a disgraceful affair in Shawmut Avenue, is again in trouble, having been arrested on a charge of abstracting $1700 from the safe in the store of John Gove & Co. It is said he has restored a large portion of the money since his arrest, and the parties interested are desirous of keeping the matter out of court.

Nevertheless, Edward went to jail.

Try it! Try it! Try it!
G. W. STONE'S
LIQUID CATHARTIC,
AND
Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—It needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S
Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me. was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"A man liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and fervently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skillful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of our citizens in its favor, and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "A beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the Blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs attained. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.

To secure the public against counterfeits, we have the bottles made expressly for us, with the words "Dr. Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine, Smart & Clark, Biddeford, Me., U. S. A." blown in the glass. Every bottle is enclosed in a wrapper of red enameled paper, printed in the English, French, Spanish and German languages, from a costly engraved plate, of which the copyright has been secured. An inside wrapper, containing full directions for using the Medicine, and a valuable treatise on Diseases of the Lungs, with directions for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption, compiled from the most reliable medical authorities by a distinguished physician, also accompanying each bottle.

KANSAS TROUBLES.

The most melancholy accounts of the state of things in this devoted territory are received by every mail. The very marked issue on the all-absorbing slavery question is at the bottom, and uniformly is the present cause of every disagreement. The excitement and passion which the discordant opinions engender pervade all classes in that land. No place, no scene, seems to be exempt from its potent influence. It rules supreme in the United States District Court for the territory. A man is now on trial for his life before that tribunal; after months delay a jury is empannelled, made up, it is alleged by one party, by gross fraud, so that the pro-slavery sentiment shall be predominant in it; the trial is scarcely under way before it is moved that the Clerk of the Court and two or three of the attorneys engaged in the case shall be expelled from the Court for active participation in the lynching of a man; a violent scene ensues, the accused parties and the accuser commence an altercation, the Court interests itself, and the prisoner's claims for justice must linger in abeyance until the combatants are disposed of and the judicial ermine is unruffled.

In the more remote settlements the story is that three Abolitionists have driven off a pro-slavery squatter, and he in turn has shot one of his assailants; a mob is gathered; the people seize their rifles; sympathizers with slavery from Missouri rush in; anti-slavery men arm; nobody can remain neutral, and the majesty of the law is silent, for all are partizans.

A little further, and the cry goes up for revolt and rebellion against the constituted authorities, and these are in a minority. One party says—"Make way for law and order." The other replies—"Your 'law and order' was set up by Missouri borderers, who had no business here." The majority have set up a new organic standard, and that is anti-slavery, while that which is claimed as legitimate is pro-slavery.—Boston Courier.

The Chronicle publishes accounts from Kansas stating that Gov. Shannon has telegraphed to the President on the condition of affairs in that Territory. He says that 1000 men had arrived in Lawrence, where they had rescued a prisoner from the Sheriff of Douglas County, and burned houses and property. He asks the President to order out the troops from Fort Leavenworth to aid him in the execution of the laws.

Despatches received from Weston, on Monday, state that an express had arrived there with startling news from Atchison. The Free State people had taken possession of important papers, and an attack on the place was anticipated. They had sent to Weston for 50 armed men.

The National Intelligencer says that the President received a despatch on Monday, from Governor Shannon of Kansas, announcing that civil war in that Territory was actually threatened, and requesting prompt assistance from the Government. The President has ordered that troops be immediately despatched from the nearest posts to the scene of disorder.

The great principle of squatter sovereignty, seems to be fully carried out,—and the blessed effects of opening a new territory to slavery, begin to be quite too apparent.

BOSTON POLICE.

During the month of November last, 1188 persons were arrested, and 854 of that number were committed to answer in Court. Of the whole number arrested 978 were males, 210 females, 969 foreigners, 219 Americans, 405 non-residents, and 237 minors. Besides these, 726 persons were accommodated with lodging. The amount of property taken from prisoners and restored, $5261 40; amount reported as lost or stolen in the city, $16,053 57; of this, $4515 50 was recovered; the amount of fines imposed by the Courts was $2823, and the aggregate term of imprisonment imposed was 92 years 5 months. The offences for which the parties were arrested, were of the usual variety, the principal one of which was larceny. Four were for violation of the Sunday law, but none were for violation of the liquor law.—Boston Chronicle.

Other papers give the crimes for which the arrests were made.

Assaults on officers, 13; assault and battery, 83; burglary, 12; drunkenness, 498; common drunkards, 58; disturbing the peace, 94; keeping houses of ill fame, 11; larcenies from persons and building-, 34; simple larcenies, 73; noisy and disorderly persons, 92; murder, 1; pickpockets, 3; robbers, 9; vagrants, 21; violations of Sunday law, 4; violations of city ordinances, 17; forgery, 1.

During the month there were 370 disturbances quelled by the officers without arrests being made; 21 lost children were found and restored; 138 stores were found open and secured; 20 injured persons, 6 sick persons, and 13 insane persons were provided for.

Now if the reader will look over these figures, he will see that the robbers, pickpockets and thieves of all kinds, are 130. While the drunkards, of two sorts; assaulters of two sorts; peace disturbers of two sorts; and vagrants, amount in all to 750. These latter crimes, with exceptions too few to be named, were all committed by drinking men. No doubt 9 in 10 of the 370 disturbances quelled without arrest, arose from the same cause.

The lodgers in the watch houses are not usually total abstinents; and among the 726 of these there was probably not more than one in ten perfectly sober.

Of these lodgers, there were, males, 552; females, 174; foreigners, 512; Americans, 214; non-residents, 417; minors, 134.

The footing up of the whole thing is, that at least 1700 arrests, disturbances, and watchmen's jobs, out of 1900, came directly from drinking houses and tippling shops. Are they not glorious institutions?

Nature has its perfections to show that it is the image of God, and its faults, to show that it is only his image.—Pascal.

Blake's Patent Fire Proof Paint.
THIS extraordinary substance has now been tested nearly nine years, and its Fire and Water Proof qualities are most extraordinary. Instead of the action of the weather destroying the coating as it does ordinary Paints, it only serves to turn it to a perfect Slate or Stone, protecting whatever covered from the action of Fire or Weather.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1855.

CRIMINAL LAWS.—The Newburyport Herald says:

When men are beyond the reach of well directed public sentiment it is very seldom indeed that fines, imprisonment, or any other punishment will influence them. In this country what might be termed social sins—or crimes, are not often affected by any laws.—Upon such matters society regulates itself. It is the honor or dishonor of the act together with the inconvenience, expense and trouble it may occasion that intimidate more than punishment. What sustains the marriage institution? Not the law; that has but very little influence. Men inclined to adultery do not avoid that offence for fear of legal tribunals; but public opinion first pronounces on the act; then it is attended with pecuniary loss; it destroys harmony in the family, and disgraces children; and the person sees to begin with that it ends in ruin. There is precisely the same train of events in intemperance.

All this is worthy of consideration;—and nearly all of it is true: but it is not near being all of the truth. We are fully sensible of the fact that the moral virtue of Temperance cannot be implanted in any man's bosom by a law against grog-shops, or by a fine for drunkenness. So of chastity, and so of fidelity in the marriage relation: men are not made pure by the laws against adultery, nor by fining the keepers of brothels.—But what then? Shall these laws be therefore repealed, and shall a new law be passed, to license the brothel? Perhaps some people might say yes:—but the people of New England generally say No!

It is a common idea here, (correct or not, as it may be,) that laws prevent some overt acts of wickedness, because some men who have a very small bump of conscience, have at the same time a very great bump of cowardice.

THE KANSAS DIFFICULTIES.—St Louis, Dec 5.—The Kansas Free State papers give their version of the commencement of the difficulties, from which it appears that a young man named Dow was shot down by a Missourian named Coleman, and was rescued by his friends. A meeting on the spot pronounced the act cold-blooded murder, and implicated some others as abettors. Sheriff Jones arrested Jacob Bronson, at whose house Dow lived, but Bronson was rescued by his neighbors, whereupon Jones sent to Pawnee for aid, declaring that the Governor had assured him of the assistance of 10,000 men, if needed.

On the first page of this day's Chronicle, the reader will find the other side of the above story; but we strongly suspect many of the statements are falsified or exaggerated, to operate on the election of a Senator in Missouri, Dec. 5, or on that of a Speaker at Washington.

The St. Louis Intelligencer hoots at the call for help, issuing from adventurers in Missouri, and calls it a humbug.

The Reverend gentleman of the Portsmouth Chronicle, seems to think $9000 worth of drugged liquors sold by one agency is no great affair. He might think otherwise if he had to drink the stuff.—Eastern Argus.

Very likely we should,—but what would be a very great affair if drank by one man, becomes very small when divided among 20,000. Moreover it is fair to conclude that not more than 10 or 20 per cent. of the liquors sold at the New Haven Agency were drank at all; but used for other purposes. We said not one word about drugged liquor in that connexion, as the Argus knows.

Will the Argus please to say, honestly, whether it considers $9,000 a large sale per annum, for 20,000 people, for medicinal and mechanical uses?

It will say no such thing: for in its own columns within a few months, it has a larger calculation in reference to distillation in Maine, for those two lawful purposes.

THE CARRIER DOVE.—We have just received from Boston the first number of a beautifully printed letter sheet with this title, "Devoted to Fashionable Intelligence," and published by Bent & Co. 91 Washington street. Price 6 1-4 cts.

It has an embellished title page, with space for a good sized note; a blank page for the second; and the third and fourth are filled with fashionable intelligence, prepared by a lady of education and taste.

Many a letter will be written from Boston on these sheets, every week, especially on Sundays,—and thence they will go to all parts of the country.

MONEY.—Now money may be a very vile thing—the root of all evil—a fruitful source of iniquity and corruption.—Boston Chron.

Not so; not the money, but the love or idolatry of money, is the root whence evil grows.

Still, as society is at present constituted we think that the sublime moralists will acknowledge that it is a very important thing, indeed a thing quite indispensable, especially in a great city like this.

Exactly so: and so it is no evil at all; but a very great convenience and benefit.

Archbishop Hughes is said to have spent $20,000 to prevent the election of Hon. Erastus Brooks, K. N., to the New York Senate.

SOUTH CAROLINA LAWS IN RELATION TO COLORED SEAMEN.—The following is an extract from the recent message of the Governor of South Carolina. It will be seen that his recommendation as to a change in the law applies only to the subjects of "foreign nations:"

"As the law now stands, colored seamen who may visit our ports, either in the pursuit of their lawful vocations, or be driven into them by stress of weather, are seized by the sheriff, conveyed as felons through the public streets, and finally incarcerated in the common jail, to await the departure of their vessel, whether it may be immediate or deferred.—While in prison, they are brought into contact with our own refuse population. It would be strange indeed if men thus summarily deprived of liberty and comfort, without the pretence of a fault committed, did not inveigh against a state of society which thus degrades them, and endeavor to excite the refractory spirits among whom they are thrown. Viewed in this light, the law certainly fails of its end. The remedy is worse than the disease to cure.

I recommend that the law be so modified as to permit colored seamen, the subjects of foreign nations, to remain on board their vessels, to be allowed to land whenever the duties of the vessel may require it, upon their receiving a written permit to that effect from the Mayor of the port; and that while on land they be subjected to the ordinary restrictions applied to the native colored population. Such a modification would relieve the law of all its harshness, without compromising our right or endangering our domestic quiet. Should our confidence, which concedes thus much to those who seek to cultivate friendly relations with us, be abused, and the modified law be found to work badly, it will always be under the control of the Legislature, and be as easily repealed as passed. Slavery has fiercer assaults to guard against than any likely to arise from allowing a few colored cooks and stewards to land on our shores; and we weaken rather than strengthen the institution by attempting to hedge it round with any such feeble props.

While white abolitionists are permitted to come and go among us with impunity, we may tolerate the occasional or accidental presence of a few free negroes from foreign countries, who have neither the intelligence nor the disposition to harm or disturb us. The efforts which fanaticism has made to overthrow the institution, have thus far but served to strengthen it in the confidence and affections of our people. While we continue to discharge our true obligations to our slaves, their loyalty and fidelity will remain unshaken. The colored hireling who may visit us will see much in their condition to envy. He may realize the important truth that liberty, shorn of all its rights, is but a miserable boon, compared with their substantial comforts and happy existence."

Now isn't this last sentence beautiful?—Why don't the colored hireling of the British vessel sell himself in Charleston? Why don't the free negro cook from Portsmouth, or Boston, rush on shore from their galleys, and get into the enviable condition of their "fat and sleek" brethren, the slaves of Charleston?

Put these questions, with the Governor's last five lines, and with the law as it now is or is to be,—and we see that the Governor talks nonsense.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.—The Legislature of Virginia met at Richmond on Monday. Governor Johnson, in his message, reviews at length the course of Rhode Island and Massachusetts on the subject of slavery. He says—The whole scope of these resolutions are at war with Southern interests and institutions, and they are based upon the idea that the States of this Union are not entitled to equal rights, and that the people of one section are to be allowed privileges and capacities which are to be denied to the people of another. This assumption should be met promptly. To such degradation we should not submit.

[What a dreadful assumption it is, to say that freedom has rights and slavery has none! To say that honesty has rights, and theft has none! And what a degradation it must be, to assert that a man may own himself, but shall not own another man? "Ye that have tears," &c.]

The Virginia House of Delegates has appointed a committee to provide for the adoption of more effectual measures to prevent the escape of slaves, and to inquire into the expediency of adopting retaliatory measures against the Northern States.

South Carolina passed a negro law—and so has Massachusetts—on the opposite sides of the question. And the retaliatory laws, if any could be passed, on either side, are the merest trash in the world. We want Virginia corn, flour and oysters, not to mention tobacco, and we shall have them, whether the laws are white or black.

A correspondent of the New Haven Palladium says that a company of young people, mostly Catholics, held a cotillon party in Ansonia on the evening of Oct 30th. The Catholic priest at first forbade the party, but finally consented that dancing might continue until 10 o'clock. As the dancing was continued, though with perfect decorum, after that time, "His Riverence" appeared with a horsewhip, which he commenced using upon the females who were present, and abusing them in other ways. Among those who were struck was Mrs Spencer, a Protestant woman, whose husband took steps towards a civil action, when the priest made a settlement of the difficulty by paying $13.

☞ The funeral of the late Mr Samuel Kettell will take place at Newburyport this day. A post-mortem examination showed a disease of the liver, of long standing, to be the cause of death.

The Milwaukee (Wis.) Sentinel of Saturday week says that on the previous day one of the city aldermen was taken to the watch house, in broad day light, drunk, on a dray.

LOCAL.

POLICE COURT.—Before Justice Odell—Thursday, Dec 6.—Robert Littlefield and Henry Littlefield were arraigned on a charge of assault and battery on Timothy Manson, on the 4th inst. The defts. were found not guilty and discharged.

Timothy Sullivan was charged by John Welch with committing an offence against the Police of Portsmouth, by getting drunk in his own house. The deft. moved that the indictment be quashed for want of sufficient description of the offence. Motion granted.

Joseph Dixon was charged by Samuel Fernald with assault and battery. Found guilty, and fined 50 cts. and costs—amounting in all to $6.88. Respondent appealed to Court Common Pleas.

☞ The alarm of fire last night, about midnight, was occasioned by the burning of a barn on South road, belonging to Hon John Elwin. In the barn was 15 or 20 tons of pressed hay belonging to Mr Francis Marden. The fire was either the work of an incendiary, or the result of a culpable accident.

☞ The grand Fair by the ladies of the Methodist Society, will be again open this evening. Thus far they have met with good success, and quite a fair sum of money will be added to the treasury of the Society.

The Antiquarians will promenade in the Hall, with change of costume, at the close of the entertainment.

☞ The Selectmen of Ward Two, meet this evening at the City Rooms, for the purpose of examining the naturalization papers of citizens of foreign birth, and recording the same. Those persons holding naturalization papers must present them for examination and record on or before Monday next, or they will not be entitled to vote at the next March election. Also, if any persons move from one Ward to another in any city in this State, or from one town to another after that date, they will lose their rights as voters at that election.

FINE PAINTINGS.—A rare chance to obtain a few splendid Oil Paintings at a very low price, is offered for a few days, at Mr Shores' Bookstore. One is a "View in the Environs of Paris;" another, a "View from Constantinople," and a third, a "View of Portsmouth Harbor, &c." They will bear close inspection and will repay the lovers of the beautiful for an examination.

☞ Albert Blaisdell, Esq., and lady, entertained a large and brilliant party of young ladies and gentlemen, (the guests of their daughter,) on Wednesday evening, at their splendid new residence in Greenland. Nothing was wanting to render the occasion one of complete social enjoyment; the arrangements were most liberal and perfect; and light forms tripped merrily to the music and "calling" of one who has fiddled for more than one generation of dancers in Greenland, or enjoyed themselves in various ways about the spacious mansion. A large portion of the visitors were from this city; and all returned home in high glee, early—next morning, without accident.

NEGROES IN MISSOURI.—The Missouri Legislature has under consideration a severe law against free negroes. The principal features are as follows: First, no slaves hereafter to be emancipated in this State. Second, no free negro hereafter to come into, or settle in this State for more than thirty days. Third, felony for free negroes to come into this State in violation of this law. Fourth, no negro or mulatto to be hereafter capable of holding real estate in this State by purchase, gift, grant, descent or lease—exception as to free negroes now in the State. All contracts made with any free negro or mulatto, who is in the State in violation of law, null and void.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF VIRGINIA.—The General Assembly of Virginia convened at Richmond on Monday, after a recess of two years. The Richmond Enquirer says:—"The present session will be the most important epoch in the history of the State."

THE LATE RUSSIAN LEVY.—A letter from St. Petersburg says: "The new recruitment has thrown the country into terror. It is doubted if 400,000 men capable of service can be found. The towns and districts furnishing the recruits will be obliged to provide them with fur cloaks, which is a heavy burden, owing to the present high price of furs."

The crew of the ship Arcole, charged by Capt. Pittman with mutiny, were arraigned in the United States District Court in Richmond, Va., on Friday, and discharged by the Judge, on the failure of the captain to prove that they had signed the shipping papers.

LAWRENCE.—At the municipal election in Lawrence on Monday, Hon. Albert Warren, American, was re-elected Mayor, and the entire American ticket was successful.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many lives are saved and all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

THE ROCKINGHAM COUNTY MUSICAL ASSOCIATION

Will hold a

PUBLIC MUSICAL CONVENTION,

AT HANOVER STREET CHAPEL,

Portsmouth, N. H.,

Commencing on Tuesday, Jan. 8, 1856,

To continue three or four days, and close with at least one of Sacred and Secular Music.

GRAND CONCERT

ALL Singers and Players, whether living in Rockingham County or not, are cordially invited to attend and join in the exercises. Those who play well are requested to bring their Instruments, as it is designed to form an Orchestra.

The Convention will be under the direction of

Prof. B. F. BAKER, of Boston,

With able Assistants; though it is designed to have all the exercises, including the Concert, carried through as far as possible, by the volunteer members of the Convention.

It is designed to impart such information and instruction as shall tend to the improvement of Singing, especially Sacred Music; and all, at home or abroad, are invited.

Clergymen, Choristers, and others interested in music, in the neighboring towns, are respectfully urged to aid in securing the attendance of a delegation from each town.

Half-price will be charged to Members of the Convention on all the Railroads leading into Portsmouth—those having certificates of attendance being passed free on their return home during that week.

A Chorus of two or three hundred is expected; and no effort will be spared to render the occasion one of social and musical enjoyment and improvement.

TICKETS, admitting gentlemen to all sessions of the Convention, and the Concerts, $1 each, will be sold at the Chapel door, to pay the necessary expenses. ☞ Lady singers admitted free of charge.

☞ The Book used at the Convention, will be "Baker's Church Music," copies of which may be had of Mr. Pearson, or at the Convention. Those having copies of the old Carmina Sacra, are requested to bring them.

XXXIV CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 5.

SENATE.—Mr Hale submitted a resolution asking the President to inform the Senate whether he had received any evidence of such resistance to the execution of the laws in Kansas as to require the interposition of a military force.

Mr Allen gave notice of a bill to amend the naturalization laws. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House adjourned after taking the fifteenth unsuccessful ballot for Speaker.

The following was the last vote:—Campbell 80, Richardson 74, Banks 8, Fuller 19, Marshall 6, Pennington 7, Whitney 9, Smith of Alabama 9. Scattering 6.

NEW YORK, Dec 6.—The Struggle for the Speakership.—Mr Greeley of the Tribune telegraphed last evening as follows: "Humphrey Marshall prevented supporters from going for Fuller yesterday. He and his friends would probably support Richardson, if that would secure the election. Mr Banks, with all the friends he could carry, voted to-day for Campbell, and a part of Pennington's friends followed suit. I do not think it possible to carry Campbell's vote above 100 in any contingency. I understand that the next rally of the anti-Nebraska men will be made on N. P. Banks."

Another correspondent of the Tribune telegraphs: "Mr. Fuller, in reply to the questionings of certain members, declares himself unequivocally in favor of admitting Kansas into the Union with or without slavery, provided she has other constitutional requisites. This declaration has produced considerable excitement, particularly among the Republican members. The Pennsylvania delegates had a conference this evening, and resolved to cling to Fuller. The Southern Know Nothings are holding a caucus this evening, the result of which has not transpired."

BREADSTUFFS.—Speaking of the prevailing high prices of breadstuffs and the immense supplies for exportation which the country is capable of affording, the Buffalo Courier remarks:—

There is hardly any limit to our surplus of wheat and corn, and if the demand abroad should carry off 1,000,000 bushels, which is almost four times as much as we have ever exported in one year, there would still be an abundant supply for home consumption.—Strange as it may seem, that with a large surplus on hand, fully equal to supply the demand from abroad, prices should rule so high, it is, nevertheless, in obedience to a law of trade, which makes a sudden impulse push the market values beyond a due limit, as well as to another law of trade, which makes a derangement in the ordinary channels of supply produce, for a time, all the consequences of an actual scarcity.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The North Pacific Exploration Expedition, Commander Rogers, now at San Francisco, having completed the duties assigned it, will be ordered home.

The steamer John Hancock is to be laid up at Mare Island, and her crew distributed among the several stations.

Lieut. Rogers of the Pacific Railroad exploration has arrived safely in Oregon City. He was supposed to have been murdered by the Indians.

SAFE.—The St. Louis Republican publishes a letter from the expedition under the command of Capt. Pope, the U. S. Top. Eng, dated Fort Fillmore, Oct. 15, stating that the party had arrived safety at that post, contrary to report. The Indians have not molested them since June last, when a wagon and five men were captured by a band of Apaches.

ATTEMPT TO BURN A CHURCH.—On Tuesday, the 4th inst., Joseph Stowell, of New Gloucester, and Samuel M. Hardy, of Raymond, were brought before Joseph Cross, Esq, Justice of the Peace in New Gloucester, on a charge of setting fire to the Congregational Meeting House, in that town, on the evening of the 20th of November. Fortunately the fire was discovered by a person who was passing at the time and was speedily extinguished. The evidence against the prisoners was conclusive, and one of them made a confession. They were fully committed for trial at the March term, 1856. The accused are both young men under the age of 21 years.—Portland Adv.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO AN AGED LADY.—In West Cambridge, on Monday evening about half past six o'clock, Mrs Ann Hill, widow of the late James Hill, of that town, met with her death in a very sudden manner. She had passed from one room into another, and, as is supposed, mistook a cellar door for another one opening into the room, which she probably opened, and fell down the cellar stairs, breaking her neck and killing herself instantly. Her youngest daughter heard the fall, and on hastening to her found her dead. She was 81 years old.

The Journal of Commerce says the Jerome Clock Manufacturing Company, whose principal works are at New Haven, with a branch at East Bridgeport, have been compelled to ask an extention. Their indebtedness is said to be $300,000.

ROBBERY.—The office of the Receiver of Taxes in New York, was robbed of $1460 on Friday last, supposed by one of the clerks. A $1000 bill was subsequently found on the floor, which it is thought was dropped by the thief. The balance has not been recovered.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mrs. Lucy Beach, widow of the late Col. William Beach of this town, was found dead in her bed on Monday morning. Her death was undoubtedly occasioned by a disease of the heart, with which she had been troubled. An inquest was held, the verdict of which was in accordance with the above.—Gloucester Tel., 5th.

RUMORED APPOINTMENT.—Washington, Dec. 5.—It is reported in this city that Joseph Lane has been appointed a Brigadier General in the army of the United States.

GOV. HUNT'S MANSION DESTROYED.—The elegant mansion of Ex-Gov. Hunt, at Lockport, New York, was discovered to be on fire about 11 o'clock Friday morning, and notwithstanding the efforts of the firemen and citizens, it was entirely consumed. It was completed during the past year, and cost about $10,000.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—An explosion of several kegs of powder occurred on one of the wagons of the Hazard powder company, at Hazardville, Ct., Thursday morning, by which one man, James Murphy, was killed. The force of the explosion was such that an arched bridge over a canal on which the wagon happened to be at the time of the accident, was depressed some three feet, while the teamster was torn to pieces, and as yet only the upper part of his skull has been found; both horses were killed, one being thrown about forty and the other nearly sixty rods, and considerable damage was occasioned to the buildings in the vicinity. The windows in the boarding house, some fifteen rods distant, were all shattered, and the roof badly injured, and one of the buildings of the powder works was also seriously damaged. The force of the explosion was felt nearly two miles.—Springfield Republican.

A WOMAN SWIMMING IN THE MISSISSIPPI.—Lloyd's forthcoming Steamboat Directory gives a thrilling instance of the importance to women of knowing how to swim. When the ill-fated Ben Sherrod was in flames on the Mississippi river, and the lady passengers who had thrown themselves into the water were drowning around the boat, the wife of Capt. Castleman jumped into the river, with her infant in her arms, and swam ashore, a distance of half a mile, being the only woman saved out of sixteen. She had learned to swim when a girl.

FOUR MEN HUNG BY LYNCH LAW.—Word was brought to Hills Ferry, California, that four men were on the Plains, near the Agua Salada, driving off about 100 head of cattle which they had stolen. Several resolute men promptly armed and equipped themselves, and started in pursuit. They returned with the robbers, three of whom proved to be Mexicans and one a German. They were all hung in a row at sunset, about a mile above that place.

It is better to lap one's pottage like a dog, than to eat mannerly with a spoon of the devil's giving.—Fuller.

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis

ELIXIR.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXIR a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART'S

Cough Medicine.

DR. BURLEIGH SMART, of Kennebunk, Me. was well known throughout the New England States, as a Physician whose treatment of Lung Diseases was attended with almost miraculous success. Very few Physicians ever enjoyed a more enviable reputation, or acquired a more extended practice. The Medical Journal, in speaking of him soon after his death, says:

"As a liberally educated, of acute perception, superior judgment, untiring perseverance, and evidently devoted to his profession, Dr. Burleigh Smart was eminently worthy of the enviable position which he held in the estimation of the Medical Faculty at the time of his death. Although skilful in every branch of the Medical Sciences, for many years his attention was given to DISEASES OF THE LUNGS, in the treatment of which he proved himself the most successful Physician who ever practiced in New England."

This medicine was first compounded and made use of by him, and is substantially the same great agent by means of which he accomplished so many wonderful cures of Pulmonary Disease. Its efficacy having been most thoroughly tested, in thousands of cases, by an eminent Physician, all we can say in its praise must, of course, be superfluous. It is offered to the public in its present form, with the most implicit confidence in its powers—a confidence based not wholly upon the above, but upon actual trials of its virtues, the testimony of hundreds of our citizens in its favor and a knowledge of its ingredients severally considered, as regards their curative properties. Its formula has been submitted to several of the most distinguished chemists in this country, who unite in pronouncing it "A beautiful combination of the most reliable and valuable remedial agents used in treating diseases of the Lungs and other Respiratory Organs."

Unlike all other medicines of the same nature, it immediately allays the Cough, and so operates on the blood as to remove the Cause, thus effecting a permanent cure. In this respect it is infinitely superior to all other preparations. By its use the strength of the patient is sustained, tone and vigor imparted to the system, the blood purified, disease subverted, and a healthy action of all the organs established. In compounding it, the greatest care is observed, every bottle being separately prepared with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength, and in strict accordance with the original recipe. No poisonous drugs are used to give it a beautiful color, and impair its virtues, as in nearly all other Cough Medicines, and in every instance the patient can rely on its doing all that medicine can do.
